The Marvel of the Musical World.

$30 worth of CHOICE MUSIC for $1.50.

The New York Musical Echo is quite a novelty in modern journalism, and affords a grand opportunity to musicians and music-loving people. It is a large quarto musical publication, published monthly, each number containing 24 full size pages of sheet music, the brightest, liviest and most popular selections of the day, both vocal and instrumental, together with a pretty cover, on which is a full page portrait of some beautiful actress for singer. The music and portrait changed with each issue.

A Year's Subscription to the New York Musical Echo is $1.50 (sample copies 15c.) and means 288 full size pages of sheet music and twelve fine portraits, making when bound one of the handsomest portfolios of the newest and nicest music ever published. We want our friends to be careful of each number as duplicate copies may soon be a thing of the past. Don't lose any of the pretty music we are publishing, so start from the December number. The American News Co., or any of the News Agencies will supply you, or order direct of us.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company's 6,150 miles of road traverses a vast territory rich in all the resources that insure industrial success.

The Industrial Department is conversant with the Iron, Coal, Lumber and Tanbark, the Water-Power (both river and artesian) for factory and electric power purposes, the markets, the transportation and financial facilities, and other interests on the line pertaining to industrial development, and disseminates information concerning same.

A number of new factories has been induced to locate—largely through the instrumentality of this Company—at enterprising towns on its lines.

As the interest of the Company is to secure the location of industries at places where the surroundings will insure their permanent success, the information furnished a particular industry is pertinent and reliable.

In the Eastern States and in other parts of the world factories are so congested and distant from the actual markets as to result in fierce and destructive competition. That the West is taking a place as one of the great manufacturing territories of the world is forcibly impressing itself upon discerning and enterprising manufacturers. Steps should be taken by such while the field is as yet not fully covered, and while inducements are still being offered, to locate in the West.

Individuals or companies wishing to embark capital in Western industry can find a profitable field.

BUSINESS OF THE WEEK.

Interest has centered chiefly in the stock market during the past week, and the stocks most likely to be affected by a change in national administration have been watched with much solicitude. These are the trust securities. It was predicted that if Cleveland was elected the trusts would sell down and to some extent the prediction has been verified. The outcome of the election was taken advantage of by the bears in these securities to raid the entire line and the result was that many bull operators have been forced to sell out entirely. Yet the true inwardness of the movement is not quite apparent. It is said that many of the leading officials in the trusts are Democrats, and it has been broadly hinted that they are taking advantage of the bear movement to buy their own stocks at low prices. They are naturally confident that the depression is only temporary and that a healthy reaction will shortly set in. Reading, Chicago Gas, Sugar, General Electric, American Cotton Oil and National Lead are a few of the securities which participated in the general slump. The bear raid on Reading was especially noticeable. All sorts of rumors, plausible or otherwise, were spread about this stock. Under the circumstances it is surprising that it has held its own as well as it has.

There is still some talk of foreign buying but as yet it has not materialized. Cable dispatches announce that a better feeling prevails in London towards American securities, but the English mind is slow to move and as yet there is no apparent disposition on the part of foreign investors to buy. The enthusiasts say that large sales of our stocks abroad can not be deferred later than next year, when the great influx of visitors to this country will bring men of means who will be strongly attracted to our securities by a close study of our vast resources. No doubt the United States will gain largely on account of the World's Fair. One writer has been able to figure out a gain of $300,000,000 from this source. He estimates that $100,000,000 will be saved by Americans accustomed to go abroad who will stay at home; another $100,000,000, he says, will be expended by Europeans in this country; and still another $100,000,000 will be invested by them in our securities. This is somewhat at random, but it illustrates the probable sources of gain to this country from the Exposition alone.

The feeling that our exports have assumed such proportions as to warrant a return of gold to this country has become quite general. Though the present year has not been as phenomenal in the volume of its export business as last year, yet a steady increase is shown from month to month, as witness the fact that our total exports of breadstuffs, cotton, provisions and petroleum were more than $23,000,000 greater in October than September. October shipments of wheat also were larger by nearly 4,200,000 bushels than those of September; and our exports of wheat, including flour, aggregated 20,137,020 bushels in October this year, against 19,107,400 bushels last year, an increase for the month this year of more than 1,000,000 bushels. The net exports of the last four years tell a similar story. During that period we have exported $138,500,000 more gold than we have imported. In addition to this we have exported $349,000,000 more of merchadise and silver than we have imported during the last four years. This leaves a net balance to our credit of $487,500,000, ending Sept. 30, 1892. No doubt a large portion of this amount represents our re-purchases of American securities from foreign holders. But this can not go on indefinitely. At the rate of $100,000,000 a year the time must soon come when gold will begin to flow back to this country. The prediction is quite generally made that this time will come next year and that if European nations do not send us their gold they will be compelled to pay us heavy interest for the use of it.

The monetary conference at Brussels is regarded as the most important financial event likely to transpire within the next few weeks. At this conference the fate of silver for some time to come at least will probably be decided. If the result shall be to fix upon a definite rate of value between silver and gold, the effect on the business interests of the world will be most salutary.

†Not included in totals.

It must be confessed that the clearings this week are somewhat of a disappointment—although it was not expected that they would show a large increase over the corresponding week last year, The week of a general election can not be counted on as likely to bring forth any remarkable results in bank clearings. Yet it was hoped that the returns would not develop a positive decrease even if they did not show a gain. The grand total is some 11.7 percent less than the total a year ago. That this is due almost entirely to the excitement following the election is beyond a doubt.

The influence of a national election may fairly be counted as equal to that of a general holiday. To be sure business is not entirely suspended on election day; but the excitement of the day itself and the confusion following the announcement of the election returns is sufficient to retard business at least one-sixth during the week. Viewed with this allowance the returns for the week were not so disappointing after all. The loss of one-sixth would be 16 2-3 percent; the actual loss of 11.7 per cent then may be regarded as practically a gain for the week.

The greatest percentage of loss is at New York. A decrease of 18.6 percent in the total at that city is a serious matter when taken in connection with the other cities of the Union, whose clearings altogether amount to about one-third less than those of New York city. Chicago gains slightly. Boston and Philadelphia show very creditable gains. The other leading cities show losses of from 2 to 25.2 per cent. The influence of the election is further seen by comparison of the American with the Canadian returns. The four Canadian cities show increases in the aggregate amounting to 12.0 per cent. This is a difference as compared with the total in the United States of about 24 percent. The ordinary conditions on both sides of the border were substantially the same The cause of the loss in the United States was evidently a diversion of busines attention to the election.

The effect of a political victory in this country on the business interests can never be more than temporary, and so we see in this instance that the volume of trade as observed after the heat of the campaign is over is not diminished. Despite the threatened tariff legislation trade in woolens has been active, the mills being fully employed and the demand for goods being large. Cottons also have been firm and the cotton mills are reported busy. Iron is reported firmer with the demand better and the general tone improved. Manufactured iron is in such demand that the mills cannot keep up with their orders. This is not the result of the strike, though no doubt that misfortune had something to do with the mills running behind in their orders. The present demand is largely for iron for structural purposes.

Western trade centers report no diminution of the great wholesale trade which has been such a feature of the year. The continued fine weather, lasting until within a few days ago, has been of advantage to many branches of business; but in other lines an improvement is looked for when colder weather sets in. Some improvement is already seen in seasonable lines at Minneapolis and St. Paul. At other points the reports are that the movement of winter goods is only fair.

At New Orleans business has been practically at a stand-still. This has been due to the recent strike at that point, the results of which will not soon be effaced. Still southern staples have shown a marked tendency to advance. Cotton has risen, and the demand for sugar is good. The sales of cotton have been exceptionally large, showing an unprecedented demand for that staple. The south really has nothing to contend with at present except her unfortunate industrial conditions, and it is hoped that the recent experiences at New Orleans will prove a well-remembered lesson to the restless agitators who are ever too ready to incite a strike.

LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

Three prominent Chicago corporations have determined upon an increase of stock. They are the City Railway company, the Chicago Telephone company and the Grant Locomotive works. The City Railway company will increase its stock from $7,000,000 to $9,000,000. Action is to be taken on the matter at the forthcoming annual meeting. The new issue of $2,000,000 is to provide for the extension now being made and for electric equipment of South Side cross-town lines. The Chicago Telephone company has ordered the sale of 5,000 shares of treasury stock, the proceeds to be used for construction purposes. This is an increase of 18 percent on the present capital. The stockholders of the Grant Locomotive works at their meeting on Tuesday authorized the directors to issue $200,000 additional stock, provided they deemed it expedient to do so. The additional money is wanted to make some extensions in the works and to provide more working capital for the company. The present capital of the company is $800,000; the increase authorized will make the total capital $1,000,000.

The proposed increase in Chicago City Railway was announced Wednesday, but its effect on the market was not apparent. On that day 174 shares were sold at the uniform price of 445. This stock is practically out of the market so far as large blocks are concerned. The determination of the directors to make extensive improvements has had the effect of strengthening the confidence of present holders of the security. A similar effect is noticeable on Chicago Telephone. The Grant Locomotive stock is held pretty closely by original subscribers. Little or none of it is on the market. It is quoted at 112, and the new stock will probably be floated at par without difficulty. The stock rests on a conservative basis, as there are no bonds and the company is practically out of debt. The company is just beginning to turn out its first locomotives and from now on will be getting back some of the money it has invested.

The tone of the local stock market throughout the entire week was dull and decidedly bearish. There was a marked scarcity of investment orders and the demand was chiefly for bonds, with all stocks ruling lower and inactive. The street railway stocks failed to create any enthusiasm. An attempt was made to arouse interest in Lake Street Elevated, but so much has been heard about this property to no purpose that it is no longer considered a factor in the street-railway market. A few shares sold at 21½. Alley Elevated sold at 90. West Chicago sold at 206¼ to 207⅛ but later in the week fell back to 205¼. North Chicago was quoted on settlement as high as 263¾ but was bid Thursday at 259¼. City Railway holds its own at 445. Canal and Dock sold at 66, the lowest point touched this year. Distillers' certificates rose on the announcement that the distillers' trust had bought four outside distilleries—one at St. Louis, one at Cincinnati, and two at Pekin, Ill. It was stated by people close to the inside that the purchase price of $1,500,000 would be paid in cash and that the money for this purpose was already in the treasury of the company. The certificates rose from 66 to 67 on the news, but later fell back to 66 again.

On Thursday the announcement was made on the exchange that the amount of margins to be deposited in the clearing-house must be increased to $10 on stocks selling above par. Another rule provides for the calling of 10 percent margins. This is nearly a doubling of the deposits formerly required, and a great deal of dissatisfaction has arisen among the smaller traders on the ground that the new rule is a direct discrimination in favor of the wealthier firms. The effect, it is claimed, will be to curtail trading on the exchange. It is probable that a modification of the ruling will be effected.

Money is flowing in on the Chicago banks in such quantities as to give promise of an easier money market in the near future. Rates have been unaffected as yet, the rule being 5½ to 6 percent. It is probable that they will tend to the former rather than the latter of these figures. The only heavy demand to be anticipated will be that of the holiday settlement.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

Two classes of real estate will always be in demand in a city like Chicago—residence and down-town property. During speculative periods the demand naturally includes subdivision property. So long as business is active and sales brisk there are good opportunities to make handsome profits on acres and cheap lots. When the dull season comes this class of property is the first to suffer. Then nothing but sterling values are sought after. The investor either wants gilt-edged business holdings or first-class residence property. This is a partial explanation of the present temper of the Chicago real estate market.

The fact is that the present demand for residence and central business property is exceptionally good. Of course there is and always will be a surplus of cheap and undesirable houses in this as in any other city; but the best houses are never in supply sufficient to meet the actual demand. For years it has been dinned into our ears that the building business was being overdone. Yet the supply is now no nearer commensurate with the demand than it was years ago. The fact is the growth of the city will always make first-class residence property a prime investment. Some recent sales have demonstrated this fact. O. L. Benedict sold this week the residence at No. 3336 Michigan avenue for A. B. Austin to Cornelia E. Millar for $87,500 all cash. It is seldom that a sale of this kind is made for an all cash consideration. This instance, therefore may well serve to indicate the cash value of property on Michigan avenue near Thirty-third street at this time. The lot has a frontage of forty-five feet and a depth of 178 feet. It is improved with a fine three-story and basement octagon-front brownstone building. The land is considered worth $1,000 a front foot exclusive of the building.

The demand for central property is based strictly on its value for investment purposes. This value will never be less, and if it increases at the rate it has done during the past three or four years it will be vastly more. An instance of the increase of values of down-town property in Chicago is seen in the sale reported below of the Jerome property at the southwest corner of State and Quincy streets. The particulars of the sale are given at length elsewhere. The most remarkable feature of the transaction is that about three years ago this property was bought by Mrs. Jerome from the estate of her husband at about $165,000. At that time this figure was agreed upon by a number of experts in central real estate who were in court for the purpose of passing upon its value. The present selling price, $365,000 shows the remarkable increase of $200,000 in the value of the corner in about three years.

The auction sale feature of the Real Estate Board is becoming valuable in a way not thought of by the promoters of the plan. It is establishing an excellent criterion for valuations on a cash basis. A large portion of the sales are for cash and all may be practically considered so, as they require the deposit at the sale of a sufficient sum of money to bind the transaction. The result is that the actual cash value of the properties sold in this way is arrived at more closely than in any other manner. It is a well-known fact that where property is disposed of at private sale the figures are often falsified, so that a higher price appears on the records than that which was the real consideration. On the other hand, the sale of property at one time and the recording of the deed at a long interval thereafter gives a figure oftentimes less than the real value at the time of recording. The figures brought at a judicial sale are the nearest approach to the actual cash value of the property when offered in open market of any plan yet discovered in Chicago.

SALE OF THE JEROME PROPERTY.

The week has seen the completion of the purchase of the southwest corner of State and Quincy streets, by Levy Mayer from the Jerome estate. The property is 42x100 feet and the price paid was $365,000. The corner is entirely improved. The main building is 42x90 feet and was erected with the idea of having a ten-foot alley in the rear. This ten-foot strip was built up at a later date and the building on it is consequently the narrowest structure in the down-town district. The first floor of the main building is occupied by W. E. Wills and N. B. Holden. A valuation of $87 a square foot is determined by the sale of the corner if no account is taken of the building.

The corner is an illustration of the phenomenal advance in values of State street frontage. About three years ago a sale was made under the direction of court at which nearly all of the heavy investors in down-town property were present. The majority of these people decided that between $150,000 and $165,000 would be an outside price and the property was bid in by the widow of Dr. Jerome. Dr. Jerome was one of the old residents of the city, and owned the Quincy street corner for years prior to his death. The present buildings were erected by him.

Mr. Mayer, the purchaser of the building has already signed a lease for twenty years of the land and buildings to A. H. Blackall & Son at an annual rental of $20,000, taxes and insurance. The lessees contemplate practically rebuilding the present structure They will get possession next May and will begin remodeling and improving as soon after that date as possible. The lease was taken as an investment, and it is by no means improbable that arrangements will be made for a sublease or an assignment of the original lease.

The most interesting feature of the transaction was the large number of prominent investors who stood ready to buy the property, and who in most cases expected to get it. H. H. Kohlsaat, it appears, believed that he had the property secured as a fee for the Chicago University. Otto Young and Owen F. Aldis both had made offers practically equal to the figure at which it will be transferred. In most cases the attention of buyers and brokers was attracted by a valuation made some months ago. Both H. H. Kohlsaat and John A. Doherty were called upon to pass an opinion as to the value of the corner, and both conceived the idea of arranging for its sale.

LOAN OF THREE-QUARTERS OF A MILLION.

A loan of $750,000 was made this week on the southeast corner of Washington and State streets. The loan was made by the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company of Milwaukee to Higgins & Furber. The corner is 90x100 feet and is now being improved. with the Columbus building. The loan is made for ten years at 5 percent interest. The Northwestern company has contemplated placing a large loan in Chicago for some time. The fact that the Leroy Payne property on Michigan avenue is held as a leasehold instead of in fee is all that prevented a loan being made to the Leroy hotel company to provide for improving the site of the present livery stables with a fine hostelry. The loan is one of the largest ever secured on a Chicago building. The land and improvement contemplated are considered worth $2,000,000.

TITLE TO VALUABLE PROPERTY DETERMINED BY THE COURT.

By a decree of court Judge Collins gave title to $200,000 worth of property to the Anderson Pressed Brick company. The case has been in court for several years, and the subject matter involved is a strip of land thirty-three feet in width, extending from Elston avenue to the right of way of the Chicago & Northwestern railway, which land lies west of the North branch of the Chicago river, in Fullerton's addition. The brick company, claiming title to the strip, erected improvements amounting to about $200,000. On the ground that the strip was dedicated to the public for a street the city was about to remove the improvements and take up the track when the company filed a bill and secured an injunction restraining the city. The decree finds that the city never accepted the street or improved it as such and that the company is entitled to the land. The city is perpetually enjoined from in any manner interfering with the company's possession of the property.

WORK OF THE RAPID TRANSIT COMPANIES.

The State Street Alley "L" Company has not abandoned the project of constructing a down-town loop previous to the World's Fair. Dr. Barnard said recently that he expected to meet the officers of the Chicago City Railway Company, when he hoped to receive permission to place his superstructure on the streets occupied by the cable lines. Dr. Barnard said it would not be necessary to make application to either the West or North Side company for this purpose, which proves that neither State nor Dearborn street is included in his plans. The loop most favored is via Congress, Wabash avenue, Lake and Clark streets. Little difficulty is expected in getting an ordinance. This makes the task easy, as property owners will probably give their consent. Dr. Barnard said he had never heard officially from the company that was formed several months ago, avowedly to construct a down-town loop to be leased to all elevated roads.

Samuel V. Jacobs, one of the incorporators of the Desplaines Electric Railway Company, would not outline the objects of the concern. It was presumed by good guessers that the line would run north and south, connecting the towns on and near the lines of the Desplaines with east and west lines connecting with city transit lines.

SALE OF AN INDIANA STREET CORNER.

Louis and Edward C. Blum have sold to George W. Marquardt, Jr., the southeast corner of Indiana and Paulina streets. The lot is 50 by 100 feet and is completely covered by a four-story stone and pressed brick building consisting of two stores and basements, two amusement halls and twelve flats. The price was $85,000. The property was purchased as a permanent investment for income purposes. The rentals approximate $7,500 per annum.

ELECTRICITY AT CHICAGO HEIGHTS.

Chicago Heights is now promised, among other of the blessings of civilization, electric lighting and street-car service. To this end the Pennington and Fuller Electric company has been incorporated. The capital stock is $1,500,000. The incorporators are: J. L. McKittrick, Joseph A. Fuller and Lutellus Smith. The directors of the Chicago Heights Land Association considered the feasibility of putting up an extensive electric plant in their manufacturing town at a recent meeting. Opinion was divided as to the expediency of the movement. The action of those who have formed the new company, however, will probably be indorsed sufficiently to provide for speedy work in the right direction. With macadamized streets, electric lights and electric street-cars, the town would come nearer the ideal of the founders than the inhabitants of Bloom, if not of Chicago, thought possible two years ago.

ANOTHER BRICK COMPANY LAUNCHES A NOVEL SCHEME.

The purchase of 37½ acres by the Purington Brick company at Bernice, Ill. this week is important as marking a new departure in the establishment of brick yards. Bernice is some distance south of the southern limits of the city. The property is to be used as a brickyard, and improved machinery is to be introduced, so that the manufacture of brick may go on without interruption all the year through. Heretofore the common practice has been to shut down at the approach of frost and remain idle until the settling of the weather in the spring. By the improved method to be introduced a steady supply of brick may be obtained at all seasons of the year. The capacity of the new yards will be from 150 000 to 180,000 brick per day. The price paid for the land was $25,000, without any improvements. M. C. and T. C. Dobbins were the former owners of the property.

THEATERS PROJECTED AND BEING BUILT.

A large number of new theater projects are on foot. Henry Ives Cobb is getting out plans for one new house, to be erected for Ohio people in a locality not named. He is also negotiating with the theatrical firm of Rich & Harris, of Boston, who desire to secure a site for a fine building. In addition to these, another theatrical firm will build if it can not lease an outside theater, to secure which negotiations are in progress. Then, as previously reported, Evanston is to have a theatre, located in a hotel and theater building. A play-house is to be erected on Washington avenue in Hyde Park. At Archer avenue, near Eighteenth street, another theater is going up, while the Bohemian Theater at Eighteenth and Alport streets is nearing completion. Add to these the Chinese theatre and no fewer than four projected for the West side, exclusive of one on Milwaukee avenue, a sum total is reached that would without explanation, seem to involve ruin for those now engaged in the business. As a matter of fact, however it takes more than a location and a building company to put up a play-house, and not all the theaters projected will ever see a first night. It must be remembered, however, that the lesser theaters have functions outside of that which chiefly distinguishes them. Local concerts, lectures, and society meetings furnish uses which, in several of the instances given, will insure good returns on the investments.

TWENTY-ONE TRAINS TO AND FROM EVANSTON.

The new bridge over the north branch of the Chicago river is now about completed. On the 28th of this month the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company will run all of their passenger trains into the Union depot, at Canal and Madison streets. Mr. F. A. Miller, Assistant General Passenger and Ticket Agent, says that as soon as everything is in readiness they will run twenty-one trains daily to and from Evanston. This is done the JOURNAL ventures to say, because the traffic demands it, and not for the purpose of booming real estate.

So much has been said at random about the McKinley bill and its effects upon the leading industries that we have thought it desirable to reproduce in this issue in tabular form a comparison of the McKinley tariff with the tariff of 1883. Necessarily we are obliged to omit a large portion of the two tariff measures and give only such parts as concern iron and wool and their products. It is in these industries that the principal changes were made by McKinley. In general it may be said that the McKinley tariff is the tariff of 1883 with the addition of heavier duties on tin and wool and a reduction on sugar and some of the manufactured products of iron. In effect, however, the McKinley bill increases the burden of tariff taxation, because it augments the tax on articles of common consumption and makes reduction of duties which affect corporations rather than individuals. This is strikingly illustrated in the table above by a comparison between tin plate and steel rails. The McKinley tariff increased the tax on tin plate from $20 to $44 a ton, a direct discrimination against the poorer classes; at the same time it lowered the tax on steel rails from $17 to $12 a ton, an evident benefit to railway corporations. Unfortunately for the supporters of the bill this was the view of the measure pretty generally taken by the workingmen at the polls, and the result is now a matter of history.

One of the main objects of the McKinley bill was to foster the tin-plate industry in America. It was claimed that with a proper protective tariff tin could be made here of as good quality and as cheap as imported tin. Under the old schedule tin plates paid a duty of one cent a pound or $20 a ton; under the McKinley act the tax was raised to $44 a ton. Manufactures of tin were raised from 45 to 55 per cent ad valorem Bar, block and pig tin, which were free under the old law, are to pay the almost prohibitive duty of four cents a pound, or $80 a ton. Mr. McKinley, in his report of the Ways and Means Committee, April 6, 1890, said that the new industry to be built up by the tariff on tin would give employment to 24,000 men. It was expected at that time that the tin plate industry would spring up rapidly and that the product of American tin and iron mines would be manufactured into tin plates in this country in such quantities as could leave no doubt of the success of the new enterprise. Accordingly, a provision was inserted in the McKinley bill to the effect that after October 1st, 1897, tin plate should be admitted free of duty, unless the American product of tin plates should in any one of the six years previous be equal to one-third the amount imported during that year.

Now as a matter of actual experience it was found that it was impossible to turn out one-third the amount of the tin plates imported; so American manufacturers procured a ruling from Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Spaulding that imported steel sheets dipped in imported tin in this country were tin-plates produced in America. Instead, therefore, of finding that the new industry was to give employment to 24,000 men, it was found that the entire consumption of tin plates in this country could be dipped in imported tin by 580 boys; and a caustic critic of the measure has truthfully said that the American people could better afford to pay each one of those 580 boys $15,000 a year than to pay the present exhorbitant tariff on tin. It would be millions of dollars in our pockets. The practical working of the McKinley tariff on tin may be summed up in the statement that it has thus far resulted in a tax of over $20,000,000 on the American people and the payment of less than $2,000 in wages, mostly to imported Welsh workmen.

A WORD TO PROMINENT REAL ESTATE FIRMS.

The reproach that has been cast upon the real estate agents of this city by the questionable transactions of boomers and curb-stone brokers calls for a remedy, and a safeguard against crooked dealing in the future. If owners and agents would be more careful about advertising property and exercise more prudence in the selection of brokers the difficulties would in a great measure be removed. As long as two or more agents handle the same piece of property and advertise it in a reckless manner curb stone brokers and adventurers will get hold of it, and claim a division of the commssions and profits.

The new classified list of property for sale alphabetically arranged, as published in the JOURNAL has many advantages for both owner and agent. Besides bringing all of the property for sale upon a certain street together making it possible to detect the spurious and compare prices, the plan enables the recipient of letters to reject undesirable buyers and offers without annoyance. It gives the man who offers property for sale a chance to select or reject without a word and enables the intending buyer to find what he wants in any part of the city without looking over twenty or thirty pages of promiscuous advertisements. Every advertiser has a letter and number in our double index book and receives his letters through a responsible carrier from this office. We are thus the faithful servants of the responsible real estate agents whom we are bound to protect. Hundreds of inquiries come to the office of this JOURNAL from owners and people interested and when such are not claimed by any respectable real estate house the JOURNAL will hand them over to its advertisers in the order in which their names occur on our lists or to such agents as handle property in the locality inquired about.

THE CHINESE PAGODA.

The idea of building a Chinese pagoda in Garfield Park may appear at first glance to be somewhat of an absurdity because there seems to be no good reason why the Chinese nation should be distinguished in this manner, but in this instance it is a solution of an architectural problem that is as picturesque as it is original. The instructions received by the architects, Jenny & Mundie, was to construct a power house for the engines and boilers of the park, and to do so it was found necessary to erect a smoke-stack some sixty-five feet high, which could not be done without destroying the landscape effects of the surroundings. The problem was to construct something to harmonize with the effects already existing and which could be used for power house and smoke-stack. The stereotyped idea of a tower has been used for smoke-stacks for manufacturing concerns for years and no matter what embellishments towers may possess they are identified with smoke-stacks wherever seen.

The location of this building on the side of a hill suggested the idea of a pagoda and the working out of the plan enabled the architect to provide for the boiler rooms, tank and smoke-stacks in a manner which is certainly original. The first story, partly buried in the side of the hill, will be constructed of bowlders and will contain the engine and boiler rooms as well as the storage rooms. The next story will be an immense platform, partly inclosed, and the story above will be a refreshment hall; above that again an immense steel water tank. The smoke-stack, starting from the foundation in the center of the building, passes through the center of the water tank into an ornamental terra cotta cup, or finial, on the apex of the structure.

The effect of the whole building will be unique, especially when it is painted with bright and glaring Chinese red and yellow colors. The dragons and hideous Chinese monsters, used as bas-relief decorations, will probably be supplied with electric lights for eyes.—Vindicator.

AGENTS' BUDGET.

Samuel Mayer reported two leases to W. T. Adams. Both are to run for fifty years. One is of the premises at 473 Clark street, the annual renting being $1,200. The other is the premises, 1047 Michigan avenue, the annual rental there being 1,800.

Harry D Hollisten has purchased at judicial sale lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 60 in block 69, Elston's addition to Chicago, with all the improvements and machinery thereon with eight patents. The price paid for this property was $30,008.

Pratt Bros. report the sale for P. H. Fleming to William H. Godair of the Union Stock Yards 50x183 feet, west front, between Forty-ninth and Fiftieth on Grand boulevard, at $305 a foot or $15,250. It is the intention of the purchaser to erect a fine residence on his lot costing $20,000.

George W. Marquardt, Jr., has purchased from Louis J. and E. C. Blum the 50x100 feet at the southeast corner of Indiana and Paulina streets. The price paid was $85,000. There is on the lot a four-story stone and pressed brick building which yields an approximate rental of $7,500 per annum.

S. E. Gross' report of sales for the past week includes twenty-three lots at Grossdale, for $6,975; twenty-one lots at Dauphin Park, for $14,360; nine lots at Gross Park, for $7,340; eleven lots at Humboldt Park, for $10,025; seven lots at Ashland avenue and Forty-seventh street, for $9,346 and five lots at Avondale, for $3,125.

The Union Savings, Loan and Building Association bought in at foreclosure sale the property on Noble street, between Chestnut and Schiller streets, described as Cleaver's subdivision, south ten feet of lot 25 and north fifteen feet lot 32, subdivision of outlot canal trustees' subdivision of section 5, 39, 14. The price paid was $5,427.86.

William A. Merigold, the Real Estate man returned Wednesday from an extended European trip. He left Chicago last July and proceeded to London, from there he went to Denmark, Norway and Sweden and through Russia. In all the countries visited by him, he found great interest was taken in the World's Fair and thinks the attendance from these countries will be very large.

An interesting transaction was the sale by A. L. Coe as conservator of the north half of lot 5, block 59, Canal Trustees' subdivision, being forty feet front on Washington boulevard, between Hoyne avenue and Leavitt street, for $7,200, to W. B. Pershing. The rate or $180 a foot in that locality is considered to be very low by experts, who claim that had the sale not been under decree of court a very much better price would have been obtained.

Engers, Cook & Holinger have just closed a contract for the sale of the Dow place on Lake Geneva, Wis. The property lies immediately east of Prof. Swing's and J. Van Inwagen's, has a frontage of 928 feet on Lake Geneva, and is improved with a fine residence, barn, carriage house and everything complete It lies within ten minutes' drive of the village and has a commanding view of the lower lake. The location cannot be surpassed on Lake Geneva. The purchaser is Mrs. Harriett S. Jones, who buys through Engers, Cook & Holinger, from Arthur Kaye of Lake Geneva, the consideration being $30,000. The property formerly belonged to the Dow estate and was sold in October, 1890, to Mr. Kaye for about $16,000.

The new Criminal Court Building, the corner stone of which was laid with simple ceremonies last Tuesday afternoon, will cover an area having 204 feet front on Michigan street by seventy-five feet on Dearborn avenue. It will be seven stories high. The facade of the first two stories will be Bedford stone, and the remaining five stories will be buff in color, and of the same material, all rock-faced. The building will have three general passenger elevators. and one private elevator for prisoners. The basement of the new building will contain a battery of five boilers, engines and dynamo rooms and two large storage vaults. The first floor will contain rooms for the State's Attorney. Clerk of the Criminal Court, and Sheriff's offices. The five upper stories will be divided into ten court rooms, thirteen jury rooms, ten waiting rooms, ten judges' rooms, ten clerks' rooms, and ten large vaults, besides twelve large offices for general purposes. At the top of the structure will be a large grand jury room, with anterooms for witnesses.

The School Board has during the past six months put under way sixteen school houses. Some of these are now in course of construction while others are just being figured on. It is expected that several buildings will be ready for occupancy immediately after the Christmas holidays. The first ten are substantial structures of cut stone, brick and terra cotta and are located as follows: Northwestern division high school, at the corner of Davis and Potomac streets, 125 by 225 feet, cost $110,000; school at West Monroe and Halsted streets, 50 by 100 feet, cost $25,000; school at corner of One Hundred and Fourth and Charles streets, Washington Heights, 85 by 130 feet, cost $65,000; school at One Hundred and Eighth place and Wentworth avenue, eighteen rooms, 85 by 130 feet, cost $65,000; school at Grace and Sheldon streets, in Lake View district, eighteen rooms, 85 by 130 feet, cost $65,000; school at Linden avenue and Diversey street, $65,000; school at Evanston avenue and School street, $65,000; school at West Harrison street and Sacramento avenue, $65,000; school at Spaulding avenue and Sixteenth street, $65,000; at Augusta street, $65 000. The cost of the foregoing ten brick and stone buildings collectively is $655,000. In addition there are six frame buildings constructed in sections so that they can be moved to outlying districts when required. They cost $9 000 each, making a total cost for the sixteen buildings of $709,000. The frame buildings have four rooms each, and are located as follows: Fifty-fifth and Blanchard streets, Eighty-third and Halsted streets, Nutt and Eightieth streets, Ellis avenue and Seventy-second street, West Fiftieth street and Park avenue, Mowrey and Englewood avenues.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The recent serious explosions in the new gas mains in this city are a warning that should be heeded by the municipal authorities as well as the corporations engaged in laying the pipes. By a single explosion a loss of over $20,000 in destruction of plate glass and interruption to business was occasioned the other day, and yet the liability to explosions seems to be as great now as it was before that disaster. So far as we can see, no precautions have been taken to prevent a future occurrence of the same kind. Indeed it is not likely that any such precautions will be taken until the corporations responsible for these disasters are made to pay such heavy damages that they will find it to their interest to see that explosions do not occur again. The remedy for this constant threat to life and property is a suit for damages on the part of those whose property is injured. It will be surprising if a number of such suits are not instituted on account of the recent explosions. If they are, perhaps some precautions against the escape of gas will in the future be taken. Ordinances have no terror for gas companies. They are too often a dead letter on the statute book. But an active and aggressive suit for damages amounting to thousands of dollars is a voice sufficiently loud to be heard even by the average gas company.

The recent report of the rapid transit commissioners of New York City on the feasibility of an underground railway marks a new era in the history of rapid transit in large cities. The commission has been studying for two years on a feasible plan for rapid transit in New York. They have finally decided on the underground system as the most practicable all things considered. The plan is to build a tunnel forty-four feet wide and eleven and a half feet high from the Battery to One Hundred and Sixty-fifth street. Beyond that point the road is to be continued by depressing and building viaducts and bridges over the line. In the main tunnel there will be four tracks, two for express trains and two for local trains. The express trains will have a speed of thirty to forty miles an hour. At the lower end of the line there will be two loops, connecting South Ferry, Brooklyn Bridge, etc. The plan is to run through trains to stop only at express stations, but passengers taking local trains at local stations can be transferred to express trains at express stations. The estimates of the cost of the road as planned vary from $40,000,000 to $50,000,000, and it is expected that capitalists will be found ready to undertake the project. The franchise recommended by the commission calls for the completion of the main line two years after the letting of the contract, the branch line within three years, and all other work within four years.

The petition to Congress in the interest of good roads, as published last week in the JOURNAL, has been subjected to some criticism inasmuch as it asks for the establishment of a new department in the Cabinet similar to the Agricultural Department, but with special reference to the construction of improved roads throughout the agricultural portion of the country. The conservative element would have been better pleased perhaps if the petitioners had confined their request to a special commission or an appropriation for road purposes to be expended under the direction of the present bureau of Agriculture. The gentlemen who are pushing the road improvement project, however, are not inclined to be bashful in the matter. They realize that the movement is one of immense importance to the commercial as well as the agricultural interests of the country. They realize also at the present time, when so many enterprises of this kind are demanding attention, that they must speak loudly in order to be heard at all, and more loudly and continually in order to be heeded. They feel that they will likely receive from Congress in proportion to their requests and they have asked largely in order that largely they may receive. We are of the opinion that this subject of good roads is really more important than it at first appears to be, and that it can not well receive too great a share in the appropriations of Congress or the attention of the American people in general.

The forthcoming monetary conference is likely to be influenced largely in its action on silver by the present condition of the world's silver and gold finances. It is estimated by the London Financial Times that the visible stocks of gold in the banks of Europe and America and in the United States Treasury have increased from 1,110 millions of dollars in 1886 to 1,530 millions in 1892. This is a wonderful increase for the past six years, but all previous records have been surpassed during the present year, the augmentation of visible stocks being so great that one may well be at a loss to understand where all the metal has come from. Austria has taken in $19,000,000, France has imported $60,000,000, and in the first nine months of this year the visible stock of the Bank of France increased $68,000,000. Germany appears to have increased its stock some $20,000,000 in the same time. England has gained $30,000,000. Russia has taken on about $60,000,000. In all the augmentation of the visible stocks of gold in the leading banks of Europe during the first nine months of 1892 has been nearly $200,000,000, which is not far from six times the reduction of stocks in the United States for the same time. This increase is attributed to the surplus for monetary purposes remaining after the demand for the gold product of the mines for use in the arts is satisfied.

IMPROVEMENTS IN THE NORTH-WEST.

Under the leadership of Mr. Andrew Dunning the heavy property owners in the vicinity of Montrose and Irving Park boulevards and between Milwaukee avenue and the village of Dunning have organized an improvement association whose object is to build a railway heretofore described in these columns, and to enforce the building of sewers and other improvements. They are offering an 80-acre tract at $600 an acre to any capitalist who will help to build their road. The land will be very valuable with the improvements.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

A DECISION AS TO THE BASIS FOR COMPUTATION OF A BUILDING ASSOCIATION PREMIUM.

Supreme Court of Illinois; Mutual Building and Loan Association v Tascott. This was a bill in chancery, brought by the Mutual Building and Loan Association against James B. Tascott et al., to foreclose a mortgage given to the association by Frederick C. Tascott, deceased. The bond which the mortgage sought to be foreclosed was given to secure, was in the penal sum of $20,000, and said bond, after reciting that the obligor was a member of said Mutual Building and Loan Association, and had borrowed therefrom the sum of $10,000 upon one hundred shares of the capital stock of the association of a certain series, was conditioned that the obligor should pay to the association said sum of $10,000 in monthly installments of $50 each, from June 1, 1885, the date of said series, with interest thereon at the rate of eight per cent per annum, payable in monthly installments of $66.67 each until the shares of said series should have attained the value of $100 each, and should pay all fines on said stock, and all taxes and assessments on the mortgaged premises, and keep the premises fully insured for the benefit of the association.

It appears from the evidence that the obligor subscribed for and obtained one hundred shares of the capital stock of the association, of said series, and that thereupon, on the 1st day of September, 1885, at a meeting of the directors of the association, he bid off and obtained the preference of loan of the moneys in the treasury of the association at a premium of twenty-five percent; that he thereupon applied for an advance upon his one hundred shares of stock, offering as security therefor a mortgage on the premises now in question; that said application and proposed security were referred to a committee, who reported favorably, their report announcing as follows: "Your committee to whom was referred the security offered by Mr. Fred C. Tascott for an advance of $8,000 on one hundred shares, of the third series of stock, bid for by him on the 1st of September, 1885, at a premium of twenty-five pereent, report," etc., that on the report of said committee said security was accepted, and that the applicant thereupon exeeuted said bond and mortgage, those instruments being both dated September 17, 1885.

In and by said mortgage it was provided that, in ease of foreclosure, a $50 solieitor's fee might be taxed, and that for six months' default in the payment of any of the sums of money payable by the terms of said bond, said stock might be forfeited, and the loan declared due and the mortgage foreclosed.

Tascott seems to have applied for said loan in part for the purpose of diseharging certain ineumbrances on the mortgaged premises, and in part for the purpose of erecting certain buildings thereon, and that the arrangement between the parties was, that said money was to be advanced to Tascott as needed by him in discharging said incumbrances and in erecting said buildings. On the day after the execution of said bond and mortgage, the association advanced him $2,100, and on the 9th day of October following the further sum of $1,000, making $3,100 in all. Nothing more was advaneed, and Tascott died June 26, 1886, before beginning the erection of the contemplated buildings. On the 6th day of October, 1885, $250 was paid the assoeiation in discharge of the installments of $50 eaeh, due by the terms of said bond, on the 1st day of June, July, August, September and Oetober, 1885.

Interest was also paid up to May 17, 1886. No further payments being made, the bill to foreclose said mortgage was filed February 10, 1886.

There seems to be no dispute that, as only $3,100 of the money stipulated for was actually advanced to Tascott, the mortgage should be held as security only for a sum bearing the same ratio to the $10,000 for which the bond was given, as the $3,100 advanced bears to the full amount which Tascott was entitled to receive as the net amount of the loan. The dispute is in relation to this latter sum, and involves the question as to how the twenty-five percent bid by Tascott should be computed. The appellant insists that said premium should be computed upon the entire $10,000, and that by such computation $7,500 was the full amount of the advance to which Tascott was entitled, while the appellees claim that the premium should be computed only upon the amount of the advance, thus making the net amount of the loan $8,000. By the former computation, the principal of the mortgage debt resulting from the advances actually made would be $4,133.33, and that is the amount as reported by the master and found by the decree of the Superior Court, while by the latter it would be only $3,875, and that seems to be its amount as found by the Appellate Court.

In support of the computation insisted upon by the appellant, we are referred to the provisions of the statue in relation to associations of this character, as it stood at the time said loan was made, which were as follows: "The board of directors shall hold such stated meetings, not less frequently than once in each month, as may be provided by the by-laws, at which the money in the treasury, if $100 or more, shall be offered for loan in open meeting, and the stockholder who shall bid the highest premium for the preference or priority of loan, shall be entitled to receive a loan of $100 less the premium bid for each share of stock held by said stockholder." 1 Starr & Curtis' Stat. 631. It is insisted that the obvious construction of this statute required the premium to be computed upon the gross amount of the loan, and in this case required the premium to be computed upon the entire $10,000, thus making the net advance to which Tascott became entitled only $7,500. Whether this is the true construction of the statute or not we are not called upon to determine, as the appellant by its entire course of dealings with Tascott and his legal representatives, and by its pleadings and proofs in this suit, has, in our opinion, precluded itself from invoking that construction.

It seems to be the fair conclusion from all the evidence that the association, from the beginning, in its dealings with Tascott, recognized and adopted the other method of computation. As we have seen, the committee of the association to which the sufficiency of the security offered by Tascott was referred, in its report expressly recognized the amount of the advance to which Tascott became entitled by his bid of twenty-five percent premium to be $8,000. After the advance of $3,100 both parties seem to have recognized the principal of the loan thus affected as being only $3,875. Each month down to May, 1886, the association exacted and Tascott paid, as the monthly installment of interest due on said loan the sum of $25.84, that being just two-thirds of one cent in excess of monthly interest on $3,875 at the rate of eight percent per annum.

The president of the association, in his testimony, stated that the entire premium charged upon the loan was $2,000 and that of this sum a rebate was made Tascott of $1,250, thus in fact making the premium charged upon the money actually advanced him only $750.

Not only do these facts show that the association never claimed the right to compute the premium on the basis now insisted upon, but the averments of its bill are such as to preclude it from so doing. The bill, in stating the amount of the indebtedness remaining unpaid, alleges that there remains due to the association, after deducting all just credits and set-offs, the following sums: Amount of cash advanced, $3,100; amount of premium earned on said loan, $500; interest due at date of bill, $648.11; fines, $58.80; solicitor's fee $50, making a total of $4,356.91.

The amount of premium chargeable, after deducting the $250 paid, being only $500, it could have been only $750 in the aggregate, which is consistent only with the theory that the twenty-five percent premium was to be computed upon the net and not upon the gross amount of the loan.

We are of the opinion then, whatever may be the true construction of the statute above quoted, that the association in this case is precluded, by its dealings with Tascott, and particularly by the allegations of its bill, from insisting that the principal of the indebtedness secured by the mortgage in question, originally exceeded the sum of $3,850, and $250 having been paid thereon October 6, 1888, the principal since that date is only $3,600. The Superior Court having adopted the finding of the master that the original principal was $4,133.33, was in error, and the Appellate Court properly reversed the decree based upon the finding.

But we are unable to reach the same conclusion as did the Appellate Court as to the amount due. Assuming a principal of $3,600, bearing eight percent interest, the interest having been paid up to May 17, 1886, there was due, principal and interest, May 5, 1889, the date of the decree of the Superior Court, the sum of $4,406.40. Add to this the $50 solicitor's fee for which the mortgage stipulates, and $11.40 of fines which the appellees, admit were properly imposed, and the total amount due at that date was $4,467.80.

DEVISE VOID FOR UNCERTAINTY.

Supreme Court of Minnesota; Society of the Most Precious Blood v B. Moll. A devisees of real estate describing the devices only as "those members of the society of the Most Precious Blood who are under my control and subject to my authority at the time of my death" is void because not pointing out with sufficient certainty persons who are to take the property.

WHAT CONSTITUTES USURY.

Supreme Court of Minnesota; Swanson v Balstad et al. Upon the loan of money the retaining by the lender with the assent of the borrower, of a sum out of the amount loaned, for services rendered by the lender to the borrower, and not for the use of the money does not make the transaction usurious. The loan in this case was for $300.

ALLEGATIONS NECESSARY IN A COMPLAINT.

Cleveland v Stone et al. In an action to cancel, as usurious, a mortgage upon real estate the complaint must show that it is a cloud on the title of the plaintiff; thus where it was executed by a former owner it is not enough to allege that the plaintiff is the owner at the time of bringing the action, without showing any privity between him and the mortgagor if valid, encumbers plaintiff s title.

EASEMENT OF GRANTOR OF A STRIP OF LAND PERPETUAL.

Supreme Court of Connecticut; Chappell v. N. Y., N. H. & H. Ry.

TORRANCE, J.—In 1851 John W. and Benjamin F. Brown owned a piece of land in New London, fronting on the river Thames, and lying between that river and Bank street. On the river front was a wharf and docks, and between the wharf and Bank street was about an acre and a half of land used by the Browns in carrying on a coal and wharfage business. The wharf was then very valuable, but less so than at present, because of added improvements. In June of that year the Browns conveyed, for railroad purposes, to the New Haven and New London Railroad Company, a strip of said land twenty-five feet wide, running through the land, and separating the wharf from the land, and rendering it inaccessible except by crossing said strip. Such right of crossing was indispensable to the Browns and all who might own the premises then owned by them.

Said strip of land was conveyed by a warranty deed, which provided, among other things, that it should be used for the purpose of a railroad, "and for no other use and purpose whatever." It further provided as follows: "And the said company is to lay their track so that the top of the rail shall be on the general level of the ground of our wharf. * * * And we reserve to ourselves the privilege of crossing and recrossing said piece of land described, or any part thereof, within said bounds. * * * And said railroad company shall secure our water pipes from all harm and damage where they cross said described land, and shall so arrange them that they may be attended to at any and all proper times, when necessary for repairs or laying down anew." The defendant is the successor of the grantee in said deed, and entitled to all the rights under the same which said grantee has thereunder. The plaintiffs now own the premises aforesaid formerly owned by the Browns, and are entitled to all the rights in said strip conveyed "which attached to said lands belonging to the said Browns after giving" the deed aforesaid, "or which said Browns saved or reserved" in said deed, "or which attached as conditions to the estate granted under" said deed, "and which were not terminated upon the deaths of said Browns."

The court puts the case on this ground, and expressly says: "We are of the opinion that this clause must operate as a reservation or by way of implied grant. * * * The clause we are considering does not merely reserve to Lovejoy a right of way and of maintaining aqueduct logs through the land granted. The privilege which the parties intended to vest in him was the right of passing and repassing, and of maintaining his aqueduct logs, through a culvert to be built and kept in repair by the grantee. The provision that the grantee shall build and keep in repair the culvert is an essential part of the grant, and clearly indicates that the intention of the parties was to confer upon the grantor a new right not previously vested in him, and which therefore could not be the subject of an exception."

In such a case the rule of common law requiring words of limitation to extend the easement beyond the life of the grantor may well be applied without conflicting with the present decision. We are also of the opinion that the stipulation in the deed that "the said company is to lay their track so that the top of the rail shall be on the general level of the ground of our wharf" has reference to the reserved right of crossing, and provides for the right of way on the then grade of the level of the land, so long as the right of way shall exist. It is, in effect, an agreement to maintain the track substantially at the then level of the ground, and binds the defendant. The Supreme Court is therefore advised that the defendant had no legal right to raise its track and roadbed within said locus in quo as proposed. This renders a specific answer to the second question unnecessary. In this opinion the other judges concurred.

PLANS BY ARCHITECTS.

Architects Furst & Rudolph have designed for Wm. Flemming a three-story brown stone front house, now being built on Drexel boulevard near Forty-seventh street. The interior finishing will be hardwood and the cost is estimated at from $35,000 to $40,000. For Henry Furst they have planned a three-story brown stone residence to be built on Ashland boulevard near Taylor street, to cost $25,000, with a barn on same premises which will cost $5,000.

Architects Jenny & Mundie have designed a Chinese pagoda, in Garfield Park, for the West Chicago Park Commissioners. It will be about 43x44 feet, and the real object of the building is for a power house, the upper part of it being the chimney and water reservoir. It will be boulder stone. The cost will probably reach $25,000.

Architect Fred Ahlschlager has designed a two-story store, flat and hall building, 60x80, to be erected at Kankakee, Ill., by the F. D. Radeke Brewing Co. It will be of stone, with hardwood interior; cost $15,000.

Architect Frederick Faehinger has planned a three-story and basement flat building, 25x65, to be erected on Halsted street, near Addison avenue. It will be of pressed brick and stone, and will be warmed by a furnace. In the rear a two-story barn will be erected; cost, $12,000.

Architects Patton & Fisher have designed two three-story apartment buildings, to be erected at the northeast corner of Forty-sixth street and Woodlawn avenue; cost, $50,000 One building will be 100 feet on the avenue, with a depth of seventy on the street, and the other is 60x 78. They will be of granite, with Bedford stone trimmings, the interiors being in hardwood and heated by steam. For P. S. Grosscup and F. L. Wean they have planned an eight-story apartment building, 50x78, to be erected at the northeast corner of Grand boulevard and Forty-third street. It will be of Bedford stone, with light brick and terra cotta above. The interior will be heated by steam, and will be supplied with an elevator and finished in hardwood. They are also planning alterations in E. H. Pitkin's residence, at Oak Park; cost, $20,000. They have also planned a five-story and basement family hotel for J. L. and F. Oviatt, to be erected on Dearborn street, near Chicago avenue. It will be of brick, with stone trimmings, hardwood, steam heat; cost, $50,000.

Architects Flanders & Zimmermann have planned for B. R. De Young & Co. ten two-story and basement and attic dwellings, 20x70, to be built on St. Lawrence avenue, south of Forty-seventh street. They will be of stone with hardwood interiors and will be warmed by furnaces; cost, $65,000.

Architect Thomas W. Wing has completed plans for three two-story and basement residences, 50x70, to be built on Washington Boulevard, near Sacramento avenue, by Sidney McHie. They will be built of stone, with hardwood interiors and will be heated by furnaces; cost, $180,000.

Architect J. C. Brompton has planned for the Dauphin Park Hotel Company a three-story frame hotel, 160x100, to be built at Dauphin Park; cost, $30,000.

The Marvel of the Musical World.

$30 worth of CHOICE MUSIC for $1.50.

The New York Musical Echo is quite a novelty in modern journalism, and affords a grand opportunity to musicians and music-loving people. It is a large quarto musical publication, published monthly, each number containing 24 full size pages of sheet music, the brightest, liviest and most popular selections of the day, both vocal and instrumental, together with a pretty cover, on which is a full page portrait of some beautiful actress for singer. The music and portrait changed with each issue.

A Year's Subscription to the New York Musical Echo is $1.50 (sample copies 15c.) and means 288 full size pages of sheet music and twelve fine portraits, making when bound one of the handsomest portfolios of the newest and nicest music ever published. We want our friends to be careful of each number as duplicate copies may soon be a thing of the past. Don't lose any of the pretty music we are publishing, so start from the December number. The American News Co., or any of the News Agencies will supply you, or order direct of us

BUSINESS OF THE WEEK.

The financial event of the week was the assembling of the International Monetary Conference at Brussels on Tuesday. The meeting was preliminary only to the real business of the conference. Little was accomplished except the election of M. Monteflore Levy as president. Sesslons will be held only on alternate days, and an adjournment was had from Tuesday to Friday, in honor of the American Thanksgiving, so that no further report will be in readiness until next week. The object of the conference is to establish an international agreement regarding the use of silver and gold as monetary standards. The convention was called at the invitation of the United States Government, and the following countries responded to the invitation: Austria-Hungary, Belgium, France, Germany, Great Britain, Greece, Italy, the Netherlands, Portugal, Roumania, Russia, Servia, Spain, Sweden and Norway, and Switzerland. The delegates from the United States are, Senators William B. Allison and John P. Jones, Congressman James B. McCreary, E. Benjamin Andrews, President of Brown University, Prof. Ronald P. Falkner of the University of Pennsylvania, Thomas W. Cudler, Thomas T. Keller, James T. Morgan, Henry W. Cannon, President of the Chase National Bank, and E. O. Leech, Director of the Mint.

The probable direction of the flow of gold during the next few months is the subject of no little speculation in financial circles. Gold exports in the near future are quite freely predicted in some quarters, but on the other hand there is a pretty general feeling that the next year will see the tide of gold setting strongly in this direction. It is undeniable that present conditions favor gold exports. The rate of demand for exchange this week has been at 487½ and 487¾. Gold shipments have been made as low as 487. Other conditions being favorable, it is quite probable that gold shipments may take place at any time; but it is difficult to see any probability of a net loss of gold to this country during the next twelve months. Foreigners have virtually ceased selling American securities and are beginning to buy. This tendency to invest in our stocks will doubtless be greatly augmented by the influx of tourists from Europe next summer. These tourists, too, will spend large sums of money here, which alone will necessitate the shipment of gold to this country to meet their letters of credit and bills of exchange. The only uncertain factor in the calculation is the balance of trade, and if this continues in our favor, gold imports will be a certainty during 1893. It must not be forgotten that, as we are a gold-producing country, any considerable increase in gold imports means a decided increase in the net amount of gold in this country.

Unfortunately, the present condition of our export trade is not encouraging. The official statement of exports and imports from and to the United States during the month of October shows that the export movement is smaller than in recent years, while the import movement is larger. The October exports of merchandise are nearly $25,000,000 smaller than in 1891, and $10,000,000 to $11,000,000 less than in 1889 or 1890; but with these exceptions they were larger than for any previous year for thirteen years. The imports of merchandise in October were valued at $79,098,462, or $6,000,000 more than in September, and $12,000,000 more than in October of 1891. The net exports over imports for the month were $8,395,834, which is the smallest balance for that month since 1890. This, too, is the season of the year when large exports may be expected.

The railway interests have attracted a large share of the public attention this week, chiefly with reference to probable earnings during the World's Fair. The passenger problem is well known to be endless, and as yet it has not been solved satisfactorily so far as dividends are concerned. The leading officials of trunk lines now think they see an opportunity to swell the profits of their respective roads by holding up rates to the Fair, and such a course, though hard on on the traveling public, will no doubt find favor with stockholders.

†Not included in totals.

San Francisco and Baltimore alone of the larger cities show decreases. With San Francisco this is a chronic condition. The dullness there has continued so long that decreased returns of bank clearings no longer attract any attention. The prospects for trade on the Pacific coast are said to be brightening. The export business at San Francisco has shown marked improvement of late. Cargoes have been shipped direct to Philadelphia for the first time in many years. This comparatively new shipping movement will have a strong influence for the better on the general trade of the Far West. As yet, however, this influence has not been manifest in the bank clearings.

Baltimore also shows a decrease this week of 7.4 percent. This is the legitimate result of a decreased southern trade. The business interests of Baltimore are closely linked with the South. Nearly all the jobbing trade of that city is with southern merchants. The clearing house totals of Baltimore therefore are a good index of the condition of commercial prosperity in the South. Two weeks ago the clearings at Baltimore were evidently on the increase. Then occurred the great strike at New Orleans, the influence of which was widespread throughout the entire South. For more than a week business was at standstill. Last week Baltimore began to feel the effects of this stagnation and reigistered a decrease in the volume of her bank clearings of 9.2 percent. This week the decrease continues but is not so great.

Minneapolis and St. Paul both show a slight decrease, and Duluth, still larger. This is the evident result of the slow movement of winter staples which has been complained of so much lately throughout the entire Northwest. Both wholesale and retail merchants at the cities named have laid in large stocks of winter clothing in anticipation of a great fall trade. Open weather over a large portion of the tributary territory has delayed purchases which would otherwise have been made early in the season. The result is a decreased volume of bank business in the leading northwestern cities. The cold wave of the past few days will doubtless make its influence felt on the clearings next week.

The strong faith in the business future is shown by the enormous volume of distribution which continues. Manufactures of all kinds have never been so active as they are at present. Prices generally are low, but in spite of this the volume of sales continues large. Money is easy and is likely to be still easier. Collections are generally reported good, but are least satisfactory in the Northwest. At Chicago collections are good and wholesale trade large. Receipts of staple agricultural products are on the increase. In the East everything except the heaviest winter goods is in demand. The encouraging feature in the South is the rise in the price of cotton and the large sales of that staple. The demand for iron, both for pig iron and the manufactured product, continues good.

The analysis by groups of States, is as follows:

	WEEK ENDING NOV 17, 1892.	WEEK ENDING NOV. 19, 1891.	PERCENTAGE.
New Engl'd States.	$118,604,621	$113,952,565	Inc 3.9
Middle "	877,000,494	836,253,008	" 4.5
Southern "	50,389,955	50,182,974	Nom
Western "	48.983,180	43,802,747	Inc 10.4
Northwestern "	151,635,563	138.085,711	" 8.9
Southwestern "	48,071,479	43,535,034	" 9.4
Far Western "	34,018,579	32,318,703	" 5.0
Totals,	$1,328,703,871	$1,258,130,742

The grand total of clearings, showing as it does an increase of 5.6 percent, is very satisfactory. Even New York City's total increases this week, and the total outside of New York increases more than the grand total. The most convincing test of the general advance is furnished by the above table of groups of States. Here it is seen that every group has increased—an unusual occurrence. Even the Southern group returns a slight increase this week, and the Far Western, which is invariably a decreasiug quantity, increases 5.0 percent. The general prosperity continues in spite of the fact that our October exports of principal products were $15,095,458 smaller than last year, and during the first two weeks of November $2,000,000 smaller.

LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

Conservatism has been the feature of the week on the stock exchange. Nothing has occurred to break the recent dullness; but there has been a noticeable lack of stock for sale and a corresponding disposition on the part of buyers to hold back. Money has been plentiful; but the demand continues so brisk that rates have suffered no deterioration. Six per cent is the usual rate. A few loans are being made at 5 and more at 7 percent. The demand for money for building operations still continues, notwithstanding the increased cost of materials. This has a tendency to keep up the rate in spite of an increase in the amount of loanable funds.

On Monday the market opened with little demand for anything but the street railway securities and Chicago Gas Light and Coke Company's 5 per cent bonds. The latter were in such demand as to rise in price from 90 3-4 to 91. In all $53,000 worth of this security changed hands during the day, of which $30,000 brought 91. The strengthening effect of the introduction of natural gas into Chicago is seen here. The gas company is said to be snowed under with orders for the new fuel from hotels, restaurants and private houses. The profits on the new venture in view of the enormous consumption expected next year will be generous.

City railway sold at its usual figure of 445 but later in the week dropped to 444. There is but slight demand for this stock and but little of it is on the market, although one lot of 100 shares was offered at 445. The disposition on the part of holders of the stock is to preserve their holdings and get it into some multiple of seven shares, so as to avail themselves of the right to subscribe to the new issue of stock.

West Chicago dropped from 206 to 204½, and then rose to 205 and 207¼. The trading was heavy at the lower figures and correspondingly light at the higher. Very little of this stock is on the market. The figures show that the demand is good at a little under the highest prices of the week. Buyers stand ready to take it at low figures and sales are brisk whenever there is a let-down, but the increased buying at once strengthens the market.

North Side stock has been quiet and has shown no tendency to advance. This stock is evidently out of the hands of the manipulators and rests solely on its merits as an investment security. Its value depends entirely on its record as a dividend-earner and not on the boom methods of any of its stockholders.

Lake Street Elevated has shown some activity during the week. There seems to be a well-grounded feeling that the negotiations known to be under way for the sale of this road will be completed in the near future and that the stock will take a jump commensurate with its improved prospects. Lake Street "L" has been selling at 22 to 22¾ and at these figures is generally considered a safe gamble. Of course there is no telling what the future of the Lake street line will be, but the confidence of investors in the ultimate outcome of the project appears to be strong.

During the week 100 shares of National Railway of Illinois changed hands at 130. This is a stock of which little is generally known in Chicago. It is a 7 percent dividend paying cable line in St. Louis. The stock appears to be in good favor on the exchange.

The Brewery stocks have shown slight advances this week. Milwaukee and Chicago Brewing common sold at 34½ and the preferred at 43¾. This improvement is due to increased earnings and a better feeling in the business. Earnings of both the companies are reported on the best of authority to be better than they ever were before since their organization, and there is no difficulty in keeping up prices to the point agreed upon.

Yesterday the session opened slowly under the heavy influence of the preceding holiday. The street railway stocks were the only securities moving and they were not active. Street's Stable Car Line, which came to the front on Wednesday, again showed signs of life yesterday between calls, when it sold up to 30¾ for the account. The recent report of October earnings of the company is construed as favorable.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The closing days of the fall months have witnesed no change in the course of the real estate market in Chicago. The activity is such as to excite no unusual comment, and consequently the situation is thought to be dull, but a glance at the transfer list will show that a good volume of business is being transacted on the investment rather than the speculative plan. The demand is for moderate priced property for actual use or investment and not as in former years too often for the purpose merely of making a scalp deal. The fact is there are practically no purely speculative transactions in progress. The real estate market is as legitimate at the present time as the market for wheat or cotton. Outside of the building interests which depend to some extent on the World's Fair, there is not a single speculative feature in the situation.

No little dissatisfaction has been expressed over the seeming dullness of the real estate market for nearly a year. Brokers who remember the days previous to that, when a piece of property would frequently change hands three or four times in the same week are apt to draw a dismal contrast between those times and the present, and they ask what the market is coming to. This, howeyer, is an unfair comparison. It must be remembered that the entire course of business has become within the last year severely conservative. All comparisons with the business of a year ago show a falling-off in the speculative element and an increase in the volume of legitimate trade. The demand now is for staple goods at staple prices and not for wild-cat property at any price. The prosperity of the country was perhaps never equalled, certainly never exceeded. Money is being spent freely for manufactures and imports. The evidences are that the people are able and willing to buy heavily both at home and abroad; but the spirit of speculation is practically dead.

The same condition is observed on the stock markets also. Little disposition to speculate is manifested either on Wall street or on our local exchange. Stocks on Wall street have been notoriously dull for months, and this in the face of the fact that money has been plentiful and obtainable at low rates of interest. Yet there has been a steady demand for investment securities; and these in many instances have risen to high figures under the mere stimulus of the demand for dividend-paying stocks.

It is not at all strange that similar conditions should prevail in the real estate market. In sympathy with the general non-speculative feeling the market has sctttled down to an every-day routine of buying and selling properties known to possess actual value without regard to their possible future. Prescnt income figures are the criterion in income property and cash selling prices the standard for vacant. The result is that the transfer lists show a healthy but moderate condition of activity. This condition will doubtless remain unchanged for the next six or eight months.

□It must be confessed that there has been at times in the real estate business as in every other business in Chicago, a tendency to overdo. In boom years this tendency has run riot in the subdivision line, and as a consequence we now see an unusual dullness in the cheap lot trade simply because there is an over-supply of lots. This kind of property being unproductive of income is the first to feel the effects of a return from a speculative to a purely investment basis. The demand for cheap lots is confined to those who buy for a home on the one hand and those who buy in the hope of a rise in value on the other. We have shown that the present temper of the market is decidedly non-speculative. The demand for lots is thus confincd almost entircly to the homeseekers. But the subdivision market having been built up under the stimulus of a speculative period, the supply of lots is now found to be in excess of the normal demand.

The force of this fact is best seen in the movements of prominent Chicago capitalists. The firm of E. A. Cummings & Co , of this city, who have long been prominently identified with the subdivision business here, is operating on an extensive scale in Milwaukee; and a syndicate of capitalists including some prominent Chicago real estate men have recently bought 1,400 acres of land in the outskirts of Cleveland. Thus Chicago capital is seeking outside points for profitable investment.

SALE OF A DEARBORN STREET LEASEHOLD.

The leasehold and building Nos. 418 and 420 Dearborn street have been sold by Richard Peck to R. L. Cresey, who takes title for outside investors, who are the real purchasers. The building is an eight-story brick structure covering a lot fifty feet wide running through from Dearborn street to Custom House place. The building was erected by ex-Ald. Campbell, who leased the ground from S. W. Rawson. The ground lease provides for an annual rental of $3,000 until Jan 1, 1895, and of $3,500 for forty-five years from that time. At the end of the forty-five year term the owner of the fee is compelled either to buy the improvements or their value, or to extend the lease for fifty years at 6 per cent on the ground valuation determined by appraisal. The leasehold was assigned to Gorton W. Allen last year and soon after was traded to George Montgomery and Richard Peck. The present transfer is made on a valuation of $150,000, $100,000 for the building and $50,000 as a bonus for the leasehold. The building is partly occupied, one of the principal tenants being the Dearborn Laundry company.

RECENT NINETY-NINE YEAR LEASEHOLDS.

Louis E. Steinfeld has leased for Lincoln Brook, to Charles E. Russell, for ninety-nine years, the northwest corner of Fifty-fifth street and Jefferson avenue, 150x53 feet, for $3,000 a year, or 6 percent on $50,000. Mr. Russell will erect a four-story building of six stores and eighteen flats, to cost $60,000, all modern improvements. The building will be completed by May 1, 1893, and will be used for a hotel during the World's Fair. He has leased for J. V. Standish to C E. Russell, for ninety-nine years, 137½x100 feet on Forty-seventh street, for $2,500 a year, or six percent on about $42,000. Mr. Russell will erect thereon a four-story apartment house. consisting of six stores and eighteen flats. Work on this building will be commenced immediately. He also reports lease for F. C. Orton to W. L. Russell, for ninety-nine years, of the southeast corner of Drexel avenue and Fifty-fifth street, at $3,600 per year, on which Mr. Russell will erect a four-story apartment building, costing $100,000. The building will be completed by May 1, 1893.

THE CHICAGO ASSOCIATION AND THEIR NEW TOWN.

Last spring the announcement was made in the columns of the JOURNAL of the purchase by a syndicate headed by Louis F. Menage of Minneapolis of 2,900 acres, the property lying just across the State line in Lake county, Indiana. The syndicate is styled the Chicago Associates and consists of Minneapolis and Chicago capitalists. Their new town is styled Chicago, Indiana, and is three miles south of Hammond, Ind. and five miles northeast of Chicago Heights. The property was divided into 600 five acre blocks to be retailed either by blocks or lots at $100 per lot. The tract is at present intersected by three railroads —the Chicago & Grand Trunk, the Pittsburg, Cincinnati & St Louis and the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago. Another road is now being constructed through the property of the syndicate. Since their purchase last spring they have been busy platting and grading the property and now have it all laid out in streets. In an interview this week Mr. Menage said that the syndicate had already secured five factories and would commence the erection of the buildings at once. They will put up 125 residences to cost from $1,000 to $2,000 each, designed to be comfortable homes for the laborers and mechanics. Mr. Menage thinks these houses will be completed and the five factories in operation within ninety days. No houses are on the tract now. The syndicate is building a railroad to be known as the Chicago, Lake Michigan & Southern. It will run from Dyer, Ind., two miles southwest of the syndicate property, northeast to East Chicago harbor, a distance of elveven miles. It will connect with Joliet cut-off and the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern railroads at Dyer, and with the Michigan Central and Fort Wayne at East Chicago. It is built for the purpose of affording to the syndicate property a belt line connection. A wide and deep drainage canal has been constructed across the entire property with an outlet in the Calumet river on the north. The fall to Lake Michigan is about twenty-three feet, so that natural drainage is provided. The Standard Oil company's main pipe line is only a short distance from the property, and fuel oil will be piped to manufacturers locating there.

AUCTION ON THE REAL ESTATE BOARD.

The of't-repeated promise to establish "a real estate auction" is now about to be realized. On next Monday at the board rooms on Dearborn street, at the hour of 11 o'clock a. m. Messrs. Barnes & Parish will sell the fine property on the northwest corner of Adams street and Seeley avenue, 127x106 feet with new modern brick residence containing sixteen rooms with all the latest improvements, hardwood finish, hot water heat, etc., to the highest bidder. The locality being in the best portion of the West Side, the sale will certainly be a go.

SALE OF A WABASH AVENUE FLAT BUILDING.

Jerome P. Bowes has sold to Frank A. Hecht the flat building on the southeast corner of Wabash avenue and Forty-fourth street for $100,000. The structure is a three-story and basement brick and stone building erected last spring. It covers the entire ground frontage of eighty-five feet on Forty-fourth street and contains twenty-seven apartments supplied with steam heat, electric lights and all the latest improvements. The rental is about $13,000 a year. The price paid, $100,000, includes a ground valuation of $30,000, which represents about $2.20 a square foot or $3.53 a foot for the Wabash avenue frontage. These figures can hardly be taken as a criterion for other ground values in this locality, as the property in question is a corner and has an unusual depth.

WINDSOR BEACH WORLD'S FAIR HOTEL.

The Windsor Beach hotel is a World's Fair project by Jerome P. Bowes after plans by Architect Robert S. Smith. The hotel will be built in a hollow square covering a ground space of 100x110 feet on the northeast corner of Coles avenue and Seventy-fifth street. The building will be three stories high, of frame construction, with broad porches on both street frontages. It will contain 150 guest-rooms and will be substantially built with a view to being run as a beach hotel after the Fair. The hotel will be leased to an outside syndicate during the Fair at a term rental of $15,000.

LEVELAND, O., ATTRACTS WESTERN CAPITAL.

CLEVELAND, Nov 23.—[Special Correspondence.]—The statement that there is a city in the United States of 300,000 or more of people to which you cannot buy a railroad ticket, usually meets with emphatic denial. I saw where an enthusiastic voter instantly accepted the negative end of a wager that there was a city in the Union of over 200,000 people where Cleveland would not get a vote. I was in a city of over a quarter of a million inhabitants the other day which has not a boulevard and practically no park. Brooklyn is the first city referred to; Washington, D. C., the second, and Cleveland, Ohio, has no park drives and but seventy-three acres of a park. It is wonderful that a city so rich—$40,000,000 in its savings banks alone—should have no park system. With real and personal property valued at $400,000,000 it has no place for rich people to drive and poor people to walk except "over the stones." Cleveland could appropriately be termed the utilitarian city, with "All business, no sentiment" for a motto.

I have learned a good many very interesting but peculiar things about this city while here. It has never had a boom. Modern subdividing has had no place in its real estate business. Cabbage patches and cornfields have been invaded by lot buyers who wanted to build homes. In a seven miles ride on electric cars from the centre of the city through the residences in the manufacturing district I saw only ten "for sale" signs on the houses and four "for rent." There are more "for sale" signs on ten of the best blocks on Fifth avenue, New York than on the whole street from the Square to Newberry in Cleveland. Seven of the ten "for sale" signs I saw said "inquire within." It seems to me that evangelists in the real estate guild should find a good field for work in that city. Few cities in the Union have so large a factory pay roll. It is over two and one-half millions dollars per month. No wonder they spoil the truck patches and adjoining fields buying lots on which to build homes.

It is a wonder to me that the professional "boomers,, of the country have not made a descent on this virgin ground. It is to be hoped they won't, but if they understood the situation they would be harvesting there inside of a month. Two firms of the "legitimate" have discovered Cleveland; one of them from Kansas City and the other from Richmond, Va. The former is developing 200 acres and the latter has bought 1400 acres. This is the tract adjoining the city which was owned and farmed by one of the Shaker communities. It is thought the city will give more for 200 acres of this land for a park than the whole tract cost.

If I were a real estate astrologist and wished to gain fame I would cast the horoscope of Cleveland and predict an imminent real estate activity. It is a "sure thing," and as usual the outsiders will get the plums and the home people will get left. The real estate men have recently organized a real estate exchange and the Industrial and Manufactures committee of the Board of Trade have secured Mr. Ryerson Ritchie who organized the Commercial Club of Kansas City and was for six yerrs its secretary Mr. Ritchie will compile facts and figures about Cleveland and spread them before the business men of the country. FARMS, HOMES AND MORTGAGES.

LAND OWNERSHIP AND DEBT IN IOWA.

The following table compiled from the Extra Census Bulletin, issued by Robt. P. Porter, superintendent of census, Washington, D. C., shows the number of farms owned in the State of Iowa, the number of farm-owning families, number of hired or rented farms, number of farm-hiring families, percentage of owned farms; of farm-owning families; percentage of hired farms and percentage of farm-hiring families:

No. of families in the State,	388,517
" " " who hire farms,	143,056
" " " " own "	245,461
" " " " owe on mortgages	104,072
No. of farms unincumbered	141,389
Percentage of families who hire	36.82
" " " incumbered	26.79
" " " unincumbered	36.39
No. of farm families	205,435
" " " " who own	144,698
" " " " owning and mortgaged	77,111
" " " " unincumbered	67,587

HOME PROPRIETORSHIP.

No. of home families in the State	183,082
No. who hire homes	82,319
Owning families	100,763
" " unincumbered	73,802
" " incumbered	26,961

City homes are hired and incumbered in a greater degree than is found outside of cities. In the twelve larger cities of the State, each having the population subsequently mentioned, there are 54,291 home families, of which 23,686, or 54.68 per cent hire and 24,605, or 45.32 per cent own their homes. Homes subject to incumbrance are occupied by 8,731 owning families, or 35.48 per cent of the total owning families, and 15,874 families, or 64.52 per cent of the owning families have no home incumbrance. In 100 of these city home families, on the average, 54.68 hire their homes, 16.08 own with incumbrance, and 29.24 own without incumbrance. The home proprietorship of the cities will be found in table 3. The names of the twelve cities and their population follow: Des Moines, 50,093; Sioux city, 37,806; Dubuque, 30,311; Davenport, 26,872; Burlington, 22,565; Council Bluffs, 21,474; Cedar Rapids, 18,020; Keokuk, 14,101; Ottumwa, 14,001; Clinton, 13,619; Muscatine, 11,454; Marshall, 8,914. In the State, outside of the twelve cities, 40.87 per cent of the home families hire, and 59.13 per cent own their homes; 23.94 per cent of the home owning families own with incumbrance and 76 06 per cent without incumbrance, while among 100 families, on the average, 40.87 hire their homes. 14.15 own subject to incumbrance, and 44.98 own free of incumbrance.

Liens amounting to $119,512,794 incumber 104,072 owned farms and homes of the State, $101,745,924 of which is on 77,111 farms and $17,766,870 on 26,961 homes. The value of the incumbered farms and homes is $359,218,173; farms, $305,658,669; homes, $53,559,504. Ratios of debt to value: farms and homes 33.27 per cent; farms, 33.29 per cent; homes, 33.17 per cent. The general uniformity of the county percentages is such that attention need not be called to any particular county.

A debt of $7,973,777 incumbers 8,731 owned homes of the twelve cities, and these incumbered homes are worth $23,659,932, so that the debt is 32.70 per cent of the value. The debt incumbering the owned homes in the State, outside of the twelve cities, is 32.75 per cent of the value of the homes subject to incumbrance.

In looking for the most prominent class in each class it appears that 36.16 per cent of the farm families own incumbered farms worth $2 500 and under $5,000, and that 53.44 per cent of the total farm values is in farms worth $5,000 and over. The farms having an incumbrance of less than $1,000 each are owned by 47.98 per cent of the farm families, while farms worth $1,000 and under $2,500 carry 44.02 per cent of the total farm debt.

Home values are more prominent in the class of those worth less than $1,000, which are owned by 40.07 per cent of the home families, and in the class of $5,000 and over, whose homes are worth 37.92 per cent of the value of all owned and incumbered homes. Upon turning to incumbrance, it will be noticed that 81.44 per cent of the home families own homes each with an incumbrance of less than $1,000, and that 43.83 per cent of the total home debt rests on homes each of which is incumbered for less than $1,000.

The owned and incumbered homes of the twelve cities that are worth $1,000 and under $2,500 are owned by 42.49 per cent of the home families, and the homes worth $5,000 and over constitute 47.36 per cent of the value of all homes; incumbrances of less than $1,000 are carried by 71.69 per cent of the home families, and the total amount of the incumbrance in the same class is 33.99 per cent of the total amount.

The average owned and incumbered farm of the State is worth $3,964; home, $1,987; of each home in the twelve cities, $2,710. The average farm incumbrance is $1,319; home, $659; home incumbrance in the twelve cities, $913. Sioux City has homes of the highest average value, namely, $4,955, and the least average value, $1,378, is in Muscatine. In the State, outside of the twelve cities, the average home value is $1,640, incumbrance, $537.

SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS AND THE FARMERS.

The annexation of thousands of acres of farming lands to the city is a detriment to both farmers and subdividers.

The law governing assessments requires the assessors to list and assess undivided lands as farms and subdivided land as town or city lots. This rule works injustice to lot owners whose property adjoins farm land, and unduly favors the owner of acres who receives the benefit of improvement made by subdividers. Now, in order to realize some of the benefits that are supposed to belong to town property the lot-owners and subdividers who are cut off and intercepted by the farmers, make a strike for improvements, such as sewers, water service pipes, paved streets, etc., etc., which can only be secured by special assessment. Naturally enough the farmers will fight these assessments and oppose everything in the way of public improvements. The subdivider and the lot-owner cannot live on their land without sidewalks, paved or macadamized streets and sewers, and good roads cannot be had without sewers. This is getting the cart before the horse in the case of the lot-buyers, and the farmer is not particularly benefitted by having sidewalks and sewers laid through his fields.

Under the new order of things the special assessment law does not operate under the rule which governs the assessors. All improvements within the city limits such as sewers, sidewalks, roads and water service pipes are made by special assessment which is levied on the frontage along the line of improvement. So great is the opposition of the owners of acres to special assessments that subdividers and lot-owners have organized improvement clubs for the purpose of pushing special assessments.

The great need of better roads and sewers, to say nothing of fire protection and school facilities demands that something be done very shortly in the northwest territory.

THE ELECTRIC ROAD.

The Chicago and St. Louis Electric road, under construction at the St. Louis end, has aroused new interest from the fact that the General Electric company is said to be backing the enterprise. The assumption is that the General Electric company has either taken up enough of the new issue of $6,000,000 of stock in order to guarantee the success of the enterprise or that it will furnish all the equipment. The management is reticent about the matter. Again it is suggested that the General Electric company may have secured the contract to furnish the new air line between Chicago and St. Louis with motors and other equipment, and that it agrees to take part payment in the stock of the electric railway.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Sherman trust law is likely to be invoked against the Reading coal combine. This is a Federal measure directed against trusts and illegal agreements of all kinds. It declares that every contract, combination in the form of trust or otherwise, or conspiracy, in restraint of trade or commerce among the several States, or with foreign nations, is illegal. It provides for a fine not exceeding $5,000 and imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both, as a punishment for making such illegal contract. The measure is a broad one and covers railroad pools and agreements, and boycotts, as well as trusts. Under this law it is claimed that the coal of the Reading combine can be seized as soon as it is shipped across the border of the State of Pennsylvania. The Attorney General is said to have the right under this statute to confiscate any property illegally used in this way and to thus throttle the trusts instantly. The pressure constantly being brought to bear against these combines is so great that it is probable some action under the Sherman trust law will be taken ere long. This would bring the entire subject in review before the United States courts and would result in a victory for the people. The claim that the law is unconstitutional can not be substantiated.

The importance of a well-regulated system of registered titles is illustrated by a recent case at Springfield, Ohio, where a man is said to have swindled 150 workmen of that city out of about $3,000 in cash by selling them incumbered property. He bought a tract of land near the city, laid it out in lots, and sold it on very easy payments, part cash, to workingmen. It now appears that the former owner of the property holds a $9,000 mortgage on the plat, only $1,000 of which has been paid. The clever manipulator of the property has disappeared. His dupes are out of their hard earned money. The moral is that property should not be bought even on easy payments without a careful inquiry into the title.

The numerous attempts to enforce the penalties of the Inter-State Commerce law have proved lamentable failures. The law itself is as near being a failure as it well can be and it ought to be either amended or repealed. Individuals and firms have repeatedly violated the law with impunity. Prosecutions have invariably failed to convict, either from lack of evidence or from technicalities or imperfections in the law. In the majority of cases the prosecution rests almost wholly on the evidence of the parties accused. Under the decision in the Counselman case indicted persons cannot be compelled to testify against themselves. All they have to do is to refuse to answer any questions and the case against them falls flat at once.

The action of the eastern railroads in refusing to make special rates to the World's Fair is the worst blow the Fair has received yet. If it were possible to carry out this determination and maintain full rates each way, the result would be extremely disastrous to the Exposition. We do not believe that it is possible. If the determination to sandbag the Fair and to hold up all the visitors thereto is persisted in, the outcome will be merely disaster for the railway companies themselves through such a demoralization of rates as has never before been known in this country. The proper course would be to make a straight half fare rate both to and from Chicago from any part of the United States. The result of such a rate would be to stimulate travel in every direction enormously. Not only would there be a demand for transportation to Chicago far in excess of anything that has been heretofore anticipated, but a similar increase in the general disposition to travel to all parts of the country would be manifest. People who have never traveled before would take advantage of the low rates to visit relatives in distant parts of the country. Visitors to the Fair would take occasion to go farther west or east and thus explore regions before unknown to them under the stimulus of rates lower than they had ever been before or were likely to be again for some time. The trains in every direction would be filled to their utmost capacity. It is puerile to think that the roads would not make money under such an arrangement. On the other hand, if they persist in attempting to maintain the full rates, they will probably lose money. No such effort to hold up rates to an unnaturally high point can ever be successful. The inducement to cut rates is too great. One or more roads begin to cut, and all at once the entire fabric of agreement falls to pieces and all the lines begin to carry passengers at ruinously low rates. Like the dog in the fable who saw his own likeness in the stream, the too greedy roads will lose the bone they already have if they persist in striving after more.

AGENTS' BUDGET.

Peter Van Vlissingen reports the following sales made by him lately: North avenue, southwest corner Holt street 49x118, improved, Patrick Dalton to Stanilous Labenzinski, $6,500; Warren avenue south front, 37½x125, the premises No. 235, Thos. F. O'Neil to Edward C. Brown, $7,500; St. Lawrence avenue, east front, the premises 4442, 25x125, C. M. Jackson to John Satimore, $6,500; Loomis street, northwest corner of Twentieth, 28x120, premises 742 Loomis, F. Knourek to Robert C. Young, $13,700; Paulina street, southeast corner of Keenon street, 96x100, improved, also Paulina, southwest corner Keenon street, 22x100, improved, F. Schumacher to H. E. Belfield, $40,000; Larrabee street, northwest corner Alaska street, 22x109, the premises No. 389, heirs of Thos. Kelley to H. E. Belfield, $11,000; Chicago avenue, northwest corner of Rush 30x52, improved, Wm. Eger to Henry E. Belfield, $15,500; Barry avenue, south front, the premises 1932, 50x178; C. H. Wacker to Albert Magnus, $23,000; State street, east front, the premises 3556, 24x123, Rudolf Brand to W. Cohn, $11,000; Lock st, west front, the premises 3015, 25x125, Mathilda Richardson to Patrick McDermott, $5,300; Cottage Grove avenue, east front, the premises 2712, 25x150, N. Rosenthal to N. H. Henderson, $6,500; Division street, northeast corner of Wood, 24x100, vacant, Wacker & Birk to Fred Kleene, $5,000. Demand for real estate loans brisk considering the time of year and high price of labor and material.

W. H. Cairnduff & Co. report the following sales at Winnetka Park Bluffs: A house and 200 feet of ground at the northwest corner of Columbus avenue and Eldorado avenue to S. Hazlehurst for $9,350; a house and sixty feet of ground at the southwest corner of North avenue and Columbus avenue, to C. B. Powell for $6,200; and several vacant lots in different parts of the property aggregating $9,050. They have just begun the erection of six more nine and ten-room modern houses to be built for occupancy in April, some of which are already sold.

D. S. Place & Co have sold to William Leonard and L. D. Taylor for the National Columbian United Wheelmen's Association a lot on Madison avenue, 150 feet south of Fifty-seventh street, east front. They will break ground for a handsome four-story building, which will be fitted up to accommodate the wheelmen of the world with parlors, reading rooms, cafe, baths and repair shop.

The first of the auction sales under the auspices of the Real Estate Board was held Monday, and was voted a success by those present. The property consisted of two lots, each 24x100 feet, partly improved, at Nos. 520 and 522 West Indiana street. It was offered by Cremin & Brenan, who really started the present auction sale movement. The two lots were sold for $5,575. The sale was well attended.

Neill & Mahnke have sold to Henry C. Gray for $125,000 the property at the southeast corner of Halsted street and Fifty-fifth street boulevard. It is 130 by 108 feet in dimensions and on it in course of construction is a fine stone block of stores, flats and halls. For this property Mr. Gray pays $10,000 in cash and trades some unimproved property in the same vicinity valued at $115,000. Full details of the deal have not yet been concluded, but it is far enough along to insure its final completion.

Judge Collins has decided the case of Thomas Conlin and John Moss against Samuel W. Jackson, involving forty acres of land in the vicinity of Cottage Grove avenue and Fifty-first street. Complainants owned the land and alleged that Jackson promised to purchase the same for $75,000. Jackson paid $5,000 down and then refused to take the land. The court said he would enter a decree compelling Jackson to specifically perform the contract.

The branch of the Rock Island Road to West Pullman is completed. The branch leaves the Main line of the Rock Island at One Hundred and Twenty-third street, running east on this street, until it strikes the Blue Island branch of the Illinois Central, from there it runs northeasterly to One Hundred and Twentieth street and east on this street to Morgan. The road runs right through the manufacturing district of West Pullman. General Manager Kerr, of the land association, says that negotiations are under way with several factories for location at West Pullman.

N. P. and L. L. Moody have sold to the North Shore Livery Company a lot on the west side of North Clark street just north of Diversey street. The property has a frontage of fifty feet and a depth of 200 feet. The price paid was $25,000.

John J. Simmons bought at a judical sale in the rooms of the real estate board the north three feet of lot 3 in Otis' subdivision of block 49 in the canal trustees' subdivision west half section 27, 39, 14, for $11,564.22 Catherine Hennemann bought in the same way school section addition south half lot 8, block 110 for $10,600.

The Citizens' Street Railway of Indianapolis has been sold by its Chicago owners to eastern capitalists. The deal was completed in Chicago and the property was transferred to the purchasers. The sum paid is said to have been $2,500,000. The directors of the company have been C. H. McCormick, S. W. Allerton, J. C. Schaffer, J. J. Mitchell and E. K. Butler. The president is J. P. Frenzel and the secretary and treasurer A. A. Anderson. The company was organized in 1888 with a capital stock of $1,500,000, in shares of $100 each, which is paid up.

EDGAR M. SNOW & CO.

The above named firm now well known in Chicago occupies handsome offices at 88 LaSalle street. Mr. Snow is one of the best posted and most successful real estate dealers in the city. He commenced business in 1873 and was a member of the old firm of Henry C. Morey & Co. and remained with this time-honored house until Mr. Morey retired from active business, soon after which he became the senior partner in the real estate firm of Snow & Dickinson for a number of years located at the corner of Washington and Dearborn streets. John T. Donlan and Robt. C. Butzow, both experienced real estate men and for the past four years associated with Mr. Snow, are the other members of the firm. The members of this firm, and especially Mr. Snow have had much to do with central business property, having dealt extensively in high class property all over the city. The firm will continue at their new stand a long established real estate loan and renting business.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

DECISION IN CONDEMNATION PROCEEDINGS FINAL.

Supreme Court of Illinois; C. R.-I. & P. R. R. v. City of Chicago. In this case the City of Chicago sought to prosecute condemnation proceedings a second time for a strip of land for the purpose of opening and extending Sixtieth street. The Superior Court of Cook County sustained a demurrer to the bill, dissolved the preliminary injunction that had been granted and dismissed the bill of complaint for want of equity. The Supreme Court sustained this decision and held that to permit a corporation clothed with the right of eminent domain to abandon any judicial ascertaiment of value that does not conform to its wishes, and, through the instrumentality of new petitions, submit anew the question of just compensation to successive juries, until a verdict is returned which it regards as sufficiently low, would be to give an undue advantage to one of the parties to the controversy and to work a rank injustice to the citizen and property owner. Even without regard to the statute that the first assessment shall be final and conclusive as to the amount of the damages, both reason and authority would lead to the conclusion that such must be the law: Hupert v. Hamilton, 43 Mo. 282; Rogers v. City of St. Charles, 3 Mo. App. 41.

MORTGAGE MUST STATE THE AMOUNT, TO BE VALID.

Appellate Court, First District of Illinois; Bergman v. Bogda. A mortgage which fails to describe the amount of the debt for which it is to be given is no notice of record to creditors and bona fide purchasers. In this State, a creditor who had by virtue of judgment and execution obtained a lien upon premises, occupies the same position with respect to prior unrecorded conveyances as does a purchaser. Whenever a testator directs that his debts shall be first paid, such direction amounts to a charge of the debts upon his real estate. So, too, when an executor is directed to pay debts, and real estate is devised to him, either personally or as executor, the land so devised is charged.

VESTED REMAINDER CONSTITUTED BY WILL.

Supreme Court of Appeals, Virginia; Gish v. Moomaw. A will provided that, after paying testator's debts, all his real and personal estate should go to his wife for life, and, on her death, the real estate should be equally divided among his three brothers "or their heirs, if living;" but if either of the brothers should die "without heirs before the division of the estate, the property should go to those living or their heirs." Held: That at testator's death the brothers each took a vested remainder, in fee simple, in an undivided third of the real estate, defeasible only by death without issue before the termination of the life estate, in which event the property was to pass to the survivors.

"STUFFED CONTRACTS" NOT ENTITLED TO A MECHANIC'S LIEN,

Circuit Court of Cook County; Heidenbluth v Rudolph. Horton J.—Several petitions for mechanic's liens are presented in this case.

The claims are denied to the following, viz:

G. Blaedner & Co., Geo. Heidenbluth et al., Sam'l Williams, Chas. Mauske and Raymond H Rudolph.

All of these claimants except Blaedner & Co., were parties to what are in this case called "stuffed contracts"—that is, contracts were executed for amounts varying from $1,000 to over $5,000 each, in excess of the actual contract price, and receipts at once given for such excess, and these receipts used as representing actual payments. Such fraud ought to defeat these claimants if no other reason existed.

Blaedner & Co. did not file their claim within four months as required by statute.

These claims, and each of them, must be denied for the above reasons, and others indicated at the time of the hearing and which need not here be repeated.

The petitions of Alles Bros. and Fromhald & Voigtmann as finally amended claim liens upon contracts averred to be partly expressed and partly implied.

Each of these claimants had a contract in writing by which they respectively agreed: "To do all the work in the shortest possible time and not delay any of the other workmen." These words are inserted in writing in an architect's printed form of contract. Following and in the printed portion, claimants agree to deliver the buildings completed "at such time as set forth above. As to time of payments, it is provided in one of these contracts that they shall be made "in the following manner, to-wit: When all sewer, gas and soil pipes, are in, $1,500; when fully completed, $1,690" The provision in the other contract as to payments is similar.

The question here presented is whether these contracts, as to time, are express contracts. If they are, these petitioners can not recover under the statute. If they are not, then the law implies a contract as to time, and the work having been done within one year claimants should recover. As to these two claimants no other question is presented or argued.

In addition to oral arguments very exhaustive printed briefs have been furnished. No attempt will be made to review all the cases cited.

In Coburn v Tyler, 41 Ill 354, the petition was upon an agreement which was to be performed "in a reasonable time." The court say (p. 356): "Under the law of 1845 we think such an agreement is insufficient to create a lien; although it probably would under the amendatory act of 1861. The contract having been made and performed under the former act, it must be governed by its provisions. Had the agreement been made and performed since the adoption of the latter, a different question would have been presented."

In Orr v N. W. Mut. Life Ins Co., 86 Ill. 260, the contract was to furnish hardware and materials, "as they should be needed from time to time in the construction of the buildings. No amount of material was specified, and no time was fixed for the completion of the buildings." That was held to be an implied contract as to time and a lien allowed.

In Driver v Ford, 90 Ill. 595, there were two lien claimants. In one the contract was to be performed "within a reasonable time" as found by the court. In the other the claimants were to furnish hardware "to be delivered as required in the progress of the building, and that they were to be paid on the first of the month for the goods furnished in the previous month." It was held that both of these were implied contracts as to time and that both claimants were entitled to liens.

In Younger v Sanks, 7 Brad. 280, the contract "provides that the work was all to be done in a reasonable length of time, the weather permitting." This also was held to an be implied contract as to the time of performance.

The contracts of Alles Bros. and Fromhald et al. are, under the case cited, implied contracts as to time of performance, and the work having been performed within one year they are entitled to liens.

Their liens are prior to the mortgages, and are several for a specific amount upon each of the eight buildings.

Exceptions to master's report are controlled by the views above expressed. Let a decree be proposed accordingly.

NOT A FRAUD ON CREDITORS TO WITHHOLD MORTGAGE FROM RECORD.

New Jersey Court of Chancery; Flemington Nat. Bank v Jones. The mere withholding from the record of a mortgage given for full consideration lest it might injure the credit of the mortgagor, is not sufficient evidence of an intent on the part of the mortgagee to hinder, delay or defraud creditors of the mortgagor or to make it void as to them on that ground alone. Financial credit is in a measure necessary to the success of many if not all, business enterprises, and a man with a reasonable amount of capital and business capacity and enterprise may fail without it where he would succeed with it. This has been proved in thousands of instances. Hence, to refrain from injuring the credit of such a person by publishing the amount of his indebtedness is a legitimate aid to him in his enterprise and does not tend to defraud his creditors.

HOME-SEEKERS ATTENTION!

The United States Government has decided to open, November 22, 1892, for settlement under the homestead law, the unearned lands of the Marquette & Little Bay Du Noquet Railroad, heretofore reserved from entry, in Northern Michigan. At the same time the right of the Ontonagon & Brule River Railroad has been denied to a large tract of land in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. This gives an unprecedented chance to locate valuable timber and mineral lands, which are among the best in the Upper Peninsula, and are reached only over the North Star Route (Milwaukee & Northern Railroad) between Chicago and Lake Superior.

For further particulars address C. E. COLLINS, Land and Immigration Agent, 161 La Salle street, Chicago.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company's 6,150 miles of road traverses a vast territory rich in all the resources that insure industrial success.

The Industrial Department is conversant with the Iron, Coal, Lumber and Tanbark, the Water-Power (both river and artesian) for factory and electric power purposes, the markets, the transportation and financial facilities, and other interests on the line pertaining to industrial development, and disseminates information concerning same.

A number of new factories has been induced to locate—largely through the instrumentality of this Company—at enterprising towns on its lines.

As the interest of the Company is to secure the location of industries at places where the surroundings will insure their permanent success, the information furnished a particular industry is pertinent and reliable.

In the Eastern States and in other parts of the world factories are so congested and distant from the actual markets as to result in fierce and destructive competition. That the West is taking a place as one of the great manufacturing territories of the world is forcibly impressing itself upon discerning and enterprising manufacturers. Steps should be taken by such while the field is as yet not fully covered, and while inducements are still being offered, to locate in the West.

Individuals or companies wishing to embark capital in Western industry can find a profitable field.

For particulars relative to industrial advantages on the line, address

Luis Jackson,

Industrial Commissioner,

C, M.. & St. Paul R'y, 160 Adams St., Chicago, Ill.

CHICAGO HEIGHTS!

THE GREAT MANUFACTURING AND BUSINESS CENTER.

Business and Residence Property For Sale at Extremely Low Prices and on Easy Terms.

DOLESE & SHEPARD, 162 Washington Street, Chicago,

HAVE BEEN AWARDED A CONTRACT AMOUNTING TO

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS

($170,000) for the purpose of macadamizing 17 miles of streets and building stone sidewalks.

NO ASSESSMENT will be made for the improvements, the Association assuming the entire expense. The wise and prudent people who invest a small amount of money in CHICAGO HEIGHTS property will in a comparatively short time reap large benefits. No sane person can question the wisdom of making an investment in Chicago property.

Four large factories are in full operation and contracts closed with several others. A large number of residences and business houses in course of construction, also an extensive factory building for Roth & Englehardt, Piano Manufacturers of New York.

$30 worth of CHOICE MUSIC for $1.50.

The New York Musical Echo is quite a novelty in modern journalism, and affords a grand opportunity to musicians and music-loving people. It is a large quarto musical publication, published monthly, each number containing 24 full size pages of sheet music, the brightest, liviest and most popular selections of the day, both vocal and instrumental, together with a pretty cover, on which is a full page portrait of some beautiful actress for singer. The music and portrait changed with each issue.

A Year's Subscription to the New York Musical Echo is $1.50 (sample copies 15c.) and means 288 full size pages of sheet music and twelve fine portraits, making when bound one of the handsomest portfolios of the newest and nicest music ever published. We want our friends to be careful of each number as duplicate copies may soon be a thing of the past. Don't lose any of the pretty music we are publishing, so start from the December number. The American News Co., or any of the News Agencies will supply you, or order direct of us

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1892.

BUSINESS OF THE WEEK.

The monetary conference continues to be the uppermost topic of interest. The two propositions thus far presented have excited widespread discussion and called forth comment from every quarter. The conference will be successful to the extent of stimulating thought and arousing public discussion, if to no other purpose. In the end, too, some rational agreement is sure to be arrived at, and the weight of opinion in this country seems to be that the ultimate goal is the free coinage of silver.

The proposition presented by the American delegates was the re-establishment and maintenance of a fixed parity between gold and silver and the continued use of both as coined money of full debt paying power. These ends are to be completed by the removal of the legal restrictions now existing and the coinage of silver into full legal tender money, restoring by international agreement the parity of value between the metals which existed prior to 1871 at such a ratio as the conference may decide upon. The American delegates farther maintained that the essentials of such an international arrangement should be the unrestricted coinage of both gold and silver into money of full debt paying power, fixing a ratio in the coinage between the metals, and the establishment of a uniform charge, if any, to the public for minting gold and silver coin.

The plan introduced by Alfred de Rothschild was that each government represented in the conference shall be associated in the purchase of $25,000,000 worth of silver annually, in addition to the present purchase of $50,000,000 a year by the United States. This would be a total purchase of about 84,000,000 ounces of silver a year, but as the output of the mines of the world is now over 120,000,000 ounces a year, this proposition to raise the price of silver by buying up two-thirds of the output is much like attempting to reduce the level of the ocean by pumping out the water. It is evident from the general tone of discussion throughout this country that the United States will never be satisfied with anything less than rational free coinage.

The anxiety on the part of speculators over the threatened export of gold still continues, but, so far as we can learn, it is by no means justified. A paltry shipment of $600,000 was made Saturday, but this is less than the weekly output of the gold mines of this country. The New York Daily Indicator further points out the fact that the supply of gold in America has increased since July 1, 1879, the date of resumption of special payments, from $245,741,837 to $655,513, 666, Nov. 1, 1892. The folly of the gold scare is further seen from the fact that the United States government could at any time if it so desired issue $100,000,000 or $200,000,000 of bonds for sale in foreign countries for gold. The credit of this country is the best in the world, yet the gold scare manipulators are predicting exports of gold for to-day of $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 and prophesying disaster as a consequence.

The most encouraging feature of the financial situation is the decrease in debts, State and National. The great state of New York, for the first time in its history, is practically out of debt. The exports of the United States constantly exceed its imports, which means that we are rapidly paying off in commodities the debt of the nation held abroad. At the same time the income derived from customs duties and internal revenue is sufficient to pay all the expenses of the government. Industrially, the country is at its best. Even railroad stocks are paying good dividends. Mercantile and manufacturing corporations were never more prosperous.

The death of Jay Gould, which is announced just as we go to press, will no doubt have a strong bear influence on the stock market as affecting the securities of the various railroads in which Mr. Gould took such an active interest. Experience has shown that the death of a heavy stockholder in any great corporation usually throws a vast amount of stock on the market and thus tends to create a flurry in the interests of the bears, the inevitable result being to depress prices. The situation in Wall street is bad enough but will not be bettered by the death of Mr. Gould.

†Not included in totals.

The Far West is still the weak sister in the group of States. This is manifest on first glance at the table. An unbroken line of increasing percentages among the larger cities is seen until San Francisco comes in with a loss of 10.8 percent. Farther down, Tacoma and Los Angeles lose 34.4 and 15.1 percent respectively. These are sufficient to cause a net loss in the Far Western group, which is the only drawback to an otherwise uniform report of gains throughout the Union. The other cities showing decreases are Indianapolis and Lexington, of the Western group, and Atlanta, Ft. Worth, Waco and Birmingham of the Southern.

The clearing-house totals at New York are again satisfactory, after a considerable period of falling off as compared with last year. The increase this week of 5.4 percent is a remarkable gain for New York, considering the great volume of her clearings. As compared with the average gain at other points, however, this percentage is but little more than one-third the gain reported from the outside cities. From this it would appear that the average increase in the volume of clearings at cities outside of New York was nearly three times greater than the increase in New York itself. This has been the actual fact during a few weeks recently; but for the first nine months of the year, as shown by the table printed in the JOURNAL Oct. 29, the net increase at New York was 10.7 percent, while the net increase at all the cities was 10.0 percent, showing that the gain at outside points was proportionately less than the gain at New York City. If this proportionate increase holds good for the balance of the year, it will be found that New York has been steadily gaining on the other cities of the Union.

During the first nine months of the year, several of the larger cities showed increases exceeding that of New York. While New York increased 10.7 percent, Chicago increased 16.0 and Philadelphia, 15 7. Cincinnati gained 12.6 percent; Minneapolis, 25.8; Detroit, 13 2; Milwaukee, 11.9; Cleveland, 12.2; Omaha, 39.5; Denver, 19.4; St. Paul, 18.0; Columbus, 17.4; Memphis, 15.0; Washington, 14.6; Peoria, 13.2; Salt Lake City, 14.7; St. Joseph, 19 6; Springfield, 11.6; Sioux City, 12.8; Grand Rapids 13.0; Lincoln, 23.3, and Lexington, 11.4. The reader will see at once that these are almost all western cities, and that their percentage of increase is in many cases twice or three times as great as that of New York. If they continue to swell the volume of their clearings at the same rate, New York will soon have some formidable competitors among the cities of the west. These same cities this week show similarly large increases, which may be taken as an indication of the probable course of future returns.

The interior movement of staples in Canada, which we mentioned some weeks ago, still continues. At Halifax there was a decrease for the week of 21.0 percent; at Montreal there was an increase of 21.7 percent. This is a difference between the seaboard and interior of over 40 percent. It shows the great interior movement of trade, which is even more characteristic of Canada than the United States. This great volume of business is not confined to any narrow line of products, but it embraces all kinds of agricultural staples and manufactured goods. Live-stock receipts are heavy and grain shipments fair; cotton transactions are enormous; the flour output is 15 to 20 percent greater than last year; the cut of lumber for the week was 500,000,000 feet, the largest on record. There is no cessation of manufacturing on account of the season, even the woolen mills being kept busy. Cotton appears to have taken on a boom and cotton mills everywhere are active. Iron is in demand, especially for structural purposes. The volume of trade in every line is greater than in any previous year.

LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

This week has seen the close of another month and has been one of the dullest closing weeks on the stock exchange on record. The general bear tendency in Wall street, engendered largely by the fear of gold exports, has apparently found its way to the Chicago market and is influencing operators here who have hitherto been of a more hopeful mind. In sympathy with this feeling stocks have ruled dull and lower and fluctuations are limited. The fact is, there is very little short interest in the market and the usual stimulus afforded by shorts endeavoring to cover was wanting at the close of the month this week, while the general lack of confidence in some of the street railway stocks which have been active heretofore has increased the dullness in these securities. Some eastern buyers, also, who have been an important factor in the market are no longer active. In West Side railway, for instance, the Philadelphia investors who made things so interesting a few weeks ago are now indulging in a season of innocuous desuetude, much to the dissatisfaction of local bulls in the stock.

Just why the entire list of securities should be in a state of chronic depression at the present time does not appear. With the exception of the street railway stocks, the entire line is as low or lower than it has ever been before. Some of the more sanguine brokers, who are inclined to snatch victory from defeat, say that the bottom has been reached in present quotations and that the market can now move in only one direction—upward. This is a cheering view at least and is fairly well borne out by the circumstances. The investment demand for bonds is heavier than usual at this time of year. Evidently there is a large amount of money in the hands of the investing public seeking an outlet in profitable securities. That a continuation of the present business prosperity will bring about a general demand for stocks also, cannot be doubted; but just when this expected boom will materialize is wholly the subject of conjecture.

About the only stock that showed any activity on Monday was Street's Stable Car. The short interest in this stock is said to be responsible for much of this activity. Prices were held firm at 30¾ to 30¼ for the account. Later in the week the quotations dropped to 29¾.

The market for street railway stocks this week has been decidedly disappointing. The transactions throughout the entire week have been hardly sufficient to establish quotations. For instance, West Side stock sold only sixty-one shares on Thursday and but 500 on the day previous. This is simple stagnation for a stock that has but recently sold into the thousands on a single day. North Chicago stock was similarly inactive. This stock is practically not on the market, as it is an excellent investment security and is bought up as fast as it is offered. Not being subject to manipulation, there is but little fluctuation in its price. Chicago City Railway was scarcely mentioned during the week, but sold at 441 in one instance, which is a slight advance. Lake Street "L" sold up to 23⅝ and Alley Elevated at 85. Nothing definite is known about the Lake street road. So many rumors have been set afloat only to be denied later on that the investing public no longer pays any attention to them. The Alley road is improving rapidly. The prospects are that it will be a dividend payer in the not distant future. The road in its incomplete condition is now carrying about 35,000 passengers daily, and increasing. It is said that a daily average of 50,000 passengers would put the enterprise on a paying basis. At the present rate of increase this figure will be reached in about four months.

The Brewery stocks have been the object of much discussion during the week, and various theories have been advanced as to the cause of their tendency to sag. The Breweries afford an interesting study when compared with the Packing stocks, which, though by no means in as prosperous condition as the former, yet are in better favor among investors. In explanation of the reluctance with which the Brewery stocks are purchased it is said that the English management of the properties is not acceptable to American investors owing to the vast amount of red tape required to secure any insight into the actual condition of the corporation. The distrust thus engendered, it is claimed, has unduly depressed prices; while, as regards Packing and Provision, the confidence felt in the ultimate results under the present management is sufficient to keep up prices in spite of an unfavorable showing as to profits.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The present real estate market is considered dull when contrasted with the market of last year, and from this point of view it is dull, but it must be remembered that any comparison with that year would be dull by contrast. Our summary this week shows 790 sales for a total consideration of $2,635,795, while in the corresponding week of 1891 there were 644 sales with a consideration of $3,808,218. This is a falling off in the amount of about 30 per cent, but is an increase in the number of sales of over 22 per cent. Now let us turn to 1889, which was an "ordinary" year in real estate, and we shall find that the showing this year is not so bad after all. The total number of sales for the corresponding week in 1889 was 571, and the consideration $2,342,829. This is a gain for the present year of nearly 40 per cent in the number of sales and 12½ per cent in the amount of the consideration. A gain of 10 per cent a year in the amount of business in any line is considered a wonderful increase. The real estate business ought not to be considered any exception to this rule. The year 1891 was a phenomenal year. It is not to be compared with any other year so far as volume of business is concerned, and as we have just shown, figures taken from any other year look small when compared with the boom period of 1891. Compared with 1889, the week in 1891 was an increase of 62 per cent in the amount of the consideration. Compared with the corresponding week in 1892, the increase was only about 30 per cent. This, then, is not such a bad showing for the present year. The figures reveal the fact that the number of transfers is greater than either in 1889 or 1891. The sales are more numerous but for greatly reduced sums. It is evident that these small purchases are not for speculative purposes. Investments of from one to ten thousand dollars are not as a rule made on the strength of a speculative fever, but are the purchases of home buyers out of their small savings of years. We would denominate this, then, the home-buying period, and prophesy that the interest manifested in this way is of so healthful a character as to be a strengthening and preserving element in the market rather than a speculative and demoralizing one.

THE CITY GAINS VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

The week has witnessed the final settlement of the Pine Grove avenue land controversy, whereby the city becomes the owner of 1,200 feet of lake frontage in Lake View, with riparian rights. This property has been in the courts for a long time and the final adjudication in the matter will be of great interest to property-owners in the vicinity. The strip is 1,200 feet long by 600 feet wide and is variously estimated as worth from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000. The Sheridan drive will probably run through the property, and the decision of the court is on this account of further interest to the property owners of Lake View from the fact that if the contestants in the case had succeeded in establishing title to the property, the road would have to be extended by condemnation proceedings at a heavy cost. The litigants who are interested in the suit have taken an appeal to a higher court with the assistance of wealthy Eastern capitalists who are backing them.

CHICAGO INVESTORS WILL STAY AT HOME.

An item published last week gave some of our readers the impression that some heavy Chicago firms were about to leave this city and operate extensively in Milwaukee, Cleveland and other cities. Messrs. E. A. Cummings & Co. were cited as interested in a large subdivision at Milwaukee and other Chicago capitalists were said to have purchased 1,400 acres in Cleveland. In an interview with Mr. Cummings this week he expressed himself as full of faith in the future of Chicago and purposing to transact heavy business in the subdivision line here during the coming year. Mr. Cummings said that they were opening some half a dozen new subdivisions in various parts of the city and that they expected to do a large business in that line during the ensuing year.

SALE OF VALUABLE RESIDENCE PROPERTY IN OAK PARK.

The largest sale of unimproved residence property ever made in Oak Park has been completed this week, being the transfer of the old Aiken corner on Home avenue and Pleasant street to Mr. John Farson, the well-known banker. The property comprises 198 feet frontage on Pleasant and 225 on Home avenue. S. S. Beman owned the corner 132 feet on Home avenue which he sells for $13,830 and which he bought eighteen months ago for $10,250. The other 66 feet by 330 feet deep, is sold by C. E. Roe for $6,600, making a total of $20,430. This is the largest price ever paid for a residence lot in Oak Park. It is Mr. Farson's intention to erect on this corner a handsome residence for a permanent home.

SALE OF THE CHICAGO CRICKET GROUNDS.

The Chicago Cricket Club's grounds at Parkside have been sold to parties on the South Side for the sum of $54,000. The grounds will probably be cut up into building lots finally, although there is some reticence as to what may be done with them before they are disposed of in that way. There are eight acres in the tract and it is in a highly improved state. The Chicago Cricket Club spent about $20,000 in beautifying it, erecting the handsome club house that now stands before the cricket field, and constructing the fine quarter-mile bicycle track to the west of the house. The sale of the ground will practically put an end to the existence of the club itself, which has been an organization in Chicago since 1876.

ANOTHER LARGE OFFICE BUILDING CONTEMPLATED.

F. R. Otis, the owner of the lot fronting on Jackson street and lying between Dearborn street and Plymouth place, contemplates erecting an office building to cover the whole area. The ground is now occupied by a number of one-story frame structures. The lot is fifty feet deep on the two side streets and sixty-seven feet on Jackson street. The building to be erected will be temporary, only four stories high and will probably not cost more than $40,000. The fronts on the three streets will be of pressed brick, iron and glass. The first floor will consist of stores and the upper floors of offices to be furnished with exceptionally heavy vaults. It is the idea to have the building ready for the 1st of May.

THE TRIALS OF THE REAL ESTATE AGENT.

The confusion arising from the practice of real estate owners giving two or more agents authority to sell the same piece of property has done much to discourage brokers and hinder active trading. The number of well-meaning agents who have been imposed upon by the principals is legion. Some of these disappointed brokers have abandoned the field altogether and sought a livelihood in greener pastures or in other business while many of the more sturdy sort have resorted to the courts to enforce their claims. One or two of the judges who rendered unfavorable decisions to real estate agents, in cases before them, wherein the question of commissions was in dispute, has been retired by the voice of the people, and it is thought by many of the lawyers as by many prominent real estate agents, that the judges elect will construe the law governing agent and principal in a more liberal sense so as to allow agents to receive commissions in all cases where sales take place through their intervention when acting under authority from principals and not allow the owner by hook or crook to take the transaction wholly into his own hands, after the broker has spent much time and money in advertising property. The real estate agent has done much to bolster up prices and is perhaps as indispensable a factor in the real estate market as the lawyer is in the conduct of cases in the courts. Much of the good done to real estate by the newspapers and the railway companies was due to the indomitable zeal of the agents who paid the bills and planned the improvements.

NEW RAILWAY AND SEWER FIVE MILES LONG.

Few owners appreciate the fact that much is required besides holding the title to increase the value of land. Non-resident owners and large holders of valuable tracts are now standing in the way of improvements by fighting assessments in the northwest section of the city, leaving lot owners and subdividers who are willing to pay their proportion, in a helpless condition. The assessment for a sewer in Irving Park boulevard from the north branch of the Chicago river to the western boundary of the city, recently confirmed by the court, is an example. So urgent is the necessity for this improvement and so stubborn the resistance of non-resident owners and others that some of the land owners in the old town of Jefferson have joined with leading real estate agents operating in that section, in the organization of an improvement Association for the avowed purpose of forcing this improvement through and for the purpose of constructing an electric railway along said boulevard to the village of Dunning. These two improvements will when completed increase the value of property along the line fully 100 per cent., and cause that section of the city to increase in popuiation as rapidly as other favorite localities. Even now under the stimulus given by these preparations owners of lots in the vicinity of Dunning are refusing to sell their holdings at the figures maintained a few weeks ago. This will be a God-send to the people who own some of the highest and most beautiful land in all of Cook county, and on which they have paid taxes and lived for a generation. Through all of these years they have labored and waited in the hope that better transportation facilities and needed improvements would come. Things are now coming their way.

REMOVAL NOTICE.

The editorial and business departments of the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL have been removed to the 3rd floor of the Herald Bldg. at 154, 156 and 158 Washington street. The mechanical department of the JOURNAL will remain at the old stand, main floor of the Holt Bldg., at 163 and 165 Washington. The Herald Bldg. is perhaps the finest and the best equipped newspaper building in the world and is open day and night the year around; is heated throughout by steam and lighted brilliantly by electric lights which are placed in every room and in every nook and corner of the building. Subscribers of the JOURNAL are invited to call and look at our improvements. The facilities which have been provided will enable the publisher to improve the JOURNAL and meet the increased demands of its patrons. All letters and inquiries pertaining to the classified list of property "for sale" should be addressed to the new offices where the files will be kept. Over 3,500 real estate buyers will receive the JOURNAL this week, and the agents who patronize the lists may reasonably expect good returns.

THE TWENTY-SEVENTH WARD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION.

PROPERTY OWNERS ORGANIZE A RAILWAY COMPANY.

At Wednesday's meeting of the Twenty-seventh Ward Improvement Association, resolutions were passed as follows: That an ordinance be presented to the city council by Aldermen Conway and Hausen (members of the association) to build an electric railway on Elston avenue from its intersection with Milwaukee avenue northwesterly to the city limits and on Crawford avenue to the north branch of the Chicago river, and on Irving Park boulevard from Elston avenue west to the city limits; also a branch to run west on Lawrence avenue to Danforth street from its intersection with Elston avenue and thence northwesterly parallel with the C. & N. W. Ry tracks. The road will connect with the cable at Milwaukee and Clybourn avenues.

The membership of the association now numbers about 150 composed entirely of property owners who will build and operate the road. The report of the committee on sewers was read and accepted and the necessary steps were taken to push the Irving Park sewer which will extend from the north branch of the river to the western boundary of the city limits by requesting the committee to employ additional counsel to oppose objections filed in court against the assessment. The minutes of the meeting embody other resolutions bearing on other projected improvements in the twenty seventh ward, but a copy of the records could not be had in time for this issue.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The inability of the City Street Department to do anything, or rather its ability to do nothing, as revealed by recent investigations into the condition of public improvements, is astonishing. It appears that out of some 800 ordinances for street improvements passed with special reference to completion before the opening of the World's Fair, only about 200 have progressed so far that contracts have been let, and of these the greater portion are as yet untouched so far as actual work is concerned. Whatever the cause of this condition of affairs it is certainly discreditable to the city and should be remedied at the earliest possible moment.

The four-mile water tunnel is to be opened this week. Previous promises to turn on the water have been made so often, and as often broken, that little confidence in the outcome remains, but the additional supply to be obtained through the tunnel is certainly needed, and the purity of the water drawn from so great a distance from the shore will be a welcome improvement over the present doubtful quality of the liquid. In this connection it is interesting to note the growth of the water supply of a great city like Chicago. Old inhabitants can remember when the water was obtainod through a pipe lying on the bottom of the lake. The Chicago avenue water works and tunnel were projected and the construction of the tunnel and crib two miles out into the lake was thought to be one of the greatest engineering feats of the day. Still the water supply was not satisfactory. Guests at the hotels were wont to call for clean water in place of the cloudy liquid furnished them for bathing. Drinking the water was out of the question unless the glass was allowed to stand until the sediment had settled. This was the case not so many years ago. Within the last five years the Lake View tunnel has been projected and the four-mile tunnel off the lake front has been completed. To-day Chicago has a water supply greater and better than any other city on the continent and on a scale of magnificence not even dreamed of by early residents of the city.

The first blast of winter has brought to Chicago an epidemic of crime such as has not been experienced here in several years. Thieves and thugs appear to be fortifying themselves for the cold season at the expense of the community and it is hardly safe for anyone to go unarmed in certain quarters of the city or for the better residence sections to be unprotected by special police. The criminals are not noted crooks but petty thieves who operate in an unprofessional and bungling manner. They are for the most part saloon loafers and young toughs. The advice of Inspector Koch is timely. He warns business men to arm themselves and shoot down sandbaggers and robbers on sight. The extermination of a few of the villains would strike terror into the gang.

The plan proposed by Rothschild for the purchase of silver by the governments of the old world is not a solution of the silver difficulty at all and will be least of all acceptable to the United States. Silver, like any other metal, is simply a commodity, and any agreement to purchase it will merely tend to strengthen its value for the time being, without giving it any permanent standing as a money metal. What is needed is an international agreement for the establishment of a ratio of value between silver and gold and such an agreement must be elastic in order to make it of lasting value. The output of silver is so great and is increasing at such a rapid rate that any present ratio of value as compared with gold might not hold good in the future. On the other hand, the remonetization of silver might cause such a demand for the white metal as to raise its value considerably. The agreement, therefore, should provide for a readjustment of the coinage at convenient intervals on the basis of the actual gold value of silver. This, though difficult, could be provided for by the combined wisdom of the conference, and we would then have practically a bimetallic international currency founded on the rational basis of supply and demand, incapable of depreciation the world over, and a stimulus to international trade such as has never been known since the world began.

AGENTS' BUDGET.

Fessenden & High have just completed another sale in the choice residence district of the North Side. The property is transferred from Amanda F. Farlin to Lucy V. Jewett at a consideration of $38,000. It consists of lot 38x150 feet, with modern dwelling, being No. 467 North State street.

The southwest corner of Cottage Grove avenue and Twenty ninth street 75 by 120, was sold by William M. Knight to Bernard Smith for $52,000. The corner is improved with a four-story brick building, recently rearranged for flats with three stores on the ground floor. Another Cottage Grove avenue sale was that of improved property, 25 by 185 feet, 249 feet south of Forty-ninth street, west front, by J. Downy to J. D. Fitzgerald, for $6,200.

L. C. Paine Freer has leased to Ed. Baggot the property at 132 Fifth avenue for ninety-three and a half years from Nov. 1, 1889. The land has a frontage of 20 feet and a depth of 80. The annual rental for ten years is $2,000 and for the rest of the term $2,500.

W. F. O'Hearne & Co. report the following sales: The premises 31 Owasco street, two-story brick cottage, $2,000 for Richard Street; the premises 1086 Harrison street, two-story and basement brick house for the trustees of the Hopkins Academy of Hadley, Mass., $3,000; the premises 1048 West Van Buren street, brick flats for John Hawks, $3,600; the premises 1207 West Harrison street, frame cottage for Wm. W. Weber, $2,500; vacant lot on Ashland avenue for T. Flannagan, $1,200.

The Homestead Loan & Guaranty company is the name of a new organization which will loan money to persons desiring to buy or build houses and also will insure the lives of the borrowers, the cost of both loan and insurance to be paid in monthly installments.

V. H. Surghnor has returned from an extensive trip in Europe and is again ready for business at his office, 85 Dearborn street.

The JOURNAL is in possession of some important news which can not be divulged this week but which will appear in full in our next issue.

PRESENT VALUE OF ALUMINUM.

BUILDING PLANNED IN CHICAGO TO BE BUILT OF ALUMINUM.

Aluminum is slowly but surely finding its way into commercial and practical value. It has had the usual introduction, both of friends and critics, and has mercifully survived the cruelties of both, the one skinning it alive, and the other attempting its massacre by kindness. The fault has not been in the metal. The division of opinion has been with the users, who are not altogether of that primitive type. The science of metallurgy, though in itself as inexorable as arithmetic or gravitation, is as yet but fractionally understood, while in this, as in all other domains of industrial intelligence, there are alway scompetitive interests to handicap every new discovery or commercial enterprise. In the case of aluminum it has suffered from the two extremes, with the fact remaining like a rock after a deluge that the granite is intact when the mud is out of sight. No fictitious merit can survive practical tests and no misrepresentation can successfully ostracise any natnral product. Aluminum has its place in mineral economy, and its ultimate service will be determined without prejueice, not on what is said of it, but of what it is. In its practical uses, experience will be the jury. This is the final adjudicator and practically ignores all premature opinions. The merits and demerits of aluminum alloy composite are not only being canvassed but demonstrated, and while the intelligent uses of the pure metal or its alloys are necessarily progressive its definite and original qualities are primarily established. In lightness, strength and attractive finish, it is already a factor where such qualities are a special desideratum, with its deployment along the same lines increasing and continuous. In certain forms of marine architecture it is making remarkable headway with an outlook for more extensive service. In household and equipage, in surgical apparatus and artificial limbs, and in home and office decoration it has an already established service, and we note also later utilities in architecture. A building is reported as having been planned in Chicago, in which there will be no exterior exhibit of wood, stone or brick. The entire exterior, with the exception of the plate glass windows, is to be of aluminum, sheets of this silver-metal to cover the walls from the ground floor to a sixteen story eminence. This is certainly a new departure, with its success and attractiveness largely provisional, but whether complete or not in its results it is certainly an indication of what may yet be attempted and perhaps accomplished in the architectural uses of aluminum.—Aluminum Age.

AN ENTERPRISING FIRM.

The firm of Jerome P. Bowes & Co., 187 and 189 Dearborn street, is one of the most active of the younger real estate firms in the city. We say younger, but this firm is really only young in age and old in an experience of many years in the real estate business in Chicago. Mr. Bowes was for more than thirteen years the senior partner in the firm of J. P. Bowes & Co. This fall Mr. Bowes established his present offices in the Adams Express building near his former quarters. He now has an elegant and commodious suite of offices in the Adams Express building and is doing a business in real estate second to none in the city in the importance and number of the transactions involved.

SALE OF THE TAWANDA BUILDING.

The recent sale by this firm of the Tawanda Building at the southeast corner of Wabash avenue and Forty-fourth street for $100,000 is an example of the transactions negotiated by the house. The property in question has a frontage of eighty five feet on Wabash avenue and 161 feet on Forty-fourth street. The lot is entirely covered with a three-story flat building which was erected last spring by Mr. Bowes. Mr. Bowes has just sold the property to Frank A. Hecht for $100,000. The building is first-class in every particular and is valued in this sale at about $70,000. It contains twenty-seven apartments supplied with steam heat, electric lights and all the latest improvements. The rental is about $13,000 a year. The ground valuation in this sale is about $30,000, which represents about $2.20 a square foot or $353 for the Wabash avenue frontage of eighty-five feet. This can not be considered as establishing a ground valuation for other property in this vicinity, as the property in question is a corner and has an unusual depth. Elsewhere in this issue we print a picture of the Tawanda Building.

THE WINDSOR BEACH HOTEL

Is another enterprise by the firm of J. P. Bowes & Co., which bids fair to be a decided success. The Windsor Beach Hotel Company has leased 100 by 110 feet on the corner of Coles avenue and Seventy-fifth street for twenty-four months at a rental of $1,000 per year, with the privilege of eight more years at an annual rental of $800. On this ground they will erect a three-story frame building to contain 150 rooms. The hotel will be built in the most substantial manner, so that it may be used for fifty years after the Fair. It will cover the entire ground space of 100 by 110 feet and will be built in a hollow square with broad porches extending the entire length of both street frontages. The hotel is designed as it's name indicates for a beach hotel. It is only a block from one of the finest beaches on Lake Michigan, where boats and bathing suits are attainable at any time. Windsor Park is only a few blocks from the World's Fair grounds. Transportation to and from the grounds can be had by electric cars, which pass the hotel on Coles avenue every two minutes, and also by the Illinois Central trains, stopping at Windsor Park station every fifteen minutes. These trains run to the center of the city in thirty minutes. The location is the centre of the hotel district. The Windsor Beach will be a first-class European hotel with meals and service at moderate rates. The management will do all in their power to deal only with the very best of people, in order that the hotel may have an established reputation hereafter. Prices of rooms will be $1.00, $1,50 and $2.00 per day. The hotel company will be independent of the management, it having been decided to lease the hotel to a syndicate who will operate it during the Fair.

THE GRAND BOULEVARD LIVERY.

The firm of Jerome P. Bowes & Co. are also owners of the Grand Boulevard Livery building on Forty third street, near Grand boulevard. This is probably one of the finest livery buildings ever constructed in point of completeness and conveniences for practical stable work. It was built last year and covers an entire lot area of 50 by 140 feet; is a three-story and basement stone front structure having a capacity of 150 head of horses, with ample storage for carriages, etc., in the upper stories. The building contains every modern appliance, such as elevators, etc., plate glass front, and is a commodious and imposing structure.

SOME ELEGANT APARTMENT BUILDINGS.

A sketch of the firm of Jerome P. Bowes & Co. would not be complete without an allusion to the high quality of the apartment buildings which are being constructed under the supervision of this firm. One of these buildings is located on Prairie avenue, 100 feet north of Forty-sixth street, and covers a ground area of 50 by 65 feet. It is a three-story stone-front structure, containing six flats, 42 rooms, all modern, with steam, electric lights, etc., complete. Cost, $18,000. Another building is located on the northeast corner of Garfield boulevard and Prairie avenue; is 50 by 72 feet, four stories, with stone and marble front, elevator, etc. Cost, $26,000. This is an elegant structure. Both these buildings are to be finished in time for occupancy during the World's Fair, and they are both fair samples of superior construction under the management of the firm of Jerome P. Bowes & Co.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

RIGHT TO RETAIN FAMILY BURIAL PLACES.

New York Court of Appeals, Mitchell et al v. Thorne. Complainant, the father of plaintiffs, owned in common with his brothers and sisters a common farm, a small portion of which had been laid out as a burial place for relatives of the family and descendants. These tenants conveyed the premises by deed, with this reservation: "Excepting and reserving the right of interment in the ground laid off for that purpose in the land thereby conveyed, and also a right of way to the same to all the grantors of this deed, and to their heirs forever." In an action to restrain the present holders of the property from destroying the burial place, held: That the right to make such erections would carry with it the right to protect them, and this right descended to the heirs and successors of the grantors. Held, further, that the action to prevent the destruction of the burial place could be maintained, but for some defect in the pleading the case was reversed for furtherproceeding under his decision. The rights of the heirs of the grantors to protect the graves and monuments in the ground reserved, are not to be solely ascertained and limited by the rules defining the rights of heirs of persons buried in church yards and incorporated cemeteries, but must be ascertained from the words of the clause in the deed, aided by the general rules relating to burial places.

OWNERSHIP OF CEMETERY LOT WILL NOT AUTHORIZE EJECTMENT.

In Hancock v. McAvoy, decided in the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in October, 1892, it was held that a deed granting an exclusive right of interment in certain burial lots, to be held "for the uses and purposes of sepulture only," subject, however, to the rules, regulations and restrictions contained in the articles of a cemetery association, conveys not an interest in the soil, but merely an exclusive privilege to make interments in the lots in question; and that the grantee acquires no such interest or right of possession as will entitle him to maintain ejectment for the lots.

The Court said: The language of the deed evidently contemplates possession and general control of the cemetery grounds, etc., by the company. The grantee in the deed acquired no such interest in the lots, nor such right of possession as will support an action of ejectment. That action will not lie for a mere license, an incorporeal hereditament, nor for a mere right of way nor an easement; 6 Amer. & Eng. Enc. Law. 232; Adams Eject. 16. As was said in Black v. Hepburne, 2 Yeates, 333: 'Ejectment will only lie for things whereof possession may be delivered by the sheriff.' If a recovery in ejectment, founded on a mere right or license such as that acquired by the grantee in the deed above referred to, were permitted, how could the sheriff, under a writ of habere facias, put the plaintiff in possession, without interfering with the rights, powers and duties of the cemetery corporation?

ACTION TO QUIET TITLE MAY BE AMENDED.

Supreme Court of Nebraska; Homan et al v. Hellman. An action was brought by a party out of possession to quiet and confirm his title to real estate. In his answer the defendant made the objection that the action would not lie, and the court sustained the objection; therupon the court permitted the plaintiff, upon payment of all costs, to amend his petition to state a cause of action in ejectment. Held, no error. So long as the subject of the action remains substantially the same, an amendment may be permitted to adapt the relief to the facts relied upon for a recovery. A decree foreclosing a mortgage upon real estate is a final judgment, upon which the parties to the suit may rely; and any change therein and modification thereof without lawful notice, particularly after the term at which it was rendered is null and void.

MAXWELL, C. J.—In March, 1887. the defendant in error brought an action in the District Court of Douglas county against the plaintiffs in error to remove a cloud and quiet the title to the N. W. ¼ of the N. E. ¼ of section 34, township 16 N., of range 13 E, in Douglas county. An amended answer was filed by the defendants below, in which they alleged that the plaintiff below was not in possession of the land, and therefore could not maintain an action to quiet title, and the court so held. The plaintiff below thereupon asked leave to amend his petition so as to bring the action in ejectment. This leave was granted upon the payment of all costs, and this is the first error complained of. There was no error in permitting the amendment. It is true that, under the common law and chancery practice, such an amendment would not have been allowed, but under the code, so long as the identity of the subject of action remains substantially the same, the form of the remedy may be changed.

SALE OF PLATTED PROPERTY CONSTITUTES A DEDICATION.

Supreme Court of Rhode Island; Thaxter v. Turner. Held, that land platted into lots and sold is practically dedicated as to streets and alleys to the public. The Court said: The law seems to be well settled, where the owner of land divides it into house lots, streets and public places, for the purposes of sale, by having the same platted, and recording the plat in the office of the recorder of deeds, and then sells one or more of said lots, describing the same by a reference to said plat, that he thereby annexes to each lot sold a right of way in the platted streets delineated on said plat, which neither he nor his successors can afterward interrupt or control In Elliott, Roads & S. pp. 112, 113, this principle is laid down as follows: "It is not only those who buy land or lots abutting on a street or road laid out on a map or plat that have a right to insist upon the opening of the street or road, but where streets and roads are marked on a plat, and lots are bought and sold with reference to the plat or map, all who buy with reference to the general plan or scheme disclosed by the plat or map acquire a right in all the public ways designated thereon and may enforce the dedication."

"The plan or scheme indicated on the map or plat is regarded as a unity and it is presumed, as it well may be, that the public ways add value to all the lots embraced in the general scheme or plan. Certainly, as every one knows, lots with convenient cross streets are of more value than those without, and it is fair to presume that the original owner would not have donated land for public ways, unless it gave value to the lots." So, too, it is just to presume that the purchasers paid the added value, and the donor ought not, therefore, to be permitted to take it from them by revoking part of his dedication."

AUTHORITY OF AGENTS TO SELL PROPERTY.

Churchward v. Levy et al., Minnesota.

This was an action to enforce the performance of a contract for the conveyance of certain real estate, in which one John M. Lynch, assuming to act as the duly authorized agent of defendant Levy made and delivered in the name of Levy, to the plaintiff, a contract in writing for the sale of said land. Lynch received $150 in money on said contract paid by Smith & Taylor, real estate brokers, but no part of said $150 was ever paid to defendant Levy. The plaintiff was in the employ of Smith & Taylor who were the real parties in interest in said contract. Before the action was commenced Smith & Taylor tendered in plaintiff's name to the agent of Levy the sum of $5,350 and demanded a warranty deed in pursuance to the contract. Defendant never ratified or adopted said Lynch's acts in the premises in whole or in part. Judge Kelly, as a conclusion of law, ordered judgment for the defendant. The Judge said:

An agent must be authorized by writing before he can execute on behalf of his principal a valid contract affecting real estate. Assuming that to satisfy this requirement of our statute law, a telegram, transmitted and received, is to be regarded in the same light as an ordinary letter, it is plain from the letter dated January 3, 1892, from defendant Levy to John M. Lynch and the telegram dated January 13 from Lynch to Levy and a reply by wire dated January 14, Levy to Lynch, that Lynch was thereby constituted Levy's agent to sell the land in controversy for $6,000 net to Levy, part cash and part on time, upon the terms named in the letter. But Lynch failed to effect that sale and here his authority to sell ended.

PLANS BY ARCHITECTS.

Architect Alfred Smith, Kent building, is letting contracts for a hotel to be erected on Sixty-second street and Oglesby avenue for W. H. Stewart. It will be four stories and basement high, and have fronts of stone and pressed brick.

Architect F. D. Townsend, Home Insurance building, has made plans for a cold storage warehouse to be erected at 75-77 West Monroe street for Chapman Bros., publishers and printers, 71 West Monroe street. It will be seven stories high, 40x185, have pressed brick front; cost $80,000.

Architect Ira C, Saxe is getting out plans for a two-story store and flat building, 28x80 feet, to be erected on Monroe avenue, north of 55th street, for P. L. Hammond. The cost has not yet been determined upon, but the structure is to be of pressed brick and stone, with galvanized iron bay windows, the interior to be finished in oak.

Architect J. L. Silsbee is letting contracts for the powerhouse, 110x100 feet, to be erected for the Calumet Electric railway company. It will be of pressed brick and stone front, with iron roof, have steam heating, and electric light. The same architect has completed drawings for the building, 193x192 feet, to be constructed of staff and iron and cost about $100,000, for the Hagenbeck Geological Arena company, for erection on the Midway Plaisance. The same Architect has a handsome two-story, basement, and attic residence, 40x60 feet, to be erected at Evanston for J. L Tyffe. It will be of frame construction.

Architects Nicholson & Sandsgren, 204 Adams Express Building, have plans prepared for the following South side improvements: Double store and apartment building to be erected on 63rd street, near Cottage Grove avenue, four stories and basement high, 50x80, and a building of the same character on Cottage Grove avenue, near 63rd street, four stories and basement high, 25x94, for Clinton Rhodes. The buildings will have pressed brick fronts, with stone trimmings. They will cost $20,000 and $10,000 respectively. The same architects have also made plans for three residences to be erected on the South side for the same owner. They will be two stories and basement high, 50x63, with fronts of pressed brick and stone; cost, $12,500. The same architects have plans for two two story and basement, 40x60, stone front dwelling houses and three two-story and basement houses, 50x64, with pressed brick and stone fronts, to be erected on Wharton avenue, near 63rd street. The same architects have plans for a double store and apartment building now in course of construction on Cottage Grove avenue, between 45th and 46th streets, for James S. Garvin. It will be four stories and basement high, with pressed brick and stone front; cost, $25,000 The same architects have made plans and let contracts for six residences to be erected at Austin for W. D. Rowley. They will be two stories high, of various dimensions, built of frame.

Architects J. M. Van Osdel & Co. are letting contracts for an additional story to the Corbin Building on 51st street near Cottage Grove avenue. The structure is so arranged that the top story can be used as a dining room during the World's Fair, while the remainder of the building is used as a hotel, and subsequently as a cafe for the tenants when the building has been converted into an apartment house. The entire building cost $150,000, and the additional story will cost about $12,000.

Architect C. J. Warren is making plans for an office building, at northeast corner of Market and Quincy streets. It is to be built for L. Hartman, and will cover a ground space of 72x43 feet. The building will be but six stories high, but so constructed that stories may be added. Stone will be used in the first story, with brick and terra-cotta above. The erection of such a building in the center of the wholesale district will be considered somewhat in the light of an experiment. It is designed for occupancy by representatives of the wholesale trades. The estimated cost of the building is $150,000.

Architect Henry Ives Cobb is getting out plans for a new theatre to be erected in a locality not named. He is also negotiating with the theatrical firm of Rich & Harris, of Boston, who desire to secure a site for a fine building. In addition to these another theatrical firm will build if it cannot lease an outside theatre, to secure which negotiations are in progress. Evanston is to have a theatre, located in a hotel and theatre building. A playhouse is to be located on Washington avenue in Hyde Park. At Archer Avenue, near 18th street, another theatre is going up, while the Bohemian theatre at 18th and Alport streets is nearing completion. Add to these the Chinese theatre and no fewer than four projected for the West side, exclusive of one on Milwaukee avenue, and it is seen that this department of activity is not being neglected.

Architects Schlacks & Ottenheimer, 1535 Michigan avenue, are preparing plans for a Catholic school to be erected near Madison, Wis. It will be constructed of stone all around; cost, $12,000. The same architects have plans for a summer residence to be erected at Lake Como, Wis., for J. Parker Smith. It will be two stories and basement high, 25x34, built of frame and stone; cost, $8,000. The same architects have plans for a store and flat building to be erected on 52d and Halsted streets, for Joseph Oswald. It will be three stories and basement high, 25x58, have Roman brick front, with stone trimmings.

Aachitect John R. Scott is preparing plans for a three-story and basement apartment building, on Northeast corner of Drexel avenue and 54th place, for H. W. Snyder. The structure is 56x108 feet, pressed brick and stone trimming. He has also plans for a three-story double flat building, on Wabash avenue, near 60th street, for Col. L. Reed, to be buff pressed brick and terra-cotta trimming. Both buildings are to be erected at once.

Architect W. T. Lesher has taken bids, but has not let contracts yet, for a two-story office, 70x35, to be erected on 35th and Butler streets for the Consumer's Pure Ice Company. It will be of pressed brick and stone front, and cost $10,000. For A. Schaefer he is taking figures on a two-story addition to the building at Nos. 965 and 967 North Clark street, to cost about $15,000.

Architects Thomas & Rapp are closing contracts for a first-class apartment building, on northeast corner of Grand boulevard and 41st street, for W. D. McKey. The structure will be 50x160 feet, four stories, the first story of cut stone, and above of fine pressed brick and Pompeian terra-cotta and copper bays. The interior is to be finished in quartered oak throughout, and is to cost $60,000. Same architects have also made plans for three stories and flats, on Cottage Grove avenue and 41st street, for L. D. Carsewell, four stories, to cost $30,000; for two stores and flats, on 43rd street, near Prairie avenue, for Howard & Shearer, to cost $20,000; and for apartment house, on corner of Sheridan avenue and 62nd street, 100x160 feet, to cost $75,000.

Architect A. G. Lund, 314 63rd street, Englewood, is engaged on plans for a block of flats to be erected on Kimbark avenue, between 64th and 65th streets, for S. Domby, northeast corner Harvard and 73rd streets and others. It will cover 160x70 feet, be three stories high, and have a stone front; cost, $60,000. The same architect has made plans for a flat building to be erected on Morgan street, near 63rd, for Carlson & Hallgren, 6,908 Halsted street, who take figures themselves. It will be two stories high, 45x50 feet, with front of pressed brick and stone; cost, $10,000. The same architect has made plans for a flat building to be erected on Sangamon street, between 56th and 57th streets, for G. Johnson, 807 59th street. It will be two stories high, 24x49 feet, and have pressed brick front, with stone trimmings; cost, $5,000.

Architect F. H. Foster has plans for an apartment house, to cost $60,000, between Hoyne avenue and Leavitt street, on Washington boulevard, Geo. R. Allen and W. P. Pershing owners. The ground purchased by these gentlemen is 69x133 feet.

Architect J. E. O. Pridmore has plans for an apartment building for Orville P. Curran, of New York Life Insurance Co., on Michigan terrace, overlooking the lake and Illinois Central right of way, 115x110 feet, four stories and basement high. Marble from Italy will be used in all the entrances, vestibules and bath-rooms. Mahogany, oak and California redwood will be the finishing woods, with antique paneled wainscot in all dining-rooms and libraries. Native buff stone and Tiffany pink brick will be the materials.

Architect Robert Rae, Jr., Mallers Building, has let contracts for three residences to be erected at 4442 to 4446 Woodlawn avenue, for F. C. Berry, 46 East 43rd street. They will be three and two stories and basement high, 60x70 feet, have stone fronts; cost, $25,000. Also made plans for a flat building to be erected on Calumet avenue, near 43rd street, for W. J. Woods. It will be three stories and basement high, 25x65 feet, with pressed brick and stone front; cost, $12,000.

EPITOME OF NEW INDUSTRIES.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA—Washington—W. J. HOME-SEEKERS ATTENTION!

The United States Government has decided to open, November 22, 1892, for settlement under the homestead law, the unearned lands of the Marquette & Little Bay Du Noquet Railroad, heretofore reserved from entry, in Northern Michigan. At the same time the right of the Ontonagon & Brule River Railroad has been denied to a large tract of land in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. This gives an unprecedented chance to locate valuable timber and mineral lands, which are among the best in the Upper Peninsula, and are reached only over the North Star Route (Milwaukee & Northern Railroad) between Chicago and Lake Superior.

For further particulars address C. E. COLLINS, Land and Immigration Agent, 161 La Salle street, Chicago.

CHICAGO HEIGHTS!

THE GREAT MANUFACTURING AND BUSINESS CENTER.

Business and Residence Property For Sale at Extremely Low Prices and on Easy Terms.

DOLESE & SHEPARD, 162 Washington Street, Chicago,

HAVE BEEN AWARDED A CONTRACT AMOUNTING TO

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS

($170,000) for the purpose of macadamizing 17 miles of streets and building stone sidewalks.

NO ASSESSMENT will be made for the improvements, the Association assuming the entire expense. The wise and prudent people who invest a small amount of money in CHICAGO HEIGHTS property will in a comparatively short time reap large benefits. No sane person can question the wisdom of making an investment in Chicago property.

Four large factories are in full operation and contracts closed with several others. A large number of residences and business houses in course of construction, also an extensive factory building for Roth & Englehardt, Piano Manufacturers of New York.

STABILITY OF THE ENTERPRISE

The following well-known gentlemen are among the promoters of Chicago Heights:

The Marvel of the Musical World.
$30 worth of CHOICE MUSIC for $1.50.
The New York Musical Echo is quite a novelty in modern journalism, and affords a grand opportunity to musicians and music-loving people. It is a large quarto musical publication, published monthly, each number containing 24 full size pages of sheet music, the brightest, liviest and most popular selections of the day, both vocal and instrumental, together with a pretty cover, on which is a full page portrait of some beautiful actress for singer. The music and portrait changed with each issue.
A Year's Subscription to the New York Musical Echo is $1.50 (sample copies 15c.) and means 288 full size pages of sheet music and twelve fine portraits, making when bound one of the handsomest portfolios of the newest and nicest music ever published. We want our friends to be careful of each number as duplicate copies may soon be a thing of the past. Don't lose any of the pretty music we are publishing, so start from the December number. The American News Co., or any of the News Agencies will supply you, or order direct of us

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1892.

BUSINESS OF THE WEEK.

Speculative activity has been somewhat on the wane during the week. Various causes have combined to discourage stock investments and the New York stock market has been characterized by more than usual dullness, though prices have been maintained surprisingly well. The expected drop in Gould stock did not occur. While the death of Mr. Gould caused some slight apprehension as to the future of the properties controlled by him, yet his removal from the scene where he had always been a disturbing factor was cause for congratulation to many who feared his power; so that, taken altogether, his decease was not attended with serious consequences to Wall street.

In the volume of general trade the week has been a decided improvement over the previous week. The great demand for staple goods that had been reported for several months previous had begun to decrease, and in some localities the tardiness of winter had influenced business unfavorably, but now the general preparations for Christmas and the holidays have given additional volume to retail business everywhere. This is noticeably true of the West, where, until a week ago, dullness was complained of, but where now the purchases of merchandise are in excess of those of the East. This is readily seen from the fact that west-bound business on the railroads is heavier than east-bound. Many of the trunk lines from the East are carrying fifty cars a day more west-bound than east-bound. The purchasing power of the West is evidently on the increase. Some of the money made by the sale of the bountiful crops of 1891 and 1892 is being expended for eastern manufactures.

The international monetary conference at Brussels has thus far been without any positive result. The plan of Mr. Rothschild to purchase silver has been withdrawn, owing to the opposition of the American delegation and others. No definite action has been taken on the proposition of the American delegates to establish a bi-metallic standard, but it is thought the way is now clear for a full discussion of this and other plans Still there is but little faith in the country in the favorable outcome of the conference It is expected to adjourn within another week without important results. Yet we know that it is the unexpected that most frequently happens Meantime the uneasiness in monetary circles over gold shipments continues. This is a disposition to borrow trouble, as the prospect of gold going abroad is more dreaded than the actual shipments, which, compared with former years, are not alarming.

In this connection the report of Secretary of the Treasury, Foster, which was laid before Congress this week, has been read with interest. For the fiscal year ended June 30, 1892, the total receipts were $425,868,260. The expenditures for the same period were $415,953,806; leaving a surplus of $9,914,453. These are receipts of $32,675,972 less than the year preceding and a decrease in expenditure of $10,349,354. The available cash balance in the treasury at the close was $130,992,377, and the estimated surplus of expenditures over revenues for the current fiscal year is estimated at $2,000,000.

The feature of the report which most vitally concerns the country's finances is the recommendation of the Secretary with reference to the gold reserve. In view of the fact that large purchases of silver and the necessity of maintaining that metal at par have increased the responsibility of the gold reserve, Secretary Foster suggests that the reserve be incraesed from $100,000,000 to $125,000,000. This is an excellent suggestion. The part played by the gold scare annually in this country is to damage the commercial and speculative interests of the country far more than $25,000,000, and an extra reserve of that amount would be an excellent national investment.

The week in Wall street ended with a day of excitement in Western Union stock. With heavy transactions the prices advanced 8⅜ points above Thursday's final figures. The street was full of rumors. It has been understood ever since the death of Mr. Gould that changes in the control of Western Union were probable. It was believed that Mr. Gould's interest was not more than one-fiftieth and that it would be an easy matter for other interests to obtain control. It was reported on the street that J. Pierrepont Morgan had been in consultation with Messrs. George Gould and Sage, and it was believed that Drexel, Morgan & Co.'s interest would control the property. It is also reported that Mr. Morgan will succeed Mr. Gould as chairman of the board of directors. Application to list the stock in London will be renewed.

On the Chicago Board of Trade the provision market has been active and of a decidedly bull tendency all the week. One prominent short operator is said to have dropped some $50,000 on pork recently and the upward tendency all along the provision line shows no signs of abating. Yesterday the market opened strong and higher, Cudahy being a buyer of ribs at the start. The hog market was quoted early as opening higher, but later it was reported weak and lower. The second report caused some selling of provisions and there was quite a decline from the opening prices, but late in the session the clique brokers became active buyers and caused a reaction to above the closing figures of the previous day. Pork at the close was up 5c, lard from 5@10c and ribs 2½c. Hog receipts were 17,000 head, against estimates of 23,000 head.

The general tendency to an increase in the volume of bank clearings is manifest this week though not to so great an extent as in weeks immediately preceding. The leading cities show smaller increases and some which have heretofore shown gains now lose slightly. The larger cities all show gains, with the usual exception of San Francisco and an unexpected falling-off in Baltimore. This condition at the latter city is due to a quieter southern market for wholesale goods. Preparations are now being made throughout the entire South for the Christmas holidays and decorative and fancy goods for Christmas and New Years are in demand there to the exclusion of staple articles. This feature of the trade situation is probably of much more importance in the South than in the North. The people of the South are more given to lavish display of fireworks and ornamentations during the winter holidays than are the people of the North. We can readily see, then, how a diversion of trade from the regular channels into an extravagant and distracting side line should unfavorably affect the volume of general business. Still the reports from southern centres indicate that food staples are in demand and that collections are good except where the planters have suffered from short crops.

One important feature of the present situation both North and South is the activity of the cotton mills. A careful inquiry made recently develops the fact that none of the mills can finish the contracts they now have on hand before the middle of June and some of them have contracted for the entire year. Their supply of raw material, too, is abundant at low prices. Southern mills report good profits last year with the outlook such as to justify the expectation of large profits this year.

Both Minneapolis and St. Paul show a slight decrease this week, and both these cities report trade somewhat inactive and collections slow. It is said in explanation of this state of affairs that the farmers are not buying as promptly as they might be expected to under the large sales of grain recently made. The apparent disposition is to hold back the money paid them in anticipation of a greater need for it in the future and thus trade has been somewhat stagnant. Open weather has had much to do with this condition of affairs and a little severe winter will bring retail trade to the front.

The Southern and Far Western groups show decreases this week as usual. What occasions some surprise is the narrow margin of gain of the New England group. In looking over the cities of the table it will be noticed that many New England points have suffered losses. Boston, herself, gains only 3 percent; Providence, New Haven, Portland, Lowell and New Bedford all lose, the last two quite heavily. No definite information as to the cause of these declines has been obtainable but there is an evident heavy loss in the New England group.

The analysis by groups of States, is as follows:

LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

The week opened dull beyond all experience and closed as active as it opened dull. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday there seemed to be absolutely no buying orders whatever. On Thursday a flood of buying orders came in, and nearly every stock on the list took a jump. The cause of this influx of buying orders was not at first sight apparent, but it is probably due to the decreased demand for money and a consequently greater supply of the circulating medium, the surplus of which naturally seeks investment in stocks. A large number of buying orders coming in at once operates in two ways to raise the price of securities. The increased demand is of itself sufficient to create a bull movement, but this demand is augmented probably two fold by the speculative movement on the part of the brokers themselves which it immediately stimulates. Every experienced speculator knows that the time to buy is when stocks are at their lowest and the conditions are favorable for a rise; and that, per contra, the time to sell is when these stocks have been rising and seem to be at their zenith. Furthermore, he knows that when the public is in in full force prices will advance just so long as the outside interest continues and that innumerable opportunities for small profits will be presented which the professional operator can take advantage of. It is a safe maxim never to refuse a profit; and those who buy on a general advance and have sense enough to be satisfied with small gains, usually are able to close out their deals before the market begins to break. The secret of successful stock speculation is one which outside investors rarely master, but their investment purchases serve to set on foot a speculative movement which in its turn affects prices favorably.

Among the stocks on the Chicago exchange, American Strawboard and Diamond Match have attracted a large share of attention this week. Strawboard advanced early in the week to 82½. This was regarded as a sharp advance, but later in the week this stock sold at 83¼. Diamond Match was by far the most pyrotechnical stock on the list. On Monday it sold at 150 and was thought to be dear enough at that figure. On Thursday it had advanced to 161 and there was no stock on the market. Brokers were unable to fill their orders and every fresh offering of the stock brought higher figures.

West Chicago Street Railway opened Monday at 206¼. The transactions were very slow and only sufficient to establish a quotation. On Wednesday, West Chicago shot up to 209 and on Thursday to 214. It appears that the limit of depression was reached in this stock at the close of last week when it sold at 206¼. Though the stock is still the object of manipulation by parties on the inside, yet the unbounded faith in street railway securities in general and in West Side stock particular is sufficient to keep quotations on the rise. We have more than once called the attention of readers of the JOURNAL to the fact that West Side stock is not safe to handle at high figures. Some profits may be had in handling it while on a sharp upward movement like the present, but in the long run it pays to let all manipulated stocks alone.

North Side stock is in demand, with few selling orders. In sympathy with the general bull movement, North Side sold up from 266 to 270. There is no wire-pulling behind this stock and its value is all gold. Present holders are so well satisfied with it that they are holding on

City Railway is another sound stock which sells solely on its merits. The price remains at 445. Few transactions are reported at this figure. It is pretty generally known that the Chicago City Railway company owns a controlling interest in the Alley "L" road and this fact is a further strengthening factor in the market for City Railway.

The money market is decidedly easier and shows signs of still further ease in the near future. The return of funds from western centers where they were sent for use during harvesting has again created a plentiful supply at the local banks. Add to this the fact that the farmers are purchasing heavily in the East and are sending considerable sums eastward in payment of these purchases, and we readily see the conditions which combine to make currency plentiful and cheap in Chicago just now. The result is that bonds are in demand and that local stocks are beginning to show an advance in harmony with the general prosperity of the country. Yesterday West Chicago continued to advance and reached 216½. Straw Board went up to 85 and other stocks were in full sympathy.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

This has been comparatively an unimportant week so far as the record of sales would indicate. No large transactions in down-town realty have been reported but the volume of small sales continue to be of good proportions. The progress of a week is not always to be measured by the magnitude of its sales. Other circumstances are to be taken into consideration. Judged by the test of important measures and far-reaching legal decisions, the week has been one of vital importance to the real estate interests of the city.

Two sales of the week deserve more than a mention in the list of transfers. They are, the sale of the leasehold interest in the southeast corner of Wabash avenue and 35th street, west front, 75 by 153½ feet, by Wilbur F. Brink to E. J. McCollum, for $400 000; and the sale by Patrick A. Hines and wife to the Northern Steel Company, of a block of land fronting on the right of way of the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad. 370 feet east of Stony Island avenue, south front, being 433¾ by 627½ feet in area, including the buildings and all machinery. The consideration in this sale was $100,000. The deal was practically consummated last spring but the final arrangements were not completed until this week.

CENTRAL PROPERTY.

A prominent real estate firm on LaSalle street is negotiating the sale of a fee in central property at $100 per square foot. The members of this firm are sanguine in the belief that prices are not too high at such figures though several other leading houses think prices must fall a trifle before buyers will take hold. There are, it seems, great differences in central property values which appear to be established by recent sales rather than by anything like a uniform appraisement. Wherever there has been a recent transaction of note there the value is fixed and settled at that figure. One thing is certain, some of the best fees in Chicago, covered with old and inconvenient buildings inhabited by a poor class of tenants who pay a low rental, are passed almost unnoticed because they are not popular. To a man, well posted, up a tree there would seem to be a great many good bargains left untouched for years. The writer knows where there is a corner running south to an alley but of shallow depth, that has been watched for years by capitalists in vain. A lady living in the South holds the key to the situation because she owns an equal amount of ground adjoining. The two pieces together would form the best site for a magnificent office structure in the city, but the owner of the valuable corner, though a millionaire, is not enterprising enough to build nor will he buy the adjoining piece. If the two owners ever sell their fees, somebody will have to part with about $1,200,000. Now, had other rich men who have been watching this corner turned their attention to some of the opportunities presented on Washington, La Salle and Clark streets, these thoroughfares might even now outshine Dearborn street.

As soon as the LaSalle street firm closes the deal referred to above, real estate men will open their eyes too late.

EFFECT OF THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL DECISION.

The significance of the recent decision of the Supreme Court in the Illinois Central case as affecting real estate values along the Lake Front can scarcely be estimated at the present time. Michigan avenue has long suffered from the damaging presence of the railroad trains which obscure the view of the lake by day and make sleep impossible at night. It is now proposed to take measures to compel the Illinois Central railroad company to sink their tracks and in case that can be accomplished the lake front park is to be extended beyond the present shore line to the water's edge with suitable viaducts over the track, thus forming one of the finest lake parks in the world. What effect such a move would have on the values of Michigan avenue frontages can be better imagined than described.

INFLUENCE OF THE DECISION ON LAKE FRONT PROPERTY.

The Pine Street Land Association and the Lake Shore Drive Association, whose property interests in the reclaimed lands east of the shore line between Indiana and Oak streets, aggregate hundreds of thousands of dollars, claim that their title has been strengthened by the decision of the court.

"In the first place," said Mr. Parker, who is identified with the north shore improvement, "the decision sustains the city's interest in the property east of the Illinois Central right of way on the ground that the city never relinquished its riparian rights to the railroad corporation. The city owns the reclaimed land because it owns the riparian rights. The United States Government transferred its interests in that portion of the shore line where we are operating to the State. The State and city in turn deeded their rights over to the Lincoln Park Board. For the purpose of making the boulevard extension along the shore the property-owners turned over their riparian rights to the park board, all accretions to be used for park purposes. The park board establishes the line of the drive and we secure all rights in the submerged district in lieu of our transfer of riparian rights and payment of the expense of building the boulevard. There can be no question as to the title in the property between the old shore line and the new shore line as established by the drive. The interests of the land associations and of the Lincoln Park Board are identical. There is no possible interest in the land in question which has not been considered and quieted."

JUDICIAL SALES ON THE REAL ESTATE BOARD.

Among the judicial sales on the Real Estate Board were: The northeast corner of Pier street, having 322 feet front on the Illinois Central track, to Charles Fleishman for $60,000. Thirty-nine lots in Brayton's subdivision of lot 11, block 4, of the Blue Island Land company at Washington Heights, to Wm. B. Brayton for $7,055.64; Lot 13 block 1 in Henry Waller's subdivision of section 20 39 14, to Marcus Hatch for $15,030.50. Another sale of more than ordinary interest of a portion of a well known acre tract in the Jefferson district, one of the few acre tracts that still remain unsubdivided in the city limits. The land sold was within a small fraction of four acres, between Elston road Garden street and the Chicago and Northwestern tracks. It consisted of the north 3,926 acres of the south 6,464 acres of lot 4, in Richon & Borvenmaster's subdivision, for which $7,852. or at the rate of $2,000 per acre was paid. Ernst Melnes was the purchaser.

CLAIMS OF CAPTAIN STREETER PASSED UPON.

The long looked for decision in the Streeter case was made public this week by Judge Collins. Captain Streeter's bill claimed that he was wrecked several hundred feet from the shore and had filled in around his boat and up to the shore, and that the judgment obtained by Mr. Fairbank and on which the writ was issued was void on account of an alleged defect in the complaint. Fairbank's answer and affidavits showed that Streeter's boat was in fact wrecked on the shore at the foot of Superior street and hauled on to the land at that point by him; that he covered it over with a shanty top and it remained there several months when Streeter, and his wife became such a nuisance to the neighborhood that the city authorities ordered them off the street; that Streeter applied to Fairbank for permission to move his boat on Fairbank's land, which was just south of Superior street, saying that he was fixing it up and would go away as soon as he had put the boat in order, and that Fairbank gave him the permission; that afterward Streeter put Fairbank off from time to time with promises which he did not mean to keep, until finally Fairbank brought the suit in forcible detainer, in which he obtained judgment and under which he had the writ for the possession of the property.

In rendering his decision Judge Collins said:

The great trouble in this case is that, even if the complaint was absolutely worthless Mr. Streeter has not shown a single equity that a court could possibly take cognizance of. There is not an equitable thing presented here in this bill. I have sought in vain for anything. I cannot believe many things that his affidavit sets out. They are inherently improbable. But I have no doubt at all he drifted on to Superior street and stayed there a certain time; I have no doubt and I can have no doubt that he became Mr. Fairbank's tenant by sufferance—tenant at will. No rent is necessary; he simply had a license to go upon that land, and it does not make a bit of difference in this court or in a court of law whether Mr. Fairbank has any title to that property. His claim of title is conclusive and absolute as against Mr. Streeter. I do not see any escape from it at all. A man cannot dispute the title of his landlord, and he simply went in there as a tenant by sufferance and stayed there.

I shall vacate the order that was entered last June and deny the motion for a temporary injunction.

MEASURES PROPOSED BY THE REAL ESTATE BOARD.

The recent meeting of the Real Estate Board was well attended, as it was the last regular meeting of the year. The Board is taking a fresh hold on the interests of Chicago and has presented some resolutions relative to city government and the regulation of railroads which are commendable. The following resolution was introduced by E. A. Cummings.

Whereas, Many good citizens believe that the powers vested in the mayor and the city council by authority of the charter are inadequate for the proper government of the affairs of a city of the magnitude of Chicago, thus necessitating the amendment of our present charter; and

Whereas, the State Legislature is soon to convene:

Resolved, That the Public Service committee of this Board be and hereby is instructed to examine into the city charter and other State laws and to recommend to this Board such changes and amendments as it deems advisable and practicable, with a view of presenting the same for the action of the Legislature during the coming session. Such committee is hereby instructed and empowered to employ in such investigation the services of the attorney of the Board. It is further

Resolved, That the said committee be and is hereby instructed to consult the representatives of the city government, the different clubs and organizations, taxpayers and good citizens in general, and to report to this Board at as early a date as possible the result of its investigation with its recommendations.

Willis G. Jackson presented the following resolution:

Resolved that the Real Estate Board is in favor of the elevation of the railroad tracks within the city limits and that we are opposed to the building of any more viaducts as such building of viaducts has a tendency to postpone the elevation of the tracks which is now almost universally considered to be practical and for the best interest of the city.

The sentiment of the Board was strongly in favor of this resolution, but owing to considerations of public policy favoring the erection of some viaducts it was referred to the Public Service Committee.

VALUABLE LAND SECURED BY THE CANAL AND DOCK COMPANY.

The ownership of property valued at $400,000, lying between the Calumet river, Lake Michigan and 93rd street, was passed upon by Judge Horton in the suit brought by the heirs of Andreas Zerngible against the Calumet and Chicago Canal and Dock company.

Zerngible was a fisherman and came from Germany. He lived over the line in Indiana, several miles from the land in question. It is said that he was murdered in 1855 and was buried on the property involved in this case.

It is alleged by his heirs that he paid $160 for the land and inclosed it with a fence. The deed was never recorded and the evidence did not disclose the grantor. On the other hand the Calumet company showed a clear chain of title from the government. There were a large number of graves on the land, and it appears that it was used as a graveyard by the Indians before the white men located there.

Since the death of Zerngible none of his heirs have ever been in possession and they never leased any portion of the land.

The court held that the complainants were not entitled to the land under the alleged deed nor by reason of possession.

Wm. A Merigold & Co's Renting Department has leased the premises No. 3141 South Park avenue to Lillian Russell for the World's Fair term, at a rental of $250 per month.

The Illinois Central Case.

The decision of the United States Supreme Court in favor of the city of Chicago in its contest with the Illinois Central Railroad company for possession of the Lake Front, is considered one of the most important legal victories on record. The history of this case is full of interest. The first concession granted the Illinois Central was in 1852, when permission was granted the railroad to build tracks along the shore from Twenty-second street to any property it might own north of Randolph street, and that the company might use for its tracks a tract of land 300 feet wide lying 400 feet east of Michigan avenue. The land was under water at the time. This was done, and the submerged land filled in. In 1856 the city council allowed the railroad to fill in and use a triangular piece of land commencing at a point 700 feet south of Randolph street. In 1869 a law was passed giving the road the right to fill in the lake for one mile east of its right of way.

As payment for this land the Illinois Central offered the city an installment of $200,000, but the city council refused to take the money, saying that it would not do so until forced to by the courts. In 1873 the act of 1869 was repealed, and in 1874 the railroad company asked for and was given the $200,000 that it had offered the city. Suit was begun in 1880 by the city for the possession of the reclaimed lands. It was tried in the United States court before Judges Blodgett and Harlan, Melville W. Fuller acting for the city. Judge Harlan decided that the law of 1869, upon which the railroad based its claim, had been properly repealed, and that the company could claim no rights under it; the company had no claim to the submerged land south of Randolph street, and that all riparian rights belong to the state and to the city through the state.

On appeal to the United States Supreme Court, the decision of Justice Harlan is sustained with the following modification:

The order of the court directs a modification of the decree below so far as relates to certain piers heretofore constructed by the railroad company, the United States Supreme Court directing that a judicial investigation be made to determine whether piers one, two and three near Chicago river and the piers between Twelfth and Sixteenth streets are or are not within navigable waters. If within navigable waters, the railroad company is divested of its title to these piers. These piers were built in 1872, 1880 and 1881 and the investigation is to show whether they extend into the lake beyond the point of practical navigability, and if they do that much which extends too far is to be removed.

The dock and pier at Twelfth street are also involved in the investigation and are to be abated in the same manner if they extend too far. The conclusion of the court in full is as follows: "It follows from the views expressed that the State of Illinois is the owner in fee of the submerged lands constituting the bed of Lake Michigan, which the third section of the act of April 16, 1869, purported to grant to grant to the Illinois Central Railroad company, and that the act of April 15, 1879, repealing the same is valid and effective as far as those lands had not been occupied by wharves and structures completed by the railroad corporation before its passage."

EFFECT ON THE PUBLIC LIBRARY SITE.

The Trade and Labor assembly who are after a site for the labor temple claim that the decision will oust the Public Library from the Lake Front. Members of the former body threaten to fight for possession of the ground occupied by the Public Library building. It is the opinion of the Library Board that the agitation and threat are nothing more than a bluff. The whole matter was canvassed by the Board before the building was commenced, and all of the grounds west of Michigan ave are exempt from the Supreme Court decision. The Trade and Labor assembly would be compelled to put up a bond of $1,250,000. Besides the contractors of the building now in progress have some rights which could not be ignored. The Library Board are banking on possession as well as a legal title to the ground. Mr. Jno. G. Shortall, former president of the Board, says:

"The assembly need not entertain any hopes of securing the ground as neither the city nor the state can convert public property to private use. The erection of a labor temple would be converting the property to such purposes. The adjoining property-owners could and would enjoin such a proceeding. We carefully canvassed this matter for nine years and when we erected a fence around the inclosure we took possession and entrenched ourselves against blackmailers, for we heard rumors of such people being on the look-out."

CURRENT COMMENT.

With one accord, the press of this country have proceeded, during the past week, to abuse Jay Gould. The cause for this tirade appears to be the fact that Mr. Gould was immensely wealthy and had become so by stock speculation; it has been further alleged against Mr. Gould that he never endowed any colleges, or gave lavishly or ostentatiously to public charities. The average reader would infer from the numerous articles defamatory of this dead man that he was the worst criminal the country ever saw. So heinous is the crime of presuming to become the wealthiest man in the world.

So far as the facts are concerned, it seems that Mr. Gould was for many years an operator on the stock exchange on Wall street, and that while there he secured control of vast railroad systems and great corporate interests, like the Western Union Telegraph Company. His offense was that he was eminently successful. If he had failed in his speculations, we presume he would have been spoken of by the daily press as an unfortunate victim of Wall street brokers, a lamb who had been shorn, an honest man among thieves, etc., etc. Now every reasoning man knows that Mr. Gould was no worse nor no better than other men on Wall street who failed while he became rich, except that by his rare combination of energy, shrewdness and forcsight, he managed to make money while others lost it.

The real significance of the Supreme court decision in the Illinois Central case is that the people are above corporations and even State legislatures. There is no doubt that the Illinois legislature intended to grant and did grant to the Illinois Central Railroad company extraordinary rights in the Lake Front. If these rights had not been disturbed, no doubt the Illinois Central might have claimed the entire lake front basin and have proceeded to monopolize for all time to come the outer harbor. They would have been able to carry on their operations of filling up the lake to an indefinite extent and could have effectually prevented the city from making any improvements whatever of a permanent nature in the present harbor. Under the decision of the Supreme court, however, their supposed riparian rights are vested in the City of Chicago, and an investigation is ordered to discover what lands, if any, had been wrongfully appropriated by the railroad company. The high ground taken by the court is that the State is a trustee merely of the lands in its possession and can not by an irrevocable grant give away the property of the people to satisfy the greed of corporations.

The problem of street cleaning during the World's Fair year is one of the most serious questions to be considered by the city council. The streets of Chicago are now at their worst, and owing to the confusion of building and the tearing up of pavements by gas companies and others, it would be practically useless to attempt any general cleaning at the present time. But before the 1st of May next it will be necessary to put to work in the business district an army of street cleaners such as has never been seen here before. Every effort will be needed to provide for the comfort and health of the great throng of people who will visit the city during the Fair. The question is how shall the money necessary to this purpose be raised? Two plans naturally present themselves, special assessment and popular subscription. The former is manifestly unjust because it throws the entire burden on the property owners. The popular subscription plan is the better. Thousands of merchants are interested in having clean streets in front of their places of business, and would willingly pay a small sum annually to provide for this expense. Let the municipal reformers set on foot a street-cleaning subscription and they will have done something practical.

Indiana is taking the initiative in the matter of road improvement. The Indiana Road Congress, which has just closed its labors at Indianapolis, has taken steps to recommend to the legislature a new road law for passage at the coming session. This law is intended to provide for a complete system of roads by townships over the entire State, to be built in each township each year until all the roads are paved up to standard. In place of the present system of township road supervisors the work is to be carried on by a board of supervisors in each county and a county superintendent of roads. Taxes are to be levied on all property at a rate of not less than 25 nor more than 50 cents on the $100.

The announcement that the Chicago Real Estate Board was about to undertake some important and fundamental municipal reforms was greeted by the daily press with a spirit of semi-ridicule not in keeping with the dignity of the Board, or the importance of the work they are endeavoring to do. The Real Estate Board of this city probably represents as large an aggregation of invested wealth and as much intelligence in matters pertaining to city government as any similar organization in this country. That their influence in shaping the future policy of municipal government in this city will be lasting and beneficial cannot be doubted. The practical experience and active co-operation of prominent business men is just what is needed to make this city the best governed municipality in the world. The politics of the city have too long been left in the hands of political heelers and saloon loafers. Chicago, like many another large city, is suffering to-day from the effects of the demoralizing influence of this class of political bummers. What is needed is the help of such representative men as are found among the membeas of the Real Estate Board, to take hold of affairs and crush out and keep out the abuses which naturally arise in the sordidly political administration of every large city.

ALONG THE NORTH SHORE.

Property along the shore of Lake Michigan north of the city (see map in this issue) is attracting more than usual attention just at present owing to the high class of improvements that are being put in and the many fine residences projected or nearing completion. The movement towards securing rapid transit for this section of the city is being energetically pushed by some of the most influential property-owners and real estate firms in the city in the belief that with proper transportation facilities the north shore will be the favorite residence section of the city.

Lake View and Ravenswood, which a few years ago were considered outlying suburbs, are now populous parts of the city. Leaving the city limits at Edgewater, we enter Rogers Park. Thence through South Evanston to Evanston the improvements are continuous. Handsome residences on paved streets overlooking the lake indicate the character of the purchasers who are fast building up these suburbs. Beyond Evanston are Wilmette, Winnetka, Glencoe, Ravinia, Highland Park, Fort Sheridan, Lake Forest, Lake Bluff and Waukegan. The entire drive of thirty-six miles from Chicago to Waukegan is unsurpassed in this or any other country for varied picturesqueness of both land and lake scenery. Its most noticeable features are the high and rolling character of the land, and the heavy trees with which many portions of the lake shore are wooded.

The work of the North Shore Improvement Association has been largely confined to securing the active co-operation of residents of the various municipalities through which the road must pass. The Lincoln Park Commissioners control the drive from Elm street south of the Park, to Fifty-ninth street north of it. South of Elm street it is expected that the drive will be constructed by the property-owners and the commissioners. North of Fifty-ninth street it ceases to be the Lake Shore Road Drive, and becomes Sheridan Road. Through Rogers Park the drive runs along Evanston avenue. An assessment of $25,000 was levied, and the street was macadamized through the whole length of Rogers Park.

North of and adjoining Rogers Park is South Evanston, with nearly a mile and a half of lake shore. The drive continues northward on Evanston avenue through Calvary Cemetery along the lake shore to Rinn avenue, thence west one block to Arnold avenue, thence north to Lincoln avenue, thence west one block and north to the north line of South Evanston. About $40,000 has been expended in South Evanston in the extension of the drive.

In Evanston the drive runs along the shore to the university campus. Here it turns westward for about two blocks, thence north along the campus to Centre street; thence west on Centre street to Ridge avenue, thence north on Ridge avenue to the north line of the village. These improvements have cost the village of Evanston about $50,000. Thence north through Wilmette and Winnetka the drive is most picturesque. The elevation of the ground above the lake is from fifty to eighty feet, and the route followed takes the road up and down numerous slopes and along the sides of deep, heavily wooded ravines. The entire drive to Waukegan presents a series of pleasing surprises alternating beautiful landscape with charming lake views.

A portion of the return drive is along Ridge avenue, from North Evanston to Rosehill cemetery in Lake View. Ridge avenue is rightly named from the fact that it is on a plateau from forty to fifty feet above the lake.

HOMES ON MONTHLY PAYMENTS.

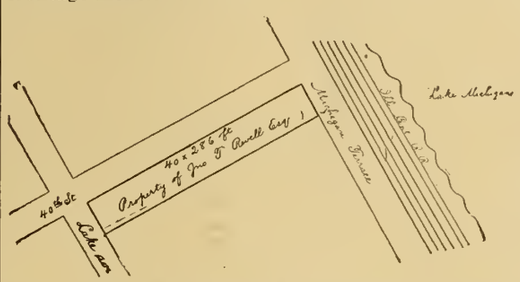
The Homestead Loan and Guaranty company has been organized for the purpose of loaning money upon mortgages of real estate, and especially to persons desiring to buy or build homes. To this class it offers unusual facilities to borrow at reasonable rates on long time, with the advantage of repaying by monthly or quarterly installments, and upon such conditions, that upon the death of the borrower, the mortgage shall be cancelled. Loans will be made on approved security for the term of ten years, to be repaid in monthly or quarterly installments during the term, and with liberal provisions against forfeiture, and for prepayment of the entire debt at any time, at the option of the borrower; thus facilitating transfers of the mortgaged property. The borrower may choose whether to pay by uniform installments throughout the term, or to pay a larger sum during the first year to be reduced year by year thereafter to about one-half this sum during the last year; the total payment being substantially the same in either case. No commissions will be charged by the company on loans of this character; but in case money is loaned for the purpose of building, the company will make a small charge for superintending the construction, keeping accounts of contracts and payments, and fire insurance. Full information concerning terms and rates will be furnished at the offices of the company. It is believed that the rates will be found very low as compared with those of loans made on the ordinary plans; and because of the regular reduction of the debt, the company can safely loan a larger amount, in proportion to the value of property, than is usually done. In addition to loans upon the installment plan, as described in the foregoing, the Homestead Loan and Guaranty company will make loans on improved property, and building loans, at current rates, without the life insurance protection which is made a special feature of the installment loans. The mortgage to be given by the borrower will provide that, in case of his death (except under certain circumstances to be specified) during the term of the loan, the balance of his debt then unpaid shall be discharged and his mortgage released. The consideration for this agreement is included in the installments to be paid, and is considerably less than the borrower would be required to pay in premiums in order to secure the same protection by means of ordinary life insurance.

AGENTS' BUDGET.

Bass, Kessler & Co report the sale of 48 lots in their Austin Park subdivision during the past month, for an average of $560 each. The Cicero Water and Gas Co. are erecting their plant at Austin Park to cost $ 00,000. They have pipes laid in Oak Park, Austin and Berwyn and when the plant is completed the three towns will have the use of both gas and electric lights. All of the houses built in Austin Park will have the use of electric lights.

W. W. Weare reports the sale of 120 lots in Morton Park for $42,000; also 30 lots in Morton Park for $9,000 and five houses and lots in Morton Park for $7,500. All of the above property was sold during the past ten days.

Louis A. Trapet & Co report the sale of the premises 7218-20 Wentworth avenue, in Eggleston, for $22,000; also a bunch of lots in Dauphin Park for $7 000; six lots in Trapet's Fullerton avenue addition for $2,400. Also twenty-two lots in their Orchard Ridge addition to South Harvey for $3,850.



ARCHITECTURAL VALUE OF WOOD.

The chief of the fire department of Manchester, England, holds wood in high estimation as a material in building construction. In stair cases he considers it far preferable to stone or iron, as less liable to be affected by fire than either of those materials so freely used in modern structures. He considers wood as the best constructive article in use as to its resistance to fire. Theatres, he thinks, should be built of wood and covered with asbestos paint, and the places of egress should be on the ascent and not by descending, as people, however terrified, never tumble over each other in climbing upwards. Mr. Savage, however, does not state what is to become of the crowd of refugees upon reaching the limit of ascent, which is of great importance when the theatre is isolated unless means are provided by which other buildings could be reached.

This opinion of a practical man should be reassuring to the people of San Francisco, whose tardy burning red-wood structures need only to be covered with this protective paint to make them almost impervious to fire, and enable them to escape that fate which has sooner or later, befallen the hastily constructed cities of our pioneers.—Insurance Journal.

SIX STORY APARTMENT HOUSE.

Half way between the centre of the city and the World's Fair grounds and on the line of the Illinois Central railroad, is a rectangular plat of ground having three street frontages and an unobstructed view of the lake. On this ground John T. Revell Esq., of the firm of Alexander H. Revell & Co., is about to erect one of the finest apartment buildings on the South side. The property is on the corner of Lake avenue and 40th street and fronts also on the new street called Michigan Terrace. It comprises practically an entire block, although only forty feet wide. The dimensions are 256 feet on Fortieth street, and forty feet on Lake avenue and Michigan Terrace. This gives a street frontage of 336 feet. The proposed apartment building will cover the entire ground and will thus have the advantage of the remarkable street frontage mentioned.

For an apartment building of the highest class, the location, within a block of Oakland station, on the Illinois Central and overlooking the lake, could not be improved upon. It is pre-eminently a residence district, and is built up so substantially and elegantly as to characterize it at once as one of the choicest residence districts in the city. It's accessibility to the centre of the city, by both the Illinois Central railroad and the cable trains is unsurpassed. It is also within easy reach of the World's Fair. The further fact that the property has an unobstructed view of the lake is much in its favor.

Mr. Revell bought this property some time ago for $20,000. This is a little over $71 a foot for the 40th street frontage and is very much below present values. Though not a resident of the South side, Mr. Revell has great faith in the future of property in that division of the city and he is about to give tangible proof of his confidence by putting a hundred thousand dollars or more into this new apartment building.

Plans now in the hands of the architects contemplate a building to cover the entire area of 40 by 256 feet and to be six stories high. It will be built of Tiffany pressed brick with stone trimmings, and will be a model of convenience and elegance. The exterior will be relieved by bay windows and projections, and the interior will contain thirty-six apartments, fitted with every modern improvement, such as gas ranges, electric lights, etc. The annexed engraving gives a very good idea of the ground plan. Three entrances are shown on the 40th street front and numerous light shafts are provided, so that there will not be a dark room in the building. The vestibules will be finished in mosaics and the interior woodwork will be oak and cherry. Three passenger elevators will be provided. The building is so planned that an unobstructed view of the lake can be obtained from each apartment. A dining room will furnish meals to those who do not care to do their own cooking; and the latest improved laundry appliances will be furnished. A janitor will be in constant attendance at the building, quarters having been provided for a resident janitor and a complete corps of assistants.

Mr. John T. Revell, the owner of the building, when seen by a representative of the JOURNAL, stated that he expects to begin work at once and that the building will be completed and ready for occupancy by May 15, 1893.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

CREATION AND REGULATION OF DRAINAGE DISTRICTS.

Supreme Court of Illinois; People v. Hornblazer et al. By the amendment of 1878 of the Constitution (Art. 4, Sec 31) there is granted to the Legislature full and unlimited power to authorize the formation of drainage districts, and such general grant carried with it by necessary implication all other powers necessary to make the grant effective. There is, therefore, no limitation upon the Legislature as to the mode of forming such districts, or as to the agencies to be employed in their creation.

When highway commissioners, who by virtue of their holding that office, exercise the special and added authority of drainage commissioners, their duties as drainage commissioners are separate and distinct from their duties as commissioners of highways.

The statute seems to contemplate that separate drainage districts may be formed in each township. But when a drainage district is organized and the owners of land not in such district, voluntarily connect with the drains of the districts, the statute contemplates that their lands, so far as benefited, shall be included in the district, to the end that they be required to bear their just proportion of the cost of drainage irrespective of whether the lands lie within the township in which the district was originally organized, or in some other town or county of the State.

The power of the Legislature to change and authorize the alteration of the boundaries of drainage districts, and extend the authority of the commissioners of the district, coextensive with the district as changed, can not be questioned.

The right of the drainage commissioners to make an order changing the boundaries of the districts so as to include additional lands, and their rights to classify and assess them, depends entirely upon the fact of connection of such lands with the ditches of the district, which the statute makes a voluntary consent to be annexed to the district and have their lands assessed.

RIGHTS OF CURTESY AND DOWER IN ILLINOIS.

Supreme Court of Illinois; McNeer v. McNeer et al. At common law, by virtue of the marriage alone, and without the birth of issue, the husband was seized of an estate during coverture in the lands held by his wife in fee. He was said to be seized of the freehold jure uxoris, and took the rents and profits during the joint lives of himself and wife. This estate terminated on the death of either the husband or wife.

A husband's marital estate at common law in his wife's land was such as might be sold in execution against him. It was a vested estate in him, and it was not competent for legislation, without his consent to take it from him and give it back to his wife.

A husband's estate jure uxoris in his wife's real estate, at common law in the birth of issue capable of inheriting, is changed in its character, and he becomes tenant by the curtesy initiate, and as such entitled to an estate in his wife's lands in his own right and for his own life

Four things at the common law are requisite to an estate by the curtesy:—lawful marriage, actual seizin of the wife, issue capable of inheriting and death of the wife. The first three constitutes tenancy by the curtesy initiate; on the death of the wife it became consummate. The estate by the curtesy initiate could be sold under execution against the husband. It is a vested estate of which the holder can not be deprived by subsequent legislation.

The married woman's act of 1861 had the effect of abolishing the estate known as the estate during coverture or tenancy by the marital right, but it did not destroy the estate of tenancy by the curtesy initiate; that estate was materially modified by the act. Under such act the husband as tenant by the curtesy had no control over his wife's lands. His interest as such tenant could not be conveyed by him, nor was it subject to execution. His estate became consummate only on the death of his wife seized of the property. It was liable to be defeated by her disposition by will.

Since the married woman's act of 1861, the husband has not had such an interest in his wife's land by the curtesy initiate as to amount to a vested interest. His interest is contingent until the death of his wife, and before her death, a law cutting off the estate by the curtesy, is valid and defeats the husband's estate or interest whatever it may be.

The right of dower, to which a married woman is entitled in her husband's real estate before his death, is not a vested interest, and may be changed by the Legislature at any time before the death of the husband.

A woman in 1858 became seized in fee of land. In 1868 she married and in 1870 a child was born of the marriage, and she died in 1878: Held, that her husband had no estate by the curtesy, but had the right only to dower in her lands.

LIABILITY FOR THE DEBT OF ANOTHER.

Supreme Court of Pennsylvania; Elkin v. Tinblin' Defendant Tinblin, while negotiating for the sale of his land, agreed to pay any judgments against Watts, a neighbor, whose lands adjoined Tinblin's, and were to be sold in the same transaction. The lands were sold and afterward there was discovered a judgment against Watts, which plaintiff was compelled to pay to save the property. Held, that defendant Tinblin was liable on his promise to pay the judgment against Watts. The defendant's promise, under the circumstances, was not without consideration, nor was it an undertaking to pay the debt of another and therefore void because not being in writing.

The defendant's promise, as thus established by the verdict, was not without consideration; nor was it an undertaking to pay the debt of another and therefore void because it was not in writing. He was, at least, interested in effecting the sale of Watt's undivided interest in the land, because the sale of his own interest depended on that. Plaintiff had agreed to buy both interests, but not either without the other. When he refused to close the transaction without being assured that Watt's interest was unincumbered, defendant, prompted by self-interest, made the promise on which plaintiff relied in accepting the deeds and paying the consideration money. There is no reason why he should not be bound by it. Instead of being a promise to pay the debt of another, within the meaning of the statute, it was essentially an original undertaking, to idemnify, etc., based on a sufficient consideration.

RIGHT TO RETAIN FAMILY BURIAL PLACES.

New York Court of Appeals, Mitchell et al v. Thorne. Complainant, the father of plaintiffs, owned in common with his brothers and sisters a common farm, a small portion of which had been laid out as a burial place for relatives of the family and descendants. These tenants conveyed the premises by deed, with this reservation: "Excepting and reserving the right of interment in the ground laid off for that purpose in the land thereby conveyed, and also a right of way to the same to all the grantors of this deed, and to their heirs forever." In an action to restrain the present holders of the property from destroying the burial place, held: That the right to make such erections would carry with it the right to protect them, and this right descended to the heirs and successors of the grantors. Held, further, that the action to prevent the destruction of the burial place could be maintained, but for some defect in the pleading the case was reversed for furtherproceeding under his decision. The rights of the heirs of the grantors to protect the graves and monuments in the ground reserved, are not to be solely ascertained and limited by the rules defining the rights of heirs of persons buried in church yards and incorporated cemeteries, but must be ascertained from the words of the clause in the deed, aided by the general rules relating to burial places.

A CHICAGO SUCCESS.

The firm of Alexander H. Revell & Co. in as example of a remarkably successful business career. Ten years ago this firm was in the furniture business on the corner of Lake street and Fifth avenue, on a scale in marked contrast to that of its present mammoth establishment, at the corner of Wabash avenue and Adams street. The business at the Randolph street corner was only a beginning; the present business of this firm, both in manufacturing and in wholesale and retail trade, is one of the most extensive in the United States, and their new store, in a building costing $300,000 and remodeled for their especial use at a cost of $60,000, is well worth a visit by anyone interested in elegant and substantial house, office and store furnishings.

PLANS BY ARCHITECTS.

Architects Snyder & Nothagel have completed the plans and are letting contracts for the Delaware, a new six-story hotel, at Nos: 1433 and 1437 Wabash avenue, by the Delaware Co., at a cost of $150,000. The charter for the company has been applied for by Thomas W. Cole, Parker N. Lewis, and John Barton Payne. The building will front 80 feet, with a depth of 171, giving a south exposure overlooking Grace Church and Libby Prison. Excavating is now under way. The building will contain 300 rooms above the ground floor. The Culpepper Co., composed of the same parties, is preparing plans for a building of the same construction, 50x160 feet, on Wabash avenue, east front, 230 feet north of Harmon Court, at a reported cost of $100,000. These two buildings will accommodate about 1,000 guests a day.

HOME-SEEKERS ATTENTION!

The United States Government has decided to open, November 22, 1892, for settlement under the homestead law, the unearned lands of the Marquette & Little Bay Du Noquet Railroad, heretofore reserved from entry, in Northern Michigan. At the same time the right of the Ontonagon & Brule River Railroad has been denied to a large tract of land in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. This gives an unprecedented chance to locate valuable timber and mineral lands, which are among the best in the Upper Peninsula, and are reached only over the North Star Route (Milwaukee & Northern Railroad) between Chicago and Lake Superior.

For further particulars address C. E. COLLINS, Land and Immigration Agent, 161 La Salle street Chicago.

CHICAGO HEIGHTS!

THE GREAT MANUFACTURING AND BUSINESS CENTER.

Business and Residence Property For Sale at Extremely Low Prices and on Easy Terms.

DOLESE & SHEPARD, 162 Washington Street, Chicago,
HAVE BEEN AWARDED A CONTRACT AMOUNTING TO

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS

($170,000) for the purpose of macadamizing 17 miles of streets and building stone sidewalks.

NO ASSESSMENT will be made for the improvements, the Association assuming the entire expense. The wise and prudent people who invest a small amount of money in CHICAGO HEIGHTS property will in a comparatively short time reap large benefits. No sane person can question the wisdom of making an investment in Chicago property.

Four large factories are in full operation and contracts closed with several others. A large number of residences and business houses in course of construction, also an extensive factory building for Roth & Englehardt, Piano Manufacturers of New York.

STABILITY OF THE ENTERPRISE

The following well-known gentlemen are among the promoters of Chicago Heights:

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company's 6,150 miles of road traverses a vast territory rich in all the resources that insure industrial success.

The Industrial Department is conversant with the Iron, Coal, Lumber and Tanbark, the Water-Power (both river and artesian) for factory and electric power purposes, the markets, the transportation and financial facilities, and other interests on the line pertaining to industrial development, and disseminates information concerning same.

A number of new factories has been induced to locate—largely through the instrumentality of this Company—at enterprising towns on its lines.

As the interest of the Company is to secure the location of industries at places where the surroundings will insure their permanent success, the information furnished a particular industry is pertinent and reliable.

In the Eastern States and in other parts of the world factories are so congested and distant from the actual markets as to result in fierce and destructive competition. That the West is taking a place as one of the great manufacturing territories of the world is forcibly impressing itself upon discerning and enterprising manufacturers. Steps should be taken by such while the field is as yet not fully covered, and while inducements are still being offered, to locate in the West.

Individuals or companies wishing to embark capital in Western industry can find a profitable field.

For particulars relative to industrial advantages on the line, address

Luis Jackson,

Industrial Commissioner, C., M. & St. P. Railway,

160 Adams St., CHICAGO, Ill.

The Marvel of the Musical World.

$30 worth of CHOICE MUSIC for $1.50.

The New York Musical Echo is quite a novelty in modern journalism, and affords a grand opportunity to musicians and music-loving people. It is a large quarto musical publication, published monthly, each number containing 24 full size pages of sheet music, the brightest, liviest and most popular selections of the day, both vocal and instrumental, together with a pretty cover, on which is a full page portrait of some beautiful actress for singer. The music and portrait changed with each issue.

A Year's Subscription to the New York Musical Echo is $1.50 (sample copies 15c.) and means 288 full size pages of sheet music and twelve fine portraits, making when bound one of the handsomest portfolios of the newest and nicest music ever published. We want our friends to be careful of each number as duplicate copies may soon be a thing of the past. Don't lose any of the pretty music we are publishing, so start from the December number. The American News Co., or any of the News Agencies will supply you, or order direct of us.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 17, 1892.

BUSINESS OF THE WEEK.

Two small clouds hover over the financial horizon. They are the fear of gold exports and the depreciation of silver. The one is imaginary rather than real; the other is an actual storm-cloud and is without the accompaniment of the usual silver lining. Gold exports are the favorite scare of the bear operator on the New York stock market. They always have been and probably always will be a club in his hands to beat down prices and demoralize the street at times when every other condition of trade is at its best. There is really nothing in it. The United States is a gold producing country, while most of the other European countries produce no gold at all. At the same time all the foreign countries are very much greater consumers of gold than we are. They not only use it largely in the arts and sciences but they are continually strengthening the gold reserves of their currency systems, and in order to do this they must get the gold from its source of supply—from the gold producing countries. They are enabled to get our gold, in spite of our favorable balance of trade, because they are heavy holders of our securities. It is no wonder that at times they prefer our gold to our railroad stocks. The wonder, which ought to be a source of self congratulation, is that we are able at all times to meet the demand of the entire European world for our gold, without seriously diminishing our own supply of the precious metal.

During the past five years, beginning Jan. 1, 1888, we have exported $149,624,445 more gold than we imported. This is an average of about $30,000,000 a year, which is fully $5,000,000 less than the total product of our mines annually above the amount used in the arts and sciences. At this rate we would be exporting only a little more than three-fourths of our gold product; but let us look back to the ten years previous to 1888 and see if we cannot forecast the future by the past. We find that in ten years, from 1878 to 1888, we gained gold heavily; so that on Jan. 1, 1888, our excess of imports over exports of the precious metal was $230,548,170. Subtract from this amount our excess of exports during the past five years, and we still have a gain of $80,923,725 as the result of the shipments of the past fifteen years, besides retaining the entire output of our mines for that period. That output is estimated at $550,000,000 and probably represents the real strength of the gold situation in this country. That there is nothing at all to fear from gold exports is evident; and it is further evident that every indication points to the probability of gold imports at no distant day.

The silver question presents a different aspect. The failure of the International Monetary Congress at Brussels to take any definite measure for the preservation of silver values has already had a marked effect on the silver market. It is evident that something must be done to prevent depreciation of silver currency. The present enormous output of the mines can not be taken care of by the United States alone. The purchases of silver now made annually by the government have no apparent effect in bolstering up the price of the metal, but on the other hand they are a direct menace to the stability of our currency—a menace which must be removed. It is probable that the present silver measure will be repealed.

The general business situation, however, is no longer reflected by the gold movement or the silver agitation. The great volume of trade of the year continues, though the predominant feature of the month is the holiday trade. The demand for Christmas goods of all kinds is unsurpassed. Every section of the country seems to share alike in this evidence of general prosperity.

Though cast-bound shipments have shown a falling off, the loss is made good by the gain in the westbound. The people of the west are still buying heavily in eastern markets.

Only eight of the sixty-six cities in which comparisons are made with last year show decreases. In this respect this is the most remarkable week of the year. The cities which have lost ground during the week are: Baltimore, 2.7 percent; Richmond, 6.7; Atlanta, 30.0; Waco, 3.5; Norfolk, 19.6; Los Angeles, 17.4; Savannah, 8 6, and Halifax 12.9. These are all southern cities except Los Angeles and Halifax. The decrease in the Far Western city is in keeping with the tendency at that point for a year or more. Boom towns have their periods of depression corresponding to their unnatural inflation periods. This evening-up process has been going on in Los Angeles, and in fact all along the Pacific coast, for some time, and it is now hoped that the reverse side of the picture will begin to show itself. Local causes are thought to be responsible for the decreases shown in southern cities this week. The South as a whole is decidedly improved both in the volume and tone of its trade. The recent activity in cotton has given an impetus to all kinds of business. Sugar also is in good demand. Holiday trade is particularly brisk. At New Orleans an increase in the volume of bank clearings of 20 8 percent is noticed. This is due to general commercial activity and not to the cotton movement, though the latter has shown marked improvement over preceding weeks. As compared with last year, however, the decrease in the cotton movement for the first 100 days of the season, say from Sept. 1 to Dec. 9 inclusive is 1,357,818 bales. The supply of cotton to date is 4,479,705 bales against 5,582 948 for the same period last year.

The increase in the volume of clearings at New York City is greater this week than for many months past. This is in part due to the strengthening of stocks in Wall street following Jay Gould's death. The apprehensions that were felt in view of the possibility that the large holdings belonging to his estate might be thrown suddenly on the market have been effectually dissipated. The gold scare also was postponed long enough to cause stocks to rise and permit a volume of trading not expected at the close of the previous week.

The increase at Chicago of 26.5 percent is in keeping with the figures of previous weeks. A still greater volume of wholesale trade would have been recorded had it not been for the fact that mild weather has held back the demand from the tributary territory. The cattle and packing interests are especially active in Chicago. This is manifest in the sharp demand for money by packers which is sufficient to keep up the rate above the usual holiday figure. Cattle receipts at Chicago in November were the largest ever known in that month, and for the year have been 10 percent greater than last year.

Boston's clearings increase 17.5 percent. This is owing to the great demand and higher prices for cotton goods. The output of the mills has been the largest for years and they are engaged in many instances for a year ahead. Shipments of boots and shoes, too, are larger than last year, and although it is now "between seasons," boot and shoe makers have all they can do. The increase over last year in this line is about 7 percent.

The uniformity of the increase is shown in the totals. The grand total increases 18 3 percent and the total excluding New York, 18.7 percent. The Canadian total increases 14.1 percent. Thus no one section of the country has prospered at the expense of another.

The analysis by groups of States, is as follows:

	WEEK ENDING DEC 8, 1892.	WEEK ENDING DEC. 10, 1891.	PERCENTAGE.
New Engl'd States.	$ 131,063,504	$111,580,666	Inc 17.4
Middle "	957,699,476	802,509,828	" 19.3
Southern "	58,832,093	55,536 822	" 6.0
Western "	51,987,955	44,386,952	" 17.1
Northwestern "	167,595,591	136,892,428	" 22.4
Southwestern "	52,689,907	45,145,996	" 16.7
Far Western "	30,694,346	28,512,232	Inc 7.7
Totals	$1,450,562,872	$1,224,364,924

The Northwestern group, containing Chicago, is still the champion group so far as increase is concerned; and the Middle, containing New York, is a close second. Then come the New England, the Western and the Southwestern, with the Southern and Far Western some distance behind. The noticeable feature of the week is that every group shows an increase. It is not often that we can record a week of so general and unbroken prosperity.

LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

The Chicago stock market is as fickle as the weather. Opening Monday with unusually high prices and exceptional activity, the market fell off sharply on Tuesday and continued to sag all the rest of the week. The trading on Monday was phenomenal. The total number of shares sold was 10,774, a number never before but once exceeded on any single day in the history of the exchange. The brewery stocks led. Milwaukee & Chicago sold nearly 5,000 shares at prices for the account ranging from 35½ to 36½ for the common and at 45 to 45½ for the preferred. Chicago Brewing and Malting sold at 39⅝ for the account. The breweries are thought to be the strongest stocks on the exchange at the present time. No beer war is imminent and the earnings of the company are said to be enormous. It is thought that the breweries will profit especially by the World's Fair and this prospect still further influences prices in their upward tendency. With all the demand on Monday the price of Milwaukee and Chicago ought to have risen much higher than it did. The trouble was that offerings were nearly as numerous as bids and stock was brought out as fast as it was purchased. Still the tendency is strong for a rise. In sympathy with the other stocks and under the influence of repeated offerings from some unknown source, the brewery stocks sagged somewhat later in the week. The supply of stock is a mystery. English holders may be selling, and this uncertainty, together with the general distrust of all English management, is a powerful bear influence.

American Strawboard, which sold at 91¾ on Monday, fell off later to 85. This is decidedly the heaviest stock on the list. It is said that the present low prices are the direct result of some heavy manipulation on the part of insiders who have been engineering a boom. For a time the stock soared under the influence of mysterious tips of some favorable feature which would soon raise the security above par. So long as the fiction was swallowed it had the desired effect, but when investors ceased to take the medicine there was a relapse. The reputation as well as the price of any stock is likely to suffer from such operations.

The Street Railway stocks remained dormant until Thursday when they began soaring again. This time it was the usually staid and conservative North Side stock that became suddenly buoyant. The cause was traced to a story ingeniously circulated to the effect that the January dividend would be increased to 12 per cent. So far as is known, there is absolutely no foundation for such a report except rumor, but nevertheless it was sufficient to make a regular toboggan slide of North Side stock all day long. The ascent of the slide in the morning starting at 273¾ reached the altitude of 280 regular but slid down again in the afternoon to 276½, where it remained. West Side stock was sympathetically affected but fell off later in the day to 1½ points lower than the opening.

Two announcements of a probable increase of stock have attracted considerable attention this week. The stockholders of the West Side Street Railway company will be called upon to vote at the annual meeting in January on a proposed increase of the capital stock conjected to be $2,000,000. It is expected that a circular embodying the main facts in the case will be issued by the president of the company, Mr. Yerkes, shortly. It is claimed that this extraordinary issue of new stock is justified on the ground that the purchase of several hundred cars and other expense of new equipment requires additional revenue. This sounds well but will hardly bear investigation.

The stockholders of Diamond Match have received a circular containing the announcement that the directors of that company had passed a resolution to submit a proposition for increasing the stock $1,500,000. It is proposed to allow the stockholders to subscribe to $750,000 of the new stock at par, and to distribute the other $750,000 as a stock dividend representing a portion of the company's accumulated surplus. This announcement has had no visible effect on the market. It is thought that the effect of the news was taken advantage of by parties on the inside before it was given out.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The real strength of the market is best seen in the demand for central business property for investment purposes. An ingenious attempt has been made in certain quarters to discredit present down-town values and to arouse a fear that prices are being pushed too high for this class of property. The attempt is already a failure, as will be any gloomy prognostication which is based on the possibility of panics or reactions in prices of such a commodity as central business property in Chicago. The fact is business property in this city has only just begun to show what its real possibilities are. In a time when speculation is absolutely dead and speculative property is difficult to dispose of at any price, we find down-town holdings selling at higher prices than ever before known in the history of the city—so high that the professional croakers are predicting a retrograde movement because prices have been forced, they say, beyond their normal value. We fail to see how it is possible at such a time as this to boom prices of any kind of real estate, much less of the most valuable and costly frontages. The simple truth is, Chicago is rapidly outgrowing her business area. The majority of her citizens can remember when La Salle street was an unknown quantity south of Adams street and the present site of the Board of Trade building was a swamp. Dearborn street was unopened below Jackson street, and the great manufacturing district now extending from Jackson to Polk streets was impassable. At that time long faced people predicted that property in that section would never be of any value for business purposes. They based their judgment on the fact that it was too far south. Now we see large wholesale and retail establishments extending all the way to Twenty-second street, and on the corner of State and Van Buren streets, where a few years ago a retail store could not earn an existence we see one the largest and finest retail stores on the continent. What does this marvelous development mean? It means that Chicago is rapidly outgrowing its south side business district and demands more room. It means also that prices of down-town holdings are on the rapid increase. Shrewd real estate men and retail merchants have seen this movement for years. Many of them have provided against it by purchasing valuable corner sites, so that now it is difficult to secure an available corner for a large retail store at any price. Others have established themselves on the west or south sides at a distance from commercial center. Whether this is a good policy or not remains to be seen, but certain it is that it will become more and more a necessity as the city grows. In New York the retail district extends all the way from the battery to Twenty-eighth street and beyond. Prices of down-town property there have become practically prohibitive, and the same tendency prevails in Chicago. But present purchasers will see their property increase in value very largely before the end is reached.

IMPORTANT WABASH AVENUE SALE.

BUSINESS PROPERTY IN THE WHOLESALE DISTRICT SOLD FOR LESS THAN $1,200 A FOOT.

Negotiations for the sale of the property at Nos. 23, 25 and 27 Wabash avenue are well under way and it is expected that the deal will be formally closed next week. W. A. Merigold & Co. have the matter in charge and are acting in behalf of the present owner of the property, Mr. Albert Crane, of 116 Monroe street. The property fronts 77 feet on Wabash avenue and the price named is $90,000. This is about $1,170 a foot for the Wabash avenue frontage and is considered remarkably cheap for property in that vicinity. The location is in the heart of the wholesale district. It is said that the purchasers intend to improve the property with a substantial and modern building with elevators and all modern improvements especially suitable for wholesale business. At the price named, they are regarded as having secured a bargain.

STOCK EXCHANGE SECURES A PERMANENT HOME.

The Chicago Stock Exchange has had an experience in keeping with the conditions outlined above in their efforts to secure a home of their own. The members of the Exchange have not been satisfied with their quarters for some time. Last spring it was decided that the exchange was in a condition to erect its own building. Negotiations were opened for long term leases of several sites, but members soon realized that they could secure a home most advantageously as tenants. When the Western Union company bought the Phenix Block negotiations between the Exchange Committee on Site and the representatives of the Peck estate were opened. The estate proposed to lease to the Exchange for a long term and their proposal will be accepted.

The Exchange will be given a large ground floor room extending up through two stories. It will have two entrances, one from Washington and one from La Salle streets. The court of the building will be above the room leased to the Exchange, which will have a glass roof.

The new building will be valued, including the land, at about $3,000,000. It will cover 100 by 180 feet and will be called the Stock Exchange Building. The Peck estate owns the corner lot, 100 feet square on which stands the building now occupied by the Western Union Telegraph company. It holds an option of a ninety-nine year lease of the property adjoining on La Salle street, covered by the Mercantile Building and owned by Wm A. Fuller. These two properties combined will give a ground area of 18 000 square feet. The Peck estate has a permit for a high building on the corner and probably will have no difficulty in extending this over the Fuller annex. The structure will be one of the best equipped in the city. It will not, however, be ready for occupancy by the Exchange until May 1, 1894.

THE NATIONAL REAL ESTATE ASSOCIATION

MEMBERS WILL HONOR THEIR PRESIDENT.

The Board of Control of the National Real Estate Association, composed of the members from the various States represented in the Association, will hold their annual meeting in Chicago to-day at the Real Estate Board rooms. In the evening a banquet will be tendered the President of the Association, Wm. B. Cutter of Buffalo, and to the various members of the Board of Control. This Banquet will be given by the Chicago members of the National Real Estate Association. The following gentlemen compose the Committee on Arrangements for the banquet: Jay Dwiggins, Chairman; J. L. Lombard, E. S. Dreyor, H. L. Turner, Malcolm McNeill, H. B. F. Odell, A. Schubert and O. W. Crawford. The banquet will be given at the Wellington hotel, at 6:30 Saturday evening. Jay Dwiggins will be toastmaster and Col. Henry L. Turner, E S. Dreyer and other prominent Chicagoians will speak. Covers will be laid for forty. The Tomaso Mandolin Orchestra will render selections during the serving of the dinner.

ANOTHER SKY-SCRAPER PROJECTED.

Lazarus Silverman, the rich banker on Dearborn street, is something of a schemer. Besides being one of the projectors or promoters of an electric railway in the northwest section of the city and county, he has taken the first step toward the construction of a mammoth office building, thirteen stories high, to be located within two years at 259 and 261 Dearborn street, opposite the Monadnock. The structure will be 75x71 feet, 150 feet high and will cost $300,000. It is understood that work will not be begun upon this giant structure for some time to come, possibly two years. The permit has been secured only for the purpose of accommodating certain conditions in the transfer of adjacent property.

CHICAGO'S BUILDING RECORD.

The following table compiled from the records of the building department shows the number of buildings, frontage and cost for each division of the city during the month of November, 1892.

STATE AND RAILROAD LAND SALES.

The statistics of debt incurred by purchasers of lands from states and railroads during the past ten years, as issued by the Extra Census Bulletin No. 28, are full of interest. Though the public domain is no longer sold to settlers on credit, yet lands granted to States and railroads by the United States are so sold. The Census Bureau has investigated the sales of such lands in ten States. It has been found that some of the States and many railroad companies, during the 10 years 1880-1889, have sold land on credit by an instrument in the nature of a bond for a deed, with obligation to give a full title in fee simple upon receipt of the final installment of the purchase price, the purchaser in the meantime being allowed to take possession of the land. These instruments are generally on record nowhere but in the office of some state officer and in the offices of the railroad companies, and upon investigation it has been found that ten States that have made sales of this sort have the sole record of these contracts at their capitals, and that 56 railroad companies and railroad land companies have made these sales which have no record but in their own offices. The ten States are California, Colorado, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, Oregon, Texas, and Wisconsin. The States and Territories in which railroad companies have sold land in the manner referred to number 26 and are Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California. Colorado. Florida, Idaho Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada. New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Washington, Wisconsin.

All of the land thus disposed of was once owned by the United States and was subsequently granted to States or railroad companies, and much of it, still later, by States to railroad companies, except that in Texas no public land has ever been owned by the United States beyond the little that has been acquired for the uses of the national debt.

The debt incurred by purchasers from 10 States under such contracts, during the 10 years 1880-1889, was $30,625,270; from 56 railroad companies in 26 States, $88,143,769; total, $118,769,039. This business was represented by 61,009 contracts with States and 186,469 contracts with railroad companies; total, 247,478 contracts.

Under the credit sales of land made by the 10 States during the ten years and previously there exists a debt of $26,462,223. Of this, $9,613,987 is owing to Texas, $6,409,551 to Minnesota, $3,886,047 to Nebraska, $3,667,735 to Kansas, and $1,000,920 to California. Under the credit sales made by the 56 railroad companies there survives a debt of $31,102,433, and the debt owing to States and railroad companies under these contracts aggregates $57,564,656. The interest charge for 1 year on the debt owing to States amounts to $1,658,198; on the debt owing to railroad companies, $2,165,355; total, $3,823,553.

These credit sales have been made mostly to actual settlers and the debt incurred under them was entirely to secure the purchase price of land or a part thereof. When the statistics were obtained from States and railroad companies the attempt was made to avoid the duplication of purchasers, and as far as possible two or more sales made to the same individual were counted as one sale, so that the 247,478 credit sales made during the 10 years represent nearly the same number of persons who became farm and home owners through the sale of this land on credit

REAL ESTATE INVESTMENT.

Real estate is usually a good investment; more money has been made in real estate than you can estimate in a day. The public are leaving Wall street alone and are putting their spare money in land. This country has just begun to be developed. What has occured in the past will be repeated in the future. Towns will grow rapidly into cities, and these cities will attract the attention of the world. The population of this country is now sixty-five millions. Fifty years from now the population will be two hundred millions, and its growth each year will be in proportion to attain that figure. What will be the price of land then?—Henry Clews in "Ladies' Home Journal."

OUR SUBURBS.

"God made the country
And man made the town;
But who made the suburbs
Is not yet set down.

It is an ill wind that blows nobody good. The robbers on horseback awakened the people living along the outskirts of the city to the importance of being more neighborly and enterprising among themselves instead of calling upon the Lord and the city fathers for more protection. The floods of last spring woke up the suburban dwellers to a sense of their danger and the folly of building block pavements and houses in the sand.

The subdividers and the promoters of new towns have learned to not count their chickens before they are hatched, nor to put a railroad on their maps unless they intend to build one themselves. In short the suburban population composed of rich farmers and prosperous householders will find that "the Lord helps them who helps themselves," and that railroads and newspapers are not now any longer in business for their health. Some of our heavy land owners might learn a lesson in real estate speculation from a now wealthy lady in New Jersey. The lady owned a large farm nearly ten miles from the city, but the land was not adapted to agricultural uses. An idea struck her all of a sudden that if she could secure the right of way and build a little horse-car line out to her farm she could sell the farm at a high price. The road was built, one car put on and well patronized. People would walk a mile to get on the car for a ride. Soon other cars were added and the road improved. In less than two years she became the wealthiest lady in New Jersey, and could truly say that she was the architect of her own fortune. The outskirts of Chicago are sorely in need of better fire and police protection, a sewerage system, artesian wells, passable roads and a few more school houses. In union there is strength. How would it do to do the right thing with the railroads, the newspapers and put our own shoulders to the wheel; then ask the Lord to soften the hearts of aldermen and cause them to quit sandbagging Yerkes. Special assessments would do the rest.

ASSESSED VALUATION AND MUNICIPAL INDEBTEDNESS OF TWENTY LEADING CITIES, 1890.

The increase of wealth and the decrease of debt generally go together, if they are not perfectly synonymous terms. Between 1880 and 1890 the increase of wealth, as measured by the returns of assessed valuation and the decrease of municipal debt have been exceedingly striking. In order to show this fact in the most vivid light, I have collated, from a number of Census Bulletins recently issued, the assessed valuation and municipal debt of a number of leading and typical cities, and have presented them in two separate tables, the first showing the information specified for a number of cities in the Northern and New England States, and the second showing the same data for a selected number of cities chiefly in the Middle and Southern States. These cities have been selected, not because of any special characteristics, or because they were in any way either above or below the average, but simply because they were the only cities of which the required data had come to hand at the time of writing. It will be seen from the following table that in the eight northern towns the increase of assessed valuation in the period 1880-1890 was not less than 56.9 per cent, while there was an absolute decrease of nearly 20 per cent in the amount of the municipal debt, that of Philadelphia showing a striking decrease:—

STATEMENT SHOWING THE ASSESSED VALUATION AND MUNICIPAL DEBT OF THE PRINCIPAL MANUFACTURING CITIES OF THE UNITED STATES, FROM 1880 TO 1890 INCLUSIVE (1,000 dollars).

	Assessed Valuation.		Municipal Debt.
	1880	1890	1880	1890

Totals	2,064,266	3,240,193	200,261	169,789

In the next table the assessed valuation of the thirteen cities tabulated has increased from 375 to 855 millions, or about 127.7 per cent, while the amount of the municipal debt has also increased to the extent of 26.3 per cent, although in some of the newer cities, such as St. Paul and Milwaukee, it has increased to a much larger extent. The increased valuation of St. Paul, Kansas City and Denver are especially noticeable:—

MIDDLE, WESTERN AND SOUTHERN STATES (1,000 dollars).

	Assessed Valuation.		Municipal Debt.
	1880	1890	1880	1890
Chicago	117,970	218,932	12,794	13,180
St Paul	24,000	121,439	1,526	7,264

Nashville	13,336	33,565	1,606	2,727
Atlanta	18,000	41,608	2,180	2,212
Totals	375,748	855,811	32,226	40,711

The growth of national prosperity, and the large extent to which wealth has been accumulated during the last decade, are shown in an equally remarkable manner by the great increase in the amount of capital embarked in manufacturing industries. New York shows, under this head, an increase of 97 per cent; Philadelphia of 91 per cent; Chicago of 313 per cent; Cleveland of 188 per cent; St. Paul of 377 per cent; and Denver of 533 per cent. The total amount of capital embarked in manufactures during the last ten years has increased by considerably over 100 per cent, so far as the information already at command, on census authority, enables us to judge.

MOVEMENT IN CENTER OF POPULATION.

The poet has said, "Westward the course of Empire takes it's way," and this saying has never been more forcibly illustrated than by western movement of the center of population. As shown by the annexed table, in 1790 the center of population in the United States was east of Baltimore. In a hundred years it had moved west to within a few miles of Chicago. Its average western movement has been about fifty miles a year. In another decade it may fairly be expected to make its abiding place at the very gates of Chicago. But its westward movement will not be as rapid in the future as in the past. Omaha is approximately the centre of the continent from east to west, but another century may roll around before the ceetre of population moves so far west as Omaha.

The table is as follows:

		WESTERN MOVEMENT.
1790	23 miles East of Baltimore, Md.
1800	18 " West " " "	41 miles.
1810	40 " N. W. of Washington, D. C.	30 "
1820	16 " North of Woodstock, Va.	50 "

RIPE FOR SUBDIVISION.

Jerusalem has been enjoying a boom since the completion of the railroad that connects it with Jaffa. Over 300 houses, hotels, stores and residences have been erected. The city swarms with real estate agents, and a bustle pervades the sacred old place that is novel enough. The Holy Land will soon be gridironed with railroads, of which Jerusalem will be the center. The road from Jaffa to Jerusalem, which was opened for traffic September 21st, crosses the Valley of Hinnom and passes within a few hundred yards of the Pool of Bethesda. Work on the road to Joppa is progressing well and Baron Rothschild, who intends establishing a colony of Jews on the line of this road, is building 300 houses for their use.

NEW ENTRANCE TO WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS.

A GATE AT THE SOUTH SIDE OF THE GROUNDS ASKED FOR.

A meeting of residents of South Chicago, Windsor Park, and Cheltenham was held Thursday evening at Woodbridge Hall in Cheltenham, in the interest of securing an entrance to the World's Fair at the southeast end of the grounds. A petition addressed to President Higinbotham and the Board of Control of the World's Fair asks the Board to provide a public entrance to the World's Fair grounds at Yates avenue and Sixty-seventh street. The reasons for making this request are that petitioners can reach the grounds at this point either on foot or from the South Shore station of the Illinois Central railroad, Yates avenue and Seventy-first street, and within four blocks of the entrance; also by the South Chicago Electric railroad. The entrances as now decided on are all west of the Baltimore and Ohio tracks and petitioners would be obliged to cross the tracks of this railroad at a grade either at Seventy-ninth, Seventy-fifth, or Seventy-first streets, also the Illinois Central railroad tracks running from their main line east on Seventy-first street to their entrance at the south of the Exposition grounds.

This place also obviates the danger in crossing the B. & O. tracks at Seventy-first street and by it people will be able to walk to the grounds without taking a car.

The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock with Ald. C. H. Howell in the chair. George N. Morgan acted as secretary. The following, among others were the speakers: Ald. J. R. Mann, Geo Nichols and W. B. Jones. A committee of seven were appointed to secure a hall at South Chicago for the purpose of holding a meeting next Thursday night. The committee was as follows: Geo. Nichols, P. J. McDonagh, W. B. Jones, Geo. W. Morgan, Capt. H. F. Loftus, Wm. Laing and R. S. Saunders.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Is it not time to call a halt on the policy of tearing up the public streets for the benefit of private corporations? Ten years ago this evil was recognized in Chicago and aldermen were found honest and fearless enough to oppose the schemes of gas companies and others who wanted to control the highways of the city. Still the march of these so-called improvements has continued, until the streets are honey-combed with gas pipes and electric and cable conduits to such an extent that life is no longer safe in the down town district. If this desecration of the public domain were to stop here it might be tolerated though deplored. But the city council is called upon almost every week to consider some ordinance granting permission to some wild-cat company or other to tear up streets right and left without restriction or compensation. The only hopeful indication is that the council has become heartily tired of the whole business and is not inclined to grant these wholesale concessions. The recent experience of the city street department with the Economic Gas company ought to be a sufficient lesson. The disgraceful condition of our pavements in the heart of the down town district is largely due to the careless manner in which they were left after the recent wholesale excavations by the gas company.

Lincoln Park is to have the Academy of Sciences. Garfield Park aspires to a like collection and will doubtless build one up out of the wealth of curios and articles of vertu to be obtained next year at the World's Fair. These are movements in the right direction and will eventually result in the establishment in Chicago of collections of value in natural science and history second to none in the country. There is no reason why we should not have here an institution like the Metropolitan Museum in New York, for instance, both in its scope and grandeur equal if not superior to that institution. We already have the finest libraries on the continent. New York has no great public library; but she has set a grand example in endowing museums of art and natural sciences which are worthy the emulation of every cosmopolitan city on the globe. No resident of Chicago can have but one regret at visiting the New York museum, which is that Chicago has not begun to rival the Eastern metropolis in this particular. However, collections of all kinds are the work of years and Chicago has hardly had time as yet to accumulate very much of the dust of antiquity. Eventually the wealthy citizens of this city will make such provisions as will insure for Chicago the finest museums that wealth and a knowledge of art and science can procure.

The municipal reformers have taken up the suggestion that the streets and alleys must be cleaned by special assessment and are about to urge the importance of their plan on the city council. THE JOURNAL has always been of the opinion that some plan of private subscription might be devised which would be vastly more satisfactory to the people in general than a special assessment for street cleaning. Special assessments have been so frequent that they have become odious. Still, any plan is better than no plan and if the women and clergymen who are endeavoring to reform Chicago's streets can do so by such heroic measures as the levying of special assessments, we shall bid them God-speed.

What shall be done with the lake front now that it is settled that it belongs to the city? This is a question that is agitating the minds of the property-owners along Michigan avenue as well as some other citizens of Chicago. The proposal to make it a public park on a grand scale has met with the usual argument that the ground is too valuable for park purposes. This is the same old Chicago cry after the almighty dollar, which in some other connections, notably the World's Fair, threatens to make the very name of Chicago odious. The people of Chicago have been slow to learn the lesson that some things are better than money. Fortunately there have been men influential in municipal affairs in this city who were far-sighted enough to see that the future of the city was quite as much dependent on its educational and art and landscape development as on its progress in business and manufactures. It is to such men that we owe the present park system of the city, which when completed will be unsurpassed by that of any other city in the world. Only one more link in the connecting chain of parks is needed and that is a lake front park in beauty and extent commensurate with the grandeur of the city. Sink the Illinois Central tracks and build a continuous parkway across them. Then extend the park on out into the lake and thus insure a central breathing place for the people for all time to come.

A TEMPLE OF LEARNING.

Philip D. Armour, the millionaire packer, is as benevolent as he is wealthy. Over a year ago the JOURNAL published a description of a magnificent five-story building to be erected on Armour ave. and 33rd st.

Work has been in progress during the past year and the building has been almost completed. Up to within about a week the public was unaware that this splendid structure was to be a gift to the city of Chicago. The building itself is but a small portion of the princely gift, for Mr. Armour gives for its support the sum of $1,400,000. The building will be known as the Armour Institute, and it will be to Chicago all that the Drexel institute is to Philadelphia and the Pratt institute to Brooklyn. It will be a grand institute for manual science training and will reach rich and poor alike.

Marble has been extensively used in the structure, which faces on Armour avenue and Thirty-third street and it is elaborate in every particular.

A costly electric plant for the study of electrical science is placed in the basement, and here also will be located the students in forging, molding and all the various classes of iron work. Mechanical and architectural drawing will be taught and also all the branches of art. Chemical and physical laboratories are there, numerous recitation and lecture rooms, and domestic science is not passed by, for on the fourth floor are departments for cooking, dress-making, millinery, and kindred studies. There are gymnasiums for male and female students and elaborate bath rooms fitted up in white marble.

One of the most excellent features of the new free institute will be a very large and complete library, of art, science, history and other useful literature.

This stupendous and magnificent Institute will be opened about Sept. 1, 1893.

A REPUTABLE NORTH SIDE FIRM.

John B. Strasburger, of the law firm of John B. Strasburger & Co., N. W. corner of Clark and Chicago avenue, one of the best established firms on the North Side, in our conversation with him regarding the realty outlook, seems not in the least dismayed by the present "bitter dose of dullness", but expresses a firm belief in the steady advancement of all North Side values. As he has had considerable experience in his adopted line of work, and is possessed of a thorough knowledge of all matters appertaining to real estate, investors in North Side realty will do well to consult him and profit by his judgment and experience. We can safely say that no man in Chicago has a better knowledge of actual values, and that no man is more capable of working in the interest of his clients. Therefore do not fail to call upon him whenever you feel seriously disposed to invest in North Side property, or if you have North Side property which you wish to sell at something near its actual value. He is a genial, generous, conscientious, Christian man, and one who will readily become interested in whatever will be of interest to his patrons. The office overlooking Clark street and Chicago avenue is in as pleasant and accessible location as you will find, and is equipped with a ready corps of assistants, ever ready to give straightforward and courteous replies to all inquiries. Mr. Strasburger owns some of the choicest pieces of property upon the Lake Shore and Sheridan Drive, which can be bought at most reasonable figures. Mr. Strasburger in his legal capacity has visited a number of the leading cities: Denver, Omaha, New Orleans, Cincinnati and Washington; and a short time ago was called to the western portion of Iowa in the interest of a land transfer; also to Duluth, Minnesota, and West Superior, Wisconsin, some three weeks ago as legal adviser in a big land deal, comprising 70,000 acres of land. During these trips he gained considerable knowledge of the different land values of different cities, but returns thoroughly convinced that Chicago has the best property for the least money.

PLANS BY ARCHITECTS.

Architect W. J. VanKeuren has designed for Geo. K. Jones and W. F. Taylor a six-story flat building, 70x125 ft, to be erected at the southwest corner of Sixty-fifth street and Hope avenue. The first story will be of Bedford stone and above that pressed brick will be used. The interior will be finished in hardwood; cost, $70,000. He has also designed for George Easdale five two-story houses to be built at Austin. The basement will be of stone and the rest of frame; cost, $18,000. For W. G. Lloyd he has planned a $4,000 residence to built at Austin.

Architects Jenney & Mundie have planned for Mrs. C. H. Hutchinson and Miss H. C. Wilkins a two-story apartment house, 50x165 feet, to be erected at the northwest corner of Wabash avenue and Thirty-fifth street. It will be constructed of buff Bedford stone and pressed brick, and the interior will be finished in hardwood; cost, $35,000.

Architect Franklin P. Burnham has planned for J. W. Brooks a Colonial residence to be built at Kenilworth at a cost of $9,000. He is also preparing plans or a three-story apartment house, 75x90 feet, to be built on Washington boulevard at a cost of $25,000.

Architect J. M. Schroeder has designed for John Styx a three-story and basement store and flat building, 25x110 feet, to be erected at the southwest corner of Portland avenue and Twenty-sixth street. Pressed brick and stone construction; cost, $15 000. He has also planned for the Rev. C. G. Shuh a four-story and basement store and flat building, 25x60 feet, to be erected at Sixty-sixth street and Ellis avenue. Pressed brick, stone and terra-cotta, with hardwood finish and steam heat; cost, $8,000. For Henry Hubbard he has planned a three-story and basement store and flat building, 22x80 feet, to be erected at Thirty-second and Wallace streets; cost $8,000. For Charles Lemm he has planned a two-story store, flat and hall building to be erected at Michigan avenue and Ninety-fifth street; cost, $7,000.

Architect E. H. Turnock has completed plans for a three-story flat building, 50x60 feet, to be of pressed brick and stone front, to be erected for Messrs. Louis & Basey at 2968 Armour avenue. He is also figuring on a two-story and attic residence to be erected for C. L. Whitmore at Evanston. Frame construction, with rock-faced basement; interior, hardwood fluish, lighted by electricity and heated by hot water.

Architects Jaffray & Ohrenstein have made plans for remodeling the warehouse and store, 78, 80 and 82 West Randolph street, for Henry Horner & Co.

Architect C. M. Palmer is letting contracts for a three-story flat building, 52x75 feet, to be erected for Potter Palmer at 4332 and 4334 Wabash avenue. It will have a Bedford stone front, hardwood finish, steam heat, electric light and all improvements.

Architect F. W. Perkins has designed for George M. Ludlow and W. H. Rood a four story store and flat building, 105x75 feet, to be erected on the west side of Jefferson avenue, near Fifth street. It will be constructed of pressed brick, stone and terra-cotta. The interior will be divided into four stores and twelve flats, all modernly equipped; cost, $60,000.

Architects Patton & Fisher have completed plans for a four-story apartment house, 50x100 feet, to be erected at the northwest corner of Cornell avenue and Fifty-fifth street by Russell Ulrich. It will be constructed of light-colored brick, stone and terra cotta, the interior being finished in hardwood and heated by steam; cost, $35,000. The same architects have designed for Miss Lola Fellows a three-story apartment building, 50x56 feet, to be erected at the southwest corner of Sixty-second street and the Illinois Central track. It will be constructed of light-colored brick and cut stone, and will cost $15,000

Architects O. J. Pierce & Co. have planned a four-story apartment house to be built on the east side of Madison avenue, 144 feet south of Fifty-seventh street, by W. A. Leonard, Jr., and L. D. Taylor. The building will be occupied by the National Columbian Wheelman's Association as a hotel during the World's Fair, after which it will be used for flats. It will be constructed of Bedford stone and pressed brick; cost, $40,000. For Frank P. Crandon they have planned alterations on his residence at Evanston to cost $5,000.

Architect W. D. Cowles has planned for Nicholas Treff a two-story, basement and attic frame cottage, 30x52 feet, to be built at South Evanston; cost, $7,000. He is also preparing plans for the reconstruction of the residence at 1469 Michigan avenue into a thirty-five room hotel for R. J. Gunning at a cost of $10,000.

Architect De Witt Taylor Kennard has planned three four-story apartment buildings to be erected at Sixty-second street and Stony Island avenue by C. E Dorn and others. Pressed brick construction; cost, $60,000.

Architects Park & Purssell have planned for R. J. Puster a two-story, attic and basement flat building, 25x66 feet, to be erected on Adams street near St. Louis avenue. Pressed brick and stone; cost, $7,000. Also for Edwin J. Bowes, Jr., & Bro. two three-story flat buildings, 25x72 feet, to be erected on Washington boulevard near Sacramento avenue. Pressed brick and stone, with hardwood interior, heated by steam; cost, $16,000. For the same owners they have planned two three-story dormitory buildings, to be erected on Ingleside avenue near Fifty-eighth street; cost, $20,000.

Francis J. Norton has completed plans of the Japanese building—for the World's Fair—costing $100,000. The rapid increase of business in Mr. Norton's office necessitates the renting of three more offices—fronting State street, in the Masonic Temple Building.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

TENANT HOLDING OVER AFTER EXPIRATION OF TERM.

Illinois Supreme Court; Gouldsborough v. Gable.

Where a tenant holds over after the expiration of his term, without any new contract in respect thereto, the landlord will have the option to treat him as a trespasser, or waive the wrong of holding over and treat him as a tenant, and the acceptance by the landlord of the rent reserved will amount to an election on his part to continue the tenancy, and the tenancy will be continued on the same terms as before.

Where a landlord, at the request of a tenant, agrees to reduce the rent reserved in the contract of leasing, and there is no evidence tending to show the tenant had surrendered the premises or that he offered to do so, and refused to execute the terms of the lease, or that there was any reason why he could then have surrendered the premises and refused to execute the terms of the lease, such parol agreement to reduce the rent will be void for want of consideration, and the landlord may collect the rent provided for in the written lease.

Where the tenant is not shown to have changed his position in consequence of the agreement to reduce the rent, and there is nothing to show any injury or loss to the tenant or gain or benefit to the landlord in consequence of such agreement, the latter will not be stopped from demanding and collecting the rent originally agreed to be paid; and such agreement to accept a reduced rent will not have the effect of an executed gift as to the difference in the original rent and that afterward agreed to be taken, when no receipt or release is given for the rent.

ROLLING STOCK OF A RAILROAD IS REAL ESTATE.

District Court of Minnesota; Central Trust Co., of New York v. John J. Moran, Sheriff. This action was heard upon an order of this court made Nov. 7, 1892, that defendant show cause why a writ of injunction should not be allowed as recited in said order. Messrs. Young & Lightner appeared for the plaintiff, S. L. Campbell for the Eastern Railway and Messrs. O. W. Baldwin and C. E. Flandrau for the other defendants. The writ was allowed on the filing of a bond in the sum of $35,000. Certain rolling stock of the defendant railway company was seized by the sheriffs above named. The plaintiff holds a mortgage on the property of the company, including its rolling stock. The law of the case is discussed at length by Judge Otis as follows:

MEMORANDUM.

This order is grounded upon the fact, as I determine it, that rolling stock of the kind seized upon by the defendants Bean and Sharvey, as sheriffs, is real property and a part and parcel of the road and is so to be considered in all cases where the rights of a mortgagee of the character plaintiff is admitted to be are brought in question. This is my opinion, is so declared by express statute Gen. Stat. 1878 Ch. 34, Secs. 71-73. That such property is real estate, independent of statute, has been repeatedly decided by the courts and also in some of the state courts, and having in mind the quasi public character of railroad corporations, the purposes they are intended to subserve and the duties they owe to the public, this commends itself to any mind as the better rule. This being so, the attempted levies made by the sheriffs under their respective writs were void ab initio and the taking of this property into their possession and so out of the possession of the road of the Eastern Railway Company was tortious, and unlawful interference with the mortgagee's property.

USURY—LOAN REPAID IN ANOTHER STATE.

Supreme Court of Georgia; Jackson v. American Mortgage Co of Scotland. 15 S. E. Rep., 812. It is competent for the borrower of money to contract to pay a rate of interest lawful in his own State, the loan being secured by realty in that State, although he makes the notes given for the principal and interest of the loan payable in another State and although the ultimate delivery of the notes and mortgage is made to the lender at his place of business in the latter State, in which State also, the borrower's application for the loan was accepted. Thus, where a resident of Georgia applied in writing for a loan of money at a specified rate of interest, executing the application in Georgia, and offering therein as security real estate situated in Georgia, expecting a lender to be found by his agent elsewhere and afterwards the application was accepted in New York by a resident thereof in behalf of a foreign corporation, and the applicant executed a note in Georgia, and also an absolute deed of the realty, as security, conformably to the laws of Georgia, and the note and deed, after the latter was recorded in Georgia, were delivered in New York by his agents, to whom the money was there delivered by the lender, the note being payable in New York, and specifying on its face a rate of interest legal in Georgia, but usurious in New York, the contract is enforceable in Georgia, there being no evidence tending to show bad faith, or any device or contrivance to evade the usury laws of New York.

SERVICES OF BROKER IN PROCURING A LOAN.

Supreme Court of Iowa; Carruthers v. Towne, 53 N. W. Rep., 240; Where loan brokers are employed to secure a loan, and different propositions as to compensation are made from time to time, and when the loan was finally made another proposition as to the compensation fails of approval, and the parties separate, expressing themselves merely as willing to do what is right in the matter, evidence as to the reasonable value of the services rendered is, in view of the uncertainty of any agreement for specified compensation, properly admitted. The reasonable value of services required to procure a certain loan may be shown by the testimony of persons experienced in making loans. The fact that at one time there had been an agreement between certain persons as to the compensation to be paid for services in procuring a loan is not, where the agreement has been abandoned, entitled to any consideration in an action to determine the reasonable value of such services.

DEPOSITS ON SALES FORFEITABLE.

Supreme Court of New York; Von Kamen v. Roes. 20 N Y Sup 548. A stipulation that money paid under a contract may be retained as a penalty in case of its breach is valid. The law requires that what the parties themselves prescribe as a forfeiture shall be so treated. And in the absence of any agreement by which provision is made for a seller retaining money advanced in the event of the purchaser not completing his contract by paying the balance, the cases are uniform in holding that under the circumstances the purchaser cannot recover back money so paid and retained by the seller.

WHAT ARE FRAUDULENT CONVEYANCES?

Supreme Court of Nebraska; Farrington v. Stone. 53 N W Rep 389. It is not sufficient that a vendor desires to defeat the payment of a claim by the transfer of his property; to render a conveyance fraudulent it must be taken with knowledge, actual or constructive, of the proposed fraud, or there must be a want of consideration. While a transfer of property to a relative by a person liable on a claim, and the effect will be to defeat the payment of the same, will be scrutinized very closely, still it will be sustained, if made in good faith, for an adequate consideration.

WHO MAY PURCHASE AT FORECLOSURE.

Supreme Court of Illinois; Turner v. Littlefield. A sale and conveyance of land under a trust deed in accordance with its terms, executed and recorded in 1877, to a party not disqualified from purchasing, which trust deed was the prior lien on the land, will pass the title to the purchaser, although he may have had a mortgage on the land growing out of a transaction subsequent to the execution and recording of the deed of trust.

A party to secure the repayment of a sum of money in five years, took a deed of land, which was to become absolute if not paid in five years, and which was subject to a prior and first lien of a deed of trust. Before the maturity of his debt, the debtor informed him of his ability to pay and abandoned all claim to the land. The party holding such deed there procured the trustee to make a sale of the land under the power of sale, and became the purchaser and obtained a deed: Held, that after such an abandonment the creditor did not sustain such a relation to the debtor as to preclude him from becoming a purchaser under the trust deed, and that a judgment creditor of the debtor could not redeem from the deed taken as a mortgage and subject the land to the payment of his judgment. After a party has abandoned his claim of the right to have a conveyance of property for inability to make payment therefor, a quit-claim deed from him, although no title may pass thereby is admissible to corroborate other evidence that he has abandoned all claim to the property.

HOME-SEEKERS ATTENTION!

The United States Government has decided to open, November 22, 1892, for settlement under the homestead law, the unearned lands of the Marquette & Little Bay Du Noquet Railroad, heretofore reserved from entry, in Northern Michigan. At the same time the right of the Ontonagon & Brule River Railroad has been denied to a large tract of land in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. This gives an unprecedented chance to locate valuable timber and, mineral lands, which are among the best in the Upper Peninsula, and are reached only over the North Star Route (Milwaukee & Northern Railroad) between Chicago and Lake Superior.

For further particulars address C. E. COLLINS, Land and Immigration Agent, 161 La Salle street Chicago.

CHICAGO HEIGHTS!

THE GREAT MANUFACTURING AND BUSINESS CENTER.

Business and Residence Property For Sale at Extremely Low Prices and on Easy Terms.

DOLESE & SHEPARD, 162 Washington Street, Chicago,
HAVE BEEN AWARDED A CONTRACT AMOUNTING TO

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS

($170,000) for the purpose of macadamizing 17 miles of streets and building stone sidewalks.

NO ASSESSMENT will be made for the improvements, the Association assuming the entire expense. The wise and prudent people who invest a small amount of money in CHICAGO HEIGHTS property will in a comparatively short time reap large benefits. No sane person can question the wisdom of making an investment in Chicago property.

Four large factories are in full operation and contracts closed with several others. A large number of residences and business houses in course of construction, also an extensive factory building for Roth & Englehardt, Piano Manufacturers of New York.

STABILITY OF THE ENTERPRISE

The following well-known gentlemen are among the promoters of Chicago Heights:

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company's 6,150 miles of road traverses a vast territory rich in all the resources that insure industrial success.

The Industrial Department is conversant with the Iron, Coal, Lumber and Tanbark, the Water-Power (both river and artesian) for factory and electric power purposes, the markets, the transportation and financial facilities, and other interests on the line pertaining to industrial development, and disseminates information concerning same.

A number of new factories has been induced to locate—largely through the instrumentality of this Company—at enterprising towns on its lines.

As the interest of the Company is to secure the location of industries at places where the surroundings will insure their permanent success, the information furnished a particular industry is pertinent and reliable.

In the Eastern States and in other parts of the world factories are so congested and distant from the actual markets as to result in fierce and destructive competition. That the West is taking a place as one of the great manufacturing territories of the world is forcibly impressing itself upon discerning and enterprising manufacturers. Steps should be taken by such while the field is as yet not fully covered, and while inducements are still being offered, to locate in the West.

Individuals or companies wishing to embark capital in Western industry can find a profitable field.

For particulars relative to industrial advantages on the line, address

Luis Jackson,

Industrial Commissioner, C., M. & St. P. Railway,

160 Adams St., CHICAGO, Ill.

The Marvel of the Musical World.

$30 worth of CHOICE MUSIC for $1.50.

The New York Musical Echo is quite a novelty in modern journalism, and affords a grand opportunity to musicians and music-loving people. It is a large quarto musical publication, published monthly, each number containing 24 full size pages of sheet music, the brightest, liviest and most popular selections of the day, both vocal and instrumental, together with a pretty cover, on which is a full page portrait of some beautiful actress or singer. The music and portrait changed with each issue.

A Year's Subscription to the New York Musical Echo is $1.50 (sample copies 15c.) and means 288 full size pages of sheet music and twelve fine portraits, making when bound one of the handsomest portfolios of the newest and nicest music ever published. We want our friends to be careful of each number as duplicate copies may soon be a thing of the past. Don't lose any of the pretty music we are publishing, so start from the December number. The American News Co., or any of the News Agencies will supply you, or order direct of us

BUSINESS OF THE WEEK.

The gold scare in New York is still the uppermost topic of conversation in financial circles, even in Chicago. That there is no good reason why a sharp decline on Wall street should effect Chicago business, is well known here, but the affect is like that of any other sentimental influence on the market. In fact, the gold movement itself is purely a sentimental influence. Brokers whose interests seem to demand it are quick to seize on the slightest rumor to bear the market, and so closely identified with our financial prosperity has the supply of gold become that the slightest movement of the metal to or from the country is watched and commented on. The result of a few gold shipments from New York last week was a contraction of loans by the banks, and an almost simultaneous falling-off in stocks. Chicago Gas and Distillers' stock came in for more than their full share of the decline. Some Chicago operators who were bullish in these securities are known to have lost heavily.

It may be profitable to consider how the gold export movement comes to affect the markets and what are the real grounds for apprehension, if any. The gold movement is really only an exchange of currency between this country and foreign nations, just as at times money moves from one part of this country to another part to meet the exigencies of trade. The only difference is that in our currency relations with foreign governments it is necessary to use gold as a standard, and shipments of bank notes or silver will not answer the purpose under the existing conditions. Viewed in this light merely, the export of gold has no other significance than the settlement of trade balances in our commercial relations with European countries. If this were all there were to it continued shipments of gold might arouse alarm on the ground that we were buying more than we were selling and that we were thus rapidly eating up our surplus. But there is another side to the question. Gold is a commodity and like everything else is purchasable at its current market rate. Now for some reason best known to themselves, Russia and Austria have of late been making large purchases of gold in this country; but they must pay us our market price for all they buy; and as the balance of trade has not been in their favor during the year, they must find some other method of paying for the gold than by exchange of commodities. This method is the return of large quantities of American securities which they hold. The situation, then, revolves itself into this: These foreign countries are compelled by threatening war and other causes to give up interest-bearing bonds and dividend-paying stocks in exchange for non-producing gold. And Americans are willing and able to supply the gold and take their own notes in exchange; in other words we are able to pay our debts. Debt paying is not a pleasant process, hence the general dissatisfaction over gold exports, but it is a healthful indication when a country is able to pay off its foreign debt at the rate of millions of dollars a month without being seriously inconvenienced in doing so.

The export and import totals for the month of November, 1892, are at hand. The exports amounted to $97,721,545 and imports $73,220,169, being an excess of exports of $24,501,376. The total amount of merchandise, coin and bullion exported in excess of what was imported in November was $25,175,583 and this was about as large a favorable balance as has been created in November of any of the previous twelve years. There is every evidence that our export trade is growing at a rapid rate as compared with our imports. A movement has just been set on foot to sell American anthracite coal in Europe and an agent has been sent there with that object in view. It is said that in Paris anthracite coal brings $9 a ton, and it is thought to be entirely practicable to ship coal from the Pennsylvania mines to France at that price or less and reap a fair profit. May-be next year it will be coal shipments instead of gold shipments, which would set the sensation mongers hunting for some new scare to demoralize the market with.

ANALYSIS OF BANK CLEARINGS.

†Not included in totals.

The clearing-house returns this week present very similar results to those of last week. A handsome gain is the rule all along the line. San Francisco is the only one of the larger cities that shows a decrease. Only twelve of the American cities show decreases and these not large; so that the grand total shows an increase of 8.7 percent and the total excluding New York 8.4 percent. This, it will be noticed, is about the same increase as that shown by New York City. Indeed, it may be set down as a rule that as goes New York so goes the Union in bank clearings as well as in politics. Chicago and Philadelphia both return increases exceeding that of New York, but Boston's increases is only 4.8 percent.

The volume of the bank clearings this week is exceptionally large, as it usually is during the holiday season. This is attributable almost wholly to the Christmas trade which this year is enormous. New York looms up with over $804,000,000; Chicago nearly reaches $110,000,000, and Boston exceeds $105,000,000. The grand total is over $107,000,000 greater than it was during the corresponding week last year. The fact that the business of the country for a single week has increased over $100,000,000 in a year is a striking commentary on the rapid growth of our trade and commerce.

San Francisco, Indianapolis, Memphis, Richmond, Salt Lake City, Atlanta, Ft. Worth, Waco, Wichita, Lexington, Topeka and Savannah are the cities which show decreases. First and foremost of these is San Francisco, and we are tempted to ascribe its falling-off to the general degeneracy of the entire Far Western group; but on further investigation it is seen that not another coast city is in arrears this week, while, on the contrary, Portland, Seattle, Tacoma and Los Angeles all show remarkable gains. We shall see later on what effect this movement has had on the total for the group itself. This is the season when trade usually slackens on the Pacific coast, so that the improvement noted this week can hardly be counted on as a harbinger of large figures for the immediate future.

The other cities showing decreases are for the most part southern cities, a sufficient explanation of which fact is found in the recent reports of decreases in the cotton crop throughout fully 94 percent of the cotton area of the South. A decreased acreage was planted, and this together with the lateness of the season and the damage caused by frosts in some sections, is responsible for the general shortness of the crop. Prices are tending higher and the movement of the crop is rapid. The supply of cotton on hand is said to be light.

The week though on the whole satisfactory was marred by threatening financial clouds on the New York horizon in the shape of fears of a currency crisis, augmented by an actual demonstration of the tendency of gold to flow outward. Gold shipments for the week amounted to $4,250,000 and predictions were freely made that $5,000,000 or more would follow this week. The effect of continued shipments of this magnitude would be to cause a stringency in the New York money market. This is already felt in call loans, and the immediate effect is to force liquidation on the speculative exchanges. Any such disturbing influence is not reassuring to the course of general trade.

The analysis by groups of States, is as follows:

	WEEK ENDING DEC 15, 1892.	WEEK ENDING DEC. 17, 1891.	PERCENTAGE.
New Engl'd States.	$ 122,393,783	$114,525,485	Inc 6.8
Middle "	904,190,055	828,266,153	" 9.1
Southern "	57,165,736	52,458,874	" 9.0
Western "	46,514,565	45,102,535	" 3.1
Northwestern "	150,120,569	136,139,573	" 10.3
Southwestern "	45,787,619	43,212,793	" 5.7
Far Western "	29,557,688	28,861,206	" 2.4
Totals,	$1,355,730,015	$1,248,658,619

Again we have an unbroken column of increasing percentages for the group of States. The smallest increase is shown in the Far Western, Western and South Western groups and the greatest increase in the Northwestern, Middle and Southern. The increase in the Far Western group though small is one of the most hopeful indications of the week. Heretofore we have been compelled to record decreases for this group with painful regularity. It may be that the tide has turned, but, as we have pointed out above, the conditions are not favorable for special activity on the coast at present, and it is doubtful if the prevailing prosperity there will outlive the holiday season.

LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

The demoralization in Wall street Monday was only feebly reflected on the Stock Exchange in this city. It is said that Wall street was more demoralized on that day than it has been on any day since the panic of November, 1890. The immediate cause of the break was due to gold exports and the consequent stringency in money. Rates of interest rose as high as 35 percent per annum and the majority of loans were made at 10 percent. Some of the banks were reported as refusing to accept certain industrial stocks as collateral, and on this prices dropped away down. Chicago Gas and Distillers and Cattle Feeding were among the victims. The former dropped from 90⅝ to 83. This stock sold last week at 95¼, so that the decline this week was a drop of 12¼ points. On Nov. 29 Chicago Gas reached 99¾, having been forced up to that figure by a combination. Its course since then has been steadily downward, notwithstanding the most violent efforts to maintain it. After the drop on Monday it was thought there would be a reaction; but as late as Thursday sales were made in New York at 84½, only a slight advance over the plummet point touched on Monday.

Distillers and Cattle Feeding has shown a little more ability to recover lost ground. The experience of Monday is thought to have been the bursting of the bubble in this security which has been blowing up for several weeks. The limit was reached Dec. 13, when the stock sold at 72½. Then some of the insiders in the deal began to unload. The result was that on Saturday Distillers closed at 65⅝ and on Monday sold at 57. Thursday the stock had recovered to 61¼, but this is still 11¼ points below the inflation price. The effect of these manipulations was not apparent on prices of other stocks in Chicago, but it was freely stated that not a few Chicago operators were caught in the break and pretty generously squeezed.

The Chicago market has exhibited a decided bear tendency all the week. The street railway stocks have been active but tending toward lower prices. Monday was their best day. West Chicago sold at 214½ to 214½ for the account, and North Chicago at 277 and 277½. Both stocks continued to decline steadily, until on Thursday the settling price of West Side was fixed at 210 and on the same day North Side sold at 275.

The cause of the prevalent dullness is attributed in part at least to the tightening of money rates. An attempt has even been made to show that the tendency toward high rates is as dangerous here as in New York and that there is a possibility that rates may be forced up so high as to compel liquidation of speculative holdings and cause a stampede similar to that experienced in Wall street last Monday. The truth is that the conditions in Chicago are radically different from those in New York. Chicago has become a money center by herself and is constantly in receipt of large sums from bankers all through the tributary country who have learned to put confidence in Chicago loans. The result is that the gold movement and the coinage of silver has but little practical interest to Chicago business men. The present firm tone in the money market is the result of the approach of the first of another year and the increased demand for funds consequent on the necessity of carrying over stock purchased for the account. It is of course possible that rates might be forced so high as to necessitate the unloading of some of this account stock, which would cause a still further break in prices, but such an event is not anticipated.

About the only railway stock that has taken on strength during the week is Lake Street "L." As yet all is rumor as to the plans of this road. A very plausible story was in circulation during the week to the effect that the Lake Street road, the Alley Elevated and the Metropolitan would combine on a down-town terminal and that the Metropolitan would make arrangements to use the Alley "L" road's tracks from some distance south to the common terminus. This is excellent, if true, but we doubt if it is feasible. On the strength of just such rumors, the stock sold up to 28¼.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

Predictions are freely made, both in Chicago and New York, that the opening of the new year will see an awakening of activity in the real estate field. Even now in the height of the holiday season there is noticeable an increased inquiry for the best property, and sales of good proportions are being made every day. The feature of the year continues to be the small sales of lots and houses for residence purposes. There is every indication that plenty of money is in hand to buy good residence property at a fair price. Those who have bought on time payments are reported prompt and apparently better able than ever before to meet their installments. That there is little or no speculative buying goes without saying; but the fact that the purchases are mostly for actual use or improvement is a decidedly favorable symptom.

A week before Christmas the real estate business is expected to be dull, yet from what we can learn it is more active now than one or two months ago. The summary of transfers shows a very large increase over the total of the corresponding week a year ago. The total consideration for the week, including all sales in the county, was $4,891,948 as against $2,854,047 for the week in 1891. This is nearly double the amount in 1892 over the previous year. To be sure, there was one transfer this week of $1,500,000, but making no account of that whatever, the total is still far in excess of the corresponding total in 1891; and this fact alone ought to be a harbinger of hope to those who for months have been living in a state of expectancy. The condition of the average real estate broker has been something like that of a certain young man in this city who received an executory devise from his grandfather. According to the terms of the will the young man was to inherit equally with the children of the testator's daughter. At the time of the old gentleman's death the daughter had but one child and the grandson congratulated himself that he was heir to half the property. What was his dismay during the next few years to see three other children born and to realize that each one had a share in the property. Each advent of a stranger on the scene reduced the young man's portion of the estate to one-third, one-fourth and one fifth successively, and he is now wondering what the eventual fraction is to be and how many years will elapse before the last heir to the estate will become of age. Some such feelings of dismay have permeated the minds of the real estate brokers not only of Chicago but of the entire country, as they have waited in vain for a distribution of the common estate. But we believe that the time is ripe for the fulfillment of the executory devise in their case and that the ensuing year will see such activity in general real estate business in this city as has not been witnessed in a long time.

That values are not depreciating is illustrated in the history of the Morgan property which was sold not long ago for $500,000. This property consists of some 480 acres of land lying south of the city and within six miles of the World's Fair grounds. It was held by the late Dayton S. Morgan, the millionaire reaper manufacturer of Brockport, N. Y. At the time of his death Mr. Morgan was considering an offer of $300,000 for this property. Six months later the World's Fair boom struck Chicago. Mr. Morgan's property nearly doubled in value and his executors recently sold the land for $500,000.

Another instance of rapid appreciation of values is that of Congress street property. Not long ago a lot in the rear of the southeast corner of State and Congress streets, 20 by 30 feet, was leased for a term of years at a rental of $480 a year. Recently proceedings were commenced to get possession of this lot by terminating the lease, but the lessees successfully resisted and will hold the property until 1922 at the present rental of $40 a month. During the trial of the case it appeared that property adjoining had been leased recently on a valuation of $100 per square foot. This valuation would fix the rental of the 20 by 30 foot lot at $3,000 a year instead of $480.

CENTRAL PROPERTY.

Close on the heels of the sale of the Harlan property two more deals in central real estate are on the point of being closed; $500,000 cash is the price paid in one of these transactions, and about a quarter of a million the figures involved in the other. Square foot valuations are being revised by two real estate firms on La Salle street and before the new year, which is to bring us good tidings and abundant fruit, is ushered in, these two deals will have been consummated, and some of the wise-acres relieved of much doubt and uncertainty. An effort is now being made to lease for a term of years or sell the block at 155 and 157 Washington street, owned by Mr. L. R. Giddings, who purchased it a short time ago and remodeled the front of the building. The Harlan block which was considered a good thing by reason of its abutting on the Otis block brought but little more than $33 per square foot, but it is believed by some real estate men that the Giddings building which stands but little further west of LaSalle street than does the former, is equally good property. This is certainly the case if the Otis block which is 40 by 189 feet is not joined with it. (Harlan block.)

One thing is certain La Salle street will soon have a boom if the Otises will lease their lot for 99 years, as the JOURNAL well knows they will not sell the fee.

SALE OF WAREHOUSE ON THE WISCONSIN CENTRAL.

An important deal in improved warehouse property has been closed by H. O. Stone & Co. By this transaction the ownership of the General Electric company's warehouse on Johnson street, along the Wisconsin Central tracks, passes to General Milo S. Hascall for a consideration of $120,000. The location is one of the most desirable for warehouse purposes in the city. The lot is 144x100 feet and fully occupied by a six-story and basement building of mill construction, with brick exterior. The property was recently leased by H. O. Stone & Co. to the General Electric company for a term of ten years at an annual rental of $10,000, so that the purchase of General Hascall proves a very advantageous investment. The General Electric company is composed of the Edison and Thomson-Houston companies. H. O. Stone & Co. also sold for General Hascall twenty acres in the Stickney tract for $33,000.

RECENT SQUARE FOOT VALUATIONS.

The following front foot valuations established by recent sales and leases will be of interest to our readers at this time:

Portland Block, sold at $73 per sq ft.
Atwood corner, leased on basis of $193 per sq ft.
Inter Ocean, 20 by 40 feet at $250 per sq ft.
Gillette cor, 92½ by 50 at $130 per sq ft.
Wineman cor, 90 by 40 at $144 per sq ft.
Title and Trust, 60 by 182 at $48 per sq ft.
Southwest cor Clark and Jackson, 50 by 216 at $75 per sq ft.
Southwest cor State and Washington, was held at $133 per sq ft.
Southwest cor State and Quincy, 42 by 100 at $87 per sq ft.
Otis Block, 40 by 189, held at 132 per sq ft.

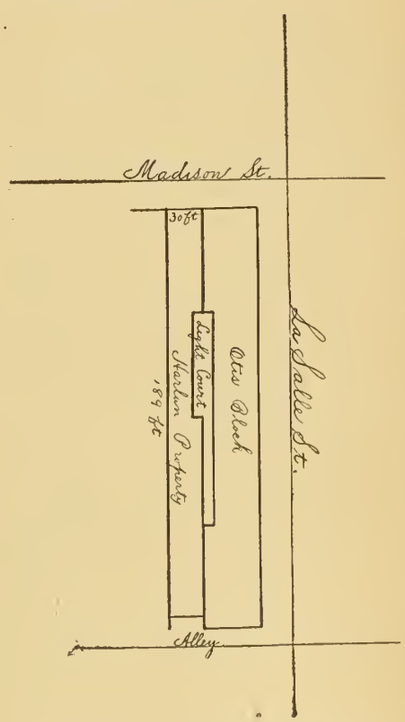
The conclusion to be deduced from the above table is that corners in the down-town district are held at from two to three times as high figures as the inside lots. It will be noticed that there is a great diversity in the above figures, corresponding to the difference in location and availability of the various sites. But in nearly every case cited the rule holds good that corners are exceptionally valuable.

NOVEL COTTAGE SCHEME FOR THE WORLD'S FAIR.

The Steel Hotel and Cottage company are having plans made by Schlacks & Ottenheimer for three hundred cottages to be erected in the world's fair district. They will be bunched and will cover an area of ground 600 by 300 feet, which is to be laid out in the shape of a park, in the center of which will be a large pavilion containing a restaurant. Each cottage will consist of six rooms and is intended for the use of families during the fair. Every precaution will be taken to protect the cottages from the crowds and care for them in the absence of tenants.

PROBABLE FATE OF THE TORRENS SYSTEM IN ILLINOIS.

Theodore Sheldon and Harvey B. Hurd, members of the commission appointed by Governor Fifer in pursuance to a joint resolution of the last legislature to investigate and report upon the Torrens, or Australian system of land titles, are now at work upon the finishing touches of their report. The commissioners say that it would be discourteous to give an analysis of the report before it is submitted to the governor, but it is understood in a general way that the report will be favorable to the Torrens method. This is of the utmost importance to all concerned in real estate transactions, because it will make a title to real property almost as negotiable as stocks, bonds, warehouse receipts or other proof of personal property. The report will be submitted to the governor before the legislature convenes, so that there will be nothing in the way of an early action by the legislature. The principal objection to the measure will, of course, come from the abstract firms, and from that side a very spirited opposition is certain. On the other hand, the Real Estate Board will bend every energy in favor of the new system.



A FEW COVETED PIECES SOLD.

BUYERS RESPOND TO REASONABLE PRICES.

THE JOURNAL of December 10, foreshadowed the sale of the Harlan property. And, by the way, that sale was announced before it was fully concluded. Mrs. Harlan until recently adhered strictly to her former price of $250,000 and it was news to her friends in this city and a surprise to boomers of central property to hear that the Harlan block was sold for $210,000. Notwithstanding the high prices paid for down town fees and leaseholds owners have about come to the conclusion that a reduction is necessaay if they make a sale this winter. The union of the two blocks—the Otis block and the Harlan property is necessary to make a first-class improvement but it is doubtful whether the Otises will either sell or improve. If Walter H. Wilson or some other real estate agent can succeed in convincing Judge Otis that his block is not worth as much as he asks for it and that it will never be worth a million dollars, perhaps the party who is the real purchaser of the Harlan property can secure the Otis block and then build a structure that will rival the Temple on the next corner. But this is very doubtful.

* * * * * * *

Capitalists are beginning to think that the supply of office room is now more than equal to the demand. At any rate the majority of the older buildings are now "going a begging" for good tenants because the sky scrapers have taken them all. This may as well be understood now as at some future time, when the oversupply will be so great as to cause a reaction in the market for central property. The sale of 23 to 27 Wabash av. was at a low figure apparently but when it is considered that the property is only 40 feet deep and situated in the old wholesale district from which the new wholesale quarters have detracted much, the price paid is about all that it is worth. There is a buyer of large means in the city looking for bargains in central property, but he is not considering anything at the rate of $10,000 a foot. He would rather have two pieces on different streets in the business centre at $5,000 than one piece of half the dimensions at $10,000. As soon as owners manifest a disposition to sell at reasonable figures capital will invest.

SALE OF THE HARLAN PROPERTY.

Our diagram gives a view of the Harlan property on Madison street, near La Salle street, which was recently sold by Mrs. Sarah M. Harlan of Austin, Texas, to Walter H. Wilson of this city. The price paid by Mr. Wilson for the thirty feet frontage on Madison street is reported as $210 000. This is $7,000 a front foot for the Madison street frontage. The depth of the lot had much to do in establishing this figure, the extreme depth being 189 feet. It is improved with a four-story building which brings in an annual rental of $11,000. While the price paid per foot of frontage is nominally very high, yet the square foot valuation is low, being only about $37 per foot. In 1872 this lot was bought by Mr. Harlan for $64,000 and the present structure was erected by him at a cost of $36,000, so that the total investment represents an even $100,000.

The Harlan property has frequently been the subject of comment on the part of the JOURNAL, owing to the fact that it is really the key to the corner. Reference to the plat herewith given will show that if this corner is ever improved with a high building ownership of the Harlan property will be essential to the success of the enterprise.

The commanding position occupied by the Otis block still gives its owners the mastery of the situation. Unless the purchaser of the Harlan property, who is an eastern capitalist, can secure the adjoining lot on the west he will not be able to out-general them.

Mrs. Harlan and her son called at the office of the JOURNAL on Friday morning and expressed their thorough satisfaction with the result of the sale, which was spot cash, less a small discount. The latter although a very young man is engaged in loaning money for a Scotch syndicate of Scotland on Texas farm property. He says he can realize nine per cent in this class of loans at Austin, Texas, with less trouble than is required to manage a good piece of property in Chicago. Besides he desires to relieve his mother of the responsibility and annoyance of collecting rents and making improvements and repairs. The gross income from the building on Madison street has been from $10,000 to $12,000 per year but the commissions on collecting rents and running expenses cut it down to about $8 000.

"SCHOOL-SITE OPTIONS."

This is the caption of a lengthy article in the News Record of yesterday. The charge is made that certain members of the School Board, together with some of the school officers, are interested in the purchase of school sites and that a certain real estate firm in good standing is working in harmony with the school authorities. The following is an extract from the article in question:

"The practice is for the building committee to arrange for the purchase of a site after it has been decided to erect a school in a particular district. The members of the committee know in advance of the public the location of the proposed school. Just how valuable such advance information is will be shown when I say that one firm of real estate dealers controls almost exclusively the site-purchasing business of the Chicago Board of Education. These men, I am informed, make a large income each year out of this particular line of trade.

"The plan of operations works in this way: When it is decided to build a school a district is mapped out within which the school is to be erected. Early information of the boundaries is conveyed in some way to the real estate dealers, and options are obtained on all the available sites. When the members go looking for sites they have perforce to do business with one firm only. What is the result? The books of the Board show it plainly. While a million dollars are spent for sites each year the prices paid are fully 25 percent higher than what the same property could be purchased for by private individuals."

The article further charges that an increase of salaries of teachers, superintendents and other employes has been made when a reduction should have taken place.

A member of the School Board thus describes the methods of school management by the superintendent:

"The School Board is rapidly degenerating into a body governed by small cliques, which regulate their conduct by whims of all sorts. For instance, we are obliged by law to use charts in the schools. The physiological charts are supplied by a firm against which a member of the Board has claims for work done for which she threatens to sue for $50,000 damages. The use of these charts is opposed by a clique just because it is thought a good thing to support the member with the grievance."

There is nothing new in the above "disclosures." Ten years ago this JOURNAL published an expose of the rottenness of school trustees and school authorities in the county, but the people continued to support the men implicated and continue them in power notwithstanding. The JOURNAL does not believe that the City Board of Education is half as rotten as the old system of purchasing school property was ten or fifteen years ago. A man who will sit still and wink at the dishonesty of district school boards when he knows they are stealing is not a fit man to govern the public schools in any department.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The State of Illinois has taken a front rank among the states of the Union in the matter of appropriation for the World's Fair. The total sum set apart for the Exposition on the part of the State is $800,000. The sum of $40,000 is to be devoted specifically to the exhibition of live stock owned in the State. The freight charges are to be paid on horses, cattle, swine and sheep and the express charges on poultry from all points in Illinois. After the payment of these charges the balance of the appropriation will be divided in the following proportion: To horses, 37 per cent; to cattle, 30 per cent; swine, 15; sheep, 12; poultry, 6 per cent.

It is estimated that by the time the World's Fair opens there will be need of at least $150,000,000 of insurance on the exhibits and buildings. There is now effected in the buildings over $5,000,000 insurance, and and $1,000,000 more will be needed to comply with the 80 per cent clause. It becomes a serious question, then, where this immense amount of insurance is to come from. Foreign insurance companies will doubtless come in for a large share of it. The suggestion has been made that it would be proper for the United States government to insure the exhibits, but this idea is not likely to meet with general approval.

The foreign demand for gold is likely to be further increased by the establishment of a gold currency for India. If the present agitation in favor of such a step should succeed, we may soon see an outflow of gold from this country to provide for the new Indian currency. There is no doubt that the demand for gold by foreign countries is on the increase. The supply also is increasing. Very rich deposits have been discovered in Nova Scotia. News comes also from Phoenix, Arizona, that the greatest gold fever ever known is on in Arizona. New placer mines have been discovered on the San Juan river and are said to be unprecedentedly rich. Yet it is safe to say that these new discoveries of gold in various parts of the country will not begin to keep pace with the demand for gold from foreign countries. That the world is constantly outgrowing its production of gold is evident. Unless some rational scheme for bi-metalism can be agreed upon, financial stringency is sure to result. What is needed is not an agreement to buy up silver. This would be like trying to bale out the ocean with a spoon. The true remedy lies in the establishment of an international ratio for the coinage of silver and gold, so that silver coined in one country shall circulate at par in every other country.

The cost of an ordinary street railway will not usually exceed $10,000 a mile. A few thousand dollars more will equip it with trolleys. Street cars cost about $1,000 each for the better quality. The total cost at these rates for the average electric street railway is not very considerable. Yet most of these railways are capitalized at absurdly high figures. The West End System in Boston, which is probably the largest system in the world, has, for instance, a capitalization of $91,000 a mile, of which about $62,000 is stock and $29,000 bonds. The bonds probably represent the approximate cost of the road and equipment, including real estate. The stock would then represent the value of the right of way. In the Boston case the right of way is worth $62,000 a mile on 248 miles of track. This is the enormous gift that the people of Boston have presented to the West End System and on which the latter is paying dividends. No wonder that there is a popular clamor for municipal ownership of street railways. If more than two-thirds of their capitalization is based on their franchises, on which they are paying large dividends at the public expense, it is time some of the "reform" candidates in State and municipal politics started an investigation.

A rather curious experiment was made in Belgium the other day. A manufacturer, before paying his workmen, marked 700 five-franc pieces with a punch, and distributed the coins in equal numbers among his hands. At the same time he requested the keepers of the grog shops adjacent to his works to hand over to him the five-franc pieces marked in the way described. Two days after the wages were paid more than three hundred of his silver coins were received by the employer. The statisticians have worked out the result, showing that in less than two days each workman had spent more than half his salary at the public house.

Few people realize what an undertaking it is to coin the five million souvenir half dollars for the World's Fair. The work is now in progress at the Mint in Philadelphia, and though it was begun some time ago and the first installment of the coins has been received in Chicago, it will probably take until the latter part of January to turn out all the coins. Several presses are in use and are capable of coining about eighty pieces a minute, but even at this rate the work will require two months. The silver used is the mutilated and abraded coin that has been stored in the United States Treasury at Washington.

The falling-off in the cotton crop of the South is partially compensated by the abundant rice crop, which now promises to be the greatest ever grown in this country. It is estimated that the crop this year will amount to 225,000,000 pounds. Fortunately the consumption is considerably in advance of the production. The minimun demand is estimated at 250,000,000 pounds. Prices have fallen sharply owing to a rush of the supply to the market; but inasmuch as importations cannot be sold at a profit at less than four to five cents a pound, it is probable the normal prices will be restored later in the season.

The South is still suffering from the hostility of of the general public to the railroads. Alabama and Georgia in particular are the stamping grounds for politicians whose delight it is to introduce into the legislatures of those States severe measures against railroad corporations. South Carolina also has caught the spirit of vigilance against the so-called railroad "octopus" and is about to pass upon the Wilson railroad commission bill, which has been characterized by a prominent Southern railroad president as "a scheme of confiscation under form of law." This bill gives the railroad commission power to fix passenger rates as well as freight rates. There is also added to the powers of the commission the right to fix joint rates between different railroads for both freight and passenger traffic. Another provision gives the commission power to require the erection of depots and station buildings at the pleasure of the commission. One measure introduced in the Georgia House requires the builders of a railroad to pay into the company 15 percent of the value of the road before the issuing of any stock. Still another bill makes the wrecking of railroads a felony, punishable by fine and imprisonment. A third bill enlarges the present powers and duties of the railroad commission relative to the supervision of the schedules of railroad companies, the investigation of the causes of accidents on railroads, the examination into violations of law by railroad companies and into the control of railroads in State by foreign corporations, the fixing of just and reasonable charges for transportation of freight and passengers—in fact, a complete railroad censorship. One measure introduced into the Alabama legislature provides for a railroad commission composed of a lawyer and two experienced railroad men, at a salary of $2,500 each per year, who are to have power to arrange schedules of freight and passenger rates at their discretion. These several measures would indicate that what the people of the States named most need is a lively appreciation of the fact that the most vital interests of any section of country are dependent on railroads. State ownership of railroads, dangerous though it is, is infinitely better than the measures proposed as outlined above.

During the present season no less than 11,200,000 tons of merchandise have passed the "Soo" Canal. Last year the amount was about 8,000,000 tons. This increase is owing almost exclusively to the growth of the marine trade of Duluth.

AGENTS' BUDGET.

Harry Greenebaum sold to J. O. Perkins and Anton Pinger 50x180 feet on Adams street near St. Louis avenue for $7,000. Attractive residences will be built upon the property.

Andrew Dunning reports the sale of twenty-nine lots in S. D. Anderson's addition to Jefferson Park for $6,380. Purchasers, Nancy and Luella Steele.

C. H. Eulette & Co. have opened another branch office at the southeast corner of Halsted street and Fifty-fifth boulevard and will do a general real estate business. They also have charge of the building in which they are located.

Wm. A. Merigold sold yesterday 50 feet on Monroe avenue, 175 feet north of Fifty-ninth street, east front for $7,250. The premises 5533 Dearborn street, for $3,800. Twenty-five feet on Walnut street, north front, between Sacramento and Albany avenues for $1,850.

John F. Archer, contractor and builder at Chicago Heights, has made a 99 year lease of lot 31, block 178, upon which he will erect a very handsome bank and office building. Mr. Thos. N. Fordyee, of Boston, Mass., purchased 100 lots at Chicago Heights during the week and has awarded a contract for the construction of 100 houses. Work has already begun and will be pushed very rapidly, inasmuch as there is a very great demand for houses. A. W. Walburn, of Walburn-Swenson Mfg. Co. has just returned from New York where he has been in consultation with Drexel, Morgan & Co. respecting railway facilities for the accommodation of his factory at Chicago Heights. The new side track, connecting his factory with the thirty-eight railways, is now being vigorously pushed and the Walburn-Swenson Co. expect to be in full blast by Jan. 15th. They will employ 500 men. Two hundred and ninety seven lots were sold at Chicago Heights during the week and contracts awarded for the construction of seven pressed brick store buildings and a large number of residences The Chicago Heights Land Association state that this week's business surpasses any previous week during the year. Mr. Wm. McDougal has plans prepared for a three-story pressed brick store building 75x125 feet, and is now prepared to receive bids for the construction of the same.

INTER-STATE COMMERCE COMMISSION.

The sixth annual report of the Interstate Commerce Commission has been transmitted to Congress. After stating that the origin of the Commission was the public necessity to do away with the many abuses which had arisen in the management of railways, the report further says:

"The interstate commerce law, although the outgrowth of an aroused and determined public sentiment, was a compromise between divergent theories and conflicting interests; but those who contrast the practices which obtained prior to the law with methods and conditions now existing will have no doubt of the potential value of the statute in correcting public sentiment, restraining injustice and enforcing reasonable charges and equal treatment. So far from condemning public regulation, experience has established its importance and intensified its necessity, and the very respects in which the law has failed to meet public expectation demonstrates the utility of government supervision. It is not too much to say that judicial interpretation has limited the meaning of the law and ascribed to it an intent not contemplated when it was passed. But the effect of these decisions has been greatly exaggerated; judicial construction has not invalidated the essential features of the statute nor condemned the general principle on which it is founded; and only in respect of appliances provided for carrying its main purpose into effect has the law been weakened by the judgment of the courts

The large shipper is entitled to no advantage over his smaller rival in respect of rates or accommodations, and to allow any exception to this fundamental principle is to subvert the principles upon which free institutions depend. The Comission is gratified at being able to add that many railroad managers of the highest standing now concede the necessity of government regulation and avow themselves in favor of such further enactments as will make that regulation effective.

During the year over 65,000 letters were sent out and more than 60,000 were received; nearly 50,000 annual and statistical reports and pamphlet decisions were distributed, and more than 125,000 tariffs were filed, making the total number off tariff schedules now on file with the Commission about 850,000. Some idea of the magnitude of the mere detail work of the Commission is given by these figures.

Since December 1, 1891, hearings have been held and investigations made not only at the Commission's rooms in Washington, D. C., but also in Cincinnati, Atlanta, Chattanooga, Nashville, Minneapolis, Boston, New York, Chicago, Omaha, Boise City, Portland, Ore., San Francisco, Los Angeles, Wichita and Troy, Ala.

The report states that the character of proceedings before the Commission indicates that the main causes of complaint arise from diseriminations and preferences in rates and facilities, and not from rates unreasonable in themselves.

LAKE FRONT OWNERSHIP.

An investigation into the real merits of the recent decision of the Supreme Court confirms the opinion that the city is the real owner of the Lake Front from Randolph street to Fifty-first street. If this position proves to be tenable it will give to the city one of the most valuable pieces of water frontage on earth; and the plan for the construction of a parkway may eventually be extended from the present Lake Front park to the World's Fair grounds.

EXAMINATION FOR ENGINEER AND ARCHITECT.

An examination will be held in the rooms of the Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C., commencing on January 17, 1893, and continuing for four days, to fill an existing vacancy in the position of engineer and architect in the office of the Commissioner of Fish and Fisheries, at a salary of $2,200 per annum. The examination will comprise letter-writing, surveying, mathematics, mechanics, designing and construction. It is necessary for applicants to supply themselves with a full set of drawing instruments for the examination. Applicants are requested to file applications at once with the Civil Service Commission.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

ASSESSMENT OF DAMAGES IN CONDEMNATION CASES.

Supreme Court of Illinois; City of Bloomington v. Frances J. Latham et al. When a city seeks to take or damage land for a street or alley, it is required to file its petition therefor in a court of records; and after notice to the defendants by the service of process or publication, the compensation must be ascertained by a jury, and the final judgment rendered upon the finding of the jury, is a lawful condemnation of the property to be taken, upon payment of the amount of such finding.

Section 53 of article 9 of the act relating to cities and villages provides that in the same porceeding to condemn land for a street or alley, the city or village may file a supplemental petition praying that an assessment be made "for the purpose of raising the amount necessary to pay the compensation and damages which may be, or shall have been awarded for the property taken or damaged, with the costs of the proceeding." There is no other provision made in the statute for making an assessment to pay such compensation and damages.

An ordinance directing that the cost of the land taken or damaged, or both, shall be assessed upon and collected from the lands abutting upon the proposed alley or street in proportion to the frontage thereof, in effect provides for the taking or damaging of the lands without just compensation, and is therefore unreasonable and void.

When there is an award of compensation for land taken, an assessment by special taxation of the amount of the award upon the land not taken, is not an adequate provision for compensation, because it compels the property owner to pay for his own land; and this is especially true where the condemnation judgment is for damages to the land not taken, as well as for the value of the land taken. In such case the special tax imposed upon the abutting residue in proportion to its frontage, falls upon the property which has been judicially determined to be damaged.

The taxing power of the Legislature is absolute only where it is not restrained by constitutional limitations. While the constitution authorizes cities to make local improvements by special taxation, it at the same time forbids the taking of private property for public use without just compensation. These two provisions must be construed together so that neither shall nullify the other.

FAILURE OF ELEVATOR SERVICE A DEFENSE TO CLAIM OF RENT.

New York Court of Common Pleas; Lawrence v Myeenian Co. This was an action for rent and the defense eviction. The answer of the defendant affirms that "the elevator and proper operation thereof constituted an essential and valuable part of that portion of said building so demised to the defendant, and the beneficial enjoyment thereof;" and alleges that "the plaintiff did, for long period of time, permit said elevator to be and remain out of repair and useless, and failed to provide and supply any or adequate service of persons to manage or operate the same; and thereby deprived the defendant of the beneficial enjoyment of the premises occupied by it under said lease," and that, in consequence of such deprivation, defendant abandoned the premises. The court held that the evidence was sufficient to support an inference of eviction, and accordingly gave a verdict in favor of defendant.

WILL OF A FEME SOLE VALID AFTER MARRIAGE.

Maryland Court of Appeals; Louis E Roane v Elizabeth M. Hollingshead, executrix. On the 9th of December, 1889, Rachel Hollingshead, then being a feme sole, made and executed her last will and testament in due form of law, and on the 12th of August, 1891, she married Louis E. Roane. On May the 13th, 1802, she died. Her will was propounded for probate in Orphans' Court of Baltimore City, and a caveat was thereupon filed by her surviving husband, wherein he claimed that the marriage had operated to revoke the will previously made. The single question involved then, is, whether the marriage of a woman revokes a will made by her whilst she is single.

Held, that the will was valid. The common law rule that the marriage of a feme sole revoked her previously executed will, was based on the ground that after marriage she had no longer any testamentary capacity, and as the reason for the rule no longer exists in Maryland, having been wiped out by statute, the rule itself should also cease to exist.

OWNERSHIP IN PROPERTY DAMAGED NOT NECESSARY TO SUSTAIN ACTION FOR NUISANCE.

Maryland Court of Appeals; Lurssen v Lloyd. This action was brought to recover damages for a nuisance. The appellee is the owner and occupier of the premises known as No. 418 W. Conway street, in the city of Baltimore, and the appellant the owner and occupier of the premises 414 and 416 on the same street. The former dwelt in his premises and rented out rooms to lodgers; the latter occupied his premises as a home, and was at the same time engaged in the manufacture of cigar, and other light wooden boxes, using a steam engine and boiler in connection with the business.

The evidence on the part of the appellee, shows that the use of said engine and boiler produced loud and disturbing noises and annoying vibrations on his premises; and that large quantities of steam, oppressive smoke, dust, soot and cinders came from appellant's premises and settled on those of the appellee, and entered his house, injuring the same, and causing the tenants to leave his premises, and causing appellee and his family great disturbance and discomfort.

One ground of defense relied upon by the appellant was that appellee was not the owner of the premises, the property having been sold under a decree of foreclosure. The court held that this was no bar to an action and that even if the appellee had been only a tenant he could have maintained the action.

DISTINCTION BETWEEN LIFE ESTATE AND DEFEASIBLE ESTATE.

Supreme Court of Illinois; Port v Rohrbach et al. A testator devised land to his daughter subject to the limitation that if she should die without leaving a child or children, and such child or children should die without leaving issue surviving them or one of them, it should revert to such of the children and descendants of the deceased children of the testator as should then be living, held: that the daughter took a defeasible estate in fee, subject to the conditions named, and not a life estate: and that the child or children of the daughter or their children took nothing under the will, and that the daughter had the power to convey the estate away until the happening of the contingency limiting it, and thereby to deprive her child of all interest in it.

POLICY AFFECTED BY CHANGE OF TITLE.

Supreme Court of Illinois. Home Insurance Co. of New York v T Bethel et al. A party holding a policy of insurance as assignor, which provided that if any change should take place in the title or possession, except by succession of death, the same should become void, contracted to sell the property to a third person without leave of the company for the price of $275 of which $175 was paid and note given for $100 due in forty days after date. The possession was not changed and the note and bond for a deed was placed in the hands of another person with instructions to deliver the bond to the purchaser on payment of the note, but if he failed to pay, the bond was to be returned to the vendor. The note was never paid and the premises were destroyed before the maturity of the note: Held, that the facts stated did not constitute a change of the title to the property, and therefore would not defeat a recovery of the policy.

REAL ESTATE BROKER'S COMMISSION.

Supreme Court of Minnesota; Haug v. Haugan. Where a real estate broker has at the request of the owner of real estate secured a customer who enters into negotiations with his principal, and such owner thereupon expressly agrees with the broker that he will pay him a specified sum as commission, if such negotiations are finally successfully completed, and a sale or exchange is finally consummated on terms agreed upon between the parties thereto, held, that the broker is entitled to the stipulated commission.

RAILROAD RESPONSIBLE FOR EXCAVATIONS.

Supreme Court of Minnesota; McCullough v. St. Paul M. & M. Ry Co. The removal, by excavating, by a railroad oompany in constructing its road of the of the latteral support to the soil adjoining its right of way is a taking, and the right to remove it can be acquired only by purchase of condemnation. In proceedings for taking for right of way a defined strip, the petition and order appointing commissioners not showing an intent to acquire the right to remove lateral support, it is presumed the commissioners did not allow damages for so doing, and the right to do it does not pass by the proceedings.

FORECLOSURE AGAINST AN ESTATE.

Supreme Court of Illinois; Roberts, adm'r v. Calton Flatt et al. Within two years after the grant of letters of administration the administrator presented his report to the County Court showing the amount of claims allowed against the estate, the claims filed and not allowed, and also showing that a creditor had a claim and its amount which was approved, but such last named claim was never filed in that court, nor any copy thereof: Held that the action of the administrator and the court was not sufficient to take the claim out of the two years' statute of limitations.

The statute requires all claims to be exhibited to the County Court within two years from the granting of letters of administration, and declares that "all demands not exhibited within two years as aforesaid shall be forever barred." Under the statute, although the administrator may be informed of the existence of a claim, and may so state to the court that a certain debt is outstanding with a view to lay a foundation to institute proceedings te sell land to pay debts, still those facts will not relieve the creditor of the duty of filing his claim in the County Court for adjudication, if he wishes to present the meaning of the statute.

The filing of a bill against the administrator and heirs of a deceased mortgagor to foreclose, and obtaining the usual decree of sale on the failure of the defendants to pay the sum found due within a time fixed, when the decree does not require the administrator to pay any deficiency after the sale of the mortgaged premises, will not take the case out of the two year statute of limitations as to such deficiency, or excuse the failure of the mortgagee to exhibit the note to the County Court within two years after grant of letters.

A decree of foreclosure of a mortgage, finding the amount due on the mortgaged premises provided that the administrator of the estate of the deceased mortgagee pay or cause to be paid such amount to the complainant in twenty days, with interest and costs, and that on default of such payment, the premises be sold, etc. Sale was made leaving a balance of $1,489 unpaid, which was reported and approved by the court, but no decree was entered requiring the administrator to pay this amount in due course of administration or otherwise. Held that the decree could not be regarded as one for the payment of money against the administrator which would entitle the complainant to share with other creditors in the assets of the estate.

PLANS BY ARCHITECTS.

Architect Francis J. Norton very properly objected to the error which crept into this column last week in stating that he was the architect of the Japanese building at the World's Fair. The truth is that Mr. Norton has been chosen as the architect of the Chinese building, an account of which was printed at length in the JOURNAL a few weeks ago.

Architect C. F. Hermann has planned a five-story and basement store and flat building, 37x88 feet, to be erected on Oak street, near Larrabee. Pressed brick and stone construction; cost, $3),000. He has also planned a three-story and basement flat building, 22x54 feet, to be erected on Seminary avenue; cost, $7,000.

Architects Morrison & Foster have planned for E. Jennings a three-story and basement flat building, 30x80 feet, to be erected on Monroe avenue near Fifty-fifth street. Stone construction, hardwood interior and steam heat; cost, $15,000. Also a two-story and basement apartment building, 22x55 feet, to be erected on Monroe avenue near Fifty-eighth street by E. Ransford. Frame construction; cost, $5,000.

Architects Thomas & Rapp are about completing for L. L. Smith a five story apartment house, 50x90 feet, on the east side of Lake avenue near Thirty-eighth street. The first story will be of Bedford stone, while the upper walls will be of pressed brick and terra-cotta. The interior will be in hardwood, mosaic floors, tile bathrooms, lighted by electricity, heated by steam and provided with passenger elevator; cost, $90,000. For Frederick Howard and W. Shearer they have planned a four-story and basement apartment building, 50x80 feet, to be erected on Forty-third street west of Indiana avenue. The exterior will be of stone and pressed brick, while the interior will be in hardwood and heated by steam; cost, $30,000. For L. R. Carswell they have designed a four-story store and flat building, 72x62 feet, to be erected on Cottage Grove avenue near Forty-second street. Brick and stone construction and will cost $35,000

Architect J. Friedlander has designed for Henry Peters a three-story flat dwelling, 21x50 feet, to be erected on Henry street. Rock-faced stone construction; cost, $6,000.

Architects Kleinpell & Borst have planned for E A. Munger a three-story apartment house, 40x72 feet, to be erected on Sixty-sixth Place near Stony Island avenue. It will be constructed of stone in the first story with Roman brick above, and the interior will be finished in hardwood and heated by steam; cost, $15,000. For the same owner a building of similar description, to be erected on Woodlawn Terrace, near Hope avenue; cost, $15,000.

Architect Thomas W. Wing has designed for N. H. Carpenter a lecture hall one story high, 44x60 feet, to be erected on Midway Plaisance. Frame and staff construction.

Architect W. H. Drake has planned for John Gunzenhauser a three-story flat building, 25x72 feet to be erected at 2426 South Park avenue. It will be constructed of buff Bedford stone, the interior being finished in hardwood and heated by steam or hot water; cost, $10,000. He is also planning a fine residence to be built on Oak avenue. The front will be of buff Bedford stone with gray granite columns. The interior will be very elaborate and will be heated by steam; cost, $15,000.

Architect Robert S. Smith has planned for Mr Kemp, a three-story hotel, 95x125 feet, to be erected at Brooks avenue and Seventy-fifth street. The foundation will be of stone and above this pressed brick or frame will be used; cost, $18,000. For Mrs. Kennicott he has planned a four-story store and flat building, 125x62 feet, to be erected at the northwest corner of Brooks avenue and Seventy-fifth street. Pressed brick and stone; cost, $40,000. For Jerome P. Bowes he has planned the Windsor Beach Hotel to be built at the northwest corner of Coles avenue and Seventy-fifth street. It will be three stories high, 100x100 feet; cost, $18,000. For the same owner he is planning a three-story flat building, 50x65 feet, to be erected on Garfield boulevard; cost, $16,000.

Architect Irving W. Kelley has planned the Louisiana, a four-story frame hotel, 100x163 feet, to be erected at the southwest corner of Avenue B and Seventy-first street by F. W. Farranta, Alexander Benn and L. W. Felt. It will be of frame and will contain 400 rooms; cost, $30,000. For Hans Matson and others he has planned a hotel of similar description to be built at the southwest corner of Seventy-third and Stony Island avenue; cost, $30,000.

Architect William Thomas has designed for John A. Roche a three-story and basement apartment building, 23x56 feet, to be erected on Oakley street near Warren avenue. It will be constructed of pressed brick and Bedford stone; cost, $9,000.

Architects Hanly & Cody have designed for A. D. Curry two two-story houses, 30x50 feet each, to be erected at South Evanston. They will be of frame with hardwood interiors; cost, $9,000.

Architect J. H. Moore has planned for George N. Culver a four-story and basement factory, 48x90 feet, to be erected at 223 and 225 Fulton street. It will be of brick with stone trimmings, the interior being of mill construction; cost, $15,000. For Morgan & Wright they have planned a three-story and basement factory, 50x100, to be built at 333 and 335 West Lake street. Press brick and stone construction, steam heat and elevators; cost, $14,000

Architects Wm. Griesser & Co. have drawn plans for a new and complete brewery plant at Thirty-ninth and Winter streets for the Carl Koerber Brewing and Malting company; cost, 175,000. The plant will comprise a group of buildings from one to five stories high and 125 by 220 feet in area, including engine and boiler houses. The construction will be of pressed brick, stone and iron. The same architects have plans for a big plant for the William Schmidt Baking Company on Clybourn near North av. The plant is to consist of bakery, stables engine and boiler house, four, two and one stories high, and covering 150 by 80 feet. The construction will be of common brick, stone and galvanized iron, and the improvement will cost $55,000. The same architects are preparing plans for a large distillery plant for a stock company, on a location withheld for the present. The distillery will be a 5,000 bushel house. The buildings are to be of frame on a stone basis and together with machinery and fixtures will cost about $160,000.

EPITOME OF NEW INDUSTRIES.

ALABAMA—Gadsden—The Baptists of the city will erect a church to cost $12 000 Rev. H. W. Williams can inform.—New Decatur—W. Chamberlain & Co., of Knoxville, Tenn., have prepared plans for a brick church at New Decatur.—New Decatur—Mrs. Smith will erect a $5,000 dwelling.

ARKANSAS—Conway — Rickon & Thompson's plans for a $20,000 court house have been accepted.

HOME-SEEKERS ATTENTION!

The United States Government has decided to open, November 22, 1892, for settlement under the homestead law, the unearned lands of the Marquette & Little Bay Du Noquet Railroad, heretofore reserved from entry, in Northern Michigan. At the same time the right of the Ontonagon & Brule River Railroad has been denied to a large tract of land in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. This gives an unprecedented chance to locate valuable timber and mineral lands, which are among the best in the Upper Peninsula, and are reached only over the North Star Route (Milwaukee & Northern Railroad) between Chicago and Lake Superior.

For further particulars address C. E. COLLINS Land and Immigration Agent, 161 La Salle street Chicago.

CHICAGO HEIGHTS!

THE GREAT MANUFACTURING AND BUSINESS CENTER.

Business and Residence Property For Sale at Extremely Low Prices and on Easy Terms.

DOLESE & SHEPARD, 162 Washington Street, Chicago,

HAVE BEEN AWARDED A CONTRACT AMOUNTING TO

($170,000) for the purpose of macadamizing 17 miles of streets and building stone sidewalks.

NO ASSESSMENT will be made for the improvements, the Association assuming the entire expense. The wise and prudent people who invest a small amount of money in CHICAGO HEIGHTS property will in a comparatively short time reap large benefits. No sane person can question the wisdom of making an investment in Chicago property.

Four large factories are in full operation and contracts closed with several others. A large number of residences and business houses in course of construction, also an extensive factory building for Roth & Englehardt, Piano Manufacturers of New York.

STABILITY OF THE ENTERPRISE

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company's 6,150 miles of road traverses a vast territory rich in all the resources that insure industrial success.

The Industrial Department is conversant with the Iron, Coal, Lumber and Tanbark, the Water-Power (both river and artesian) for factory and electric power purposes, the markets, the transportation and financial facilities, and other interests on the line pertaining to industrial development, and disseminates information concerning same.

A number of new factories has been induced to locate—largely through the instrumentality of this Company—at enterprising towns on its lines.

As the interest of the Company is to secure the location of industries at places where the surroundings will insure their permanent success, the information furnished a particular industry is pertinent and reliable.

In the Eastern States and in other parts of the world factories are so congested and distant from the actual markets as to result in fierce and destructive competition. That the West is taking a place as one of the great manufacturing territories of the world is forcibly impressing itself upon discerning and enterprising manufacturers. Steps should be taken by such while the field is as yet not fully covered, and while inducements are still being offered, to locate in the West.

Individuals or companies wishing to embark capital in Western industry can find a profitable field.

For particulars relative to industrial advantages on the line, address

Luis Jackson,

Industrial Commissioner, C., M. & St. P. Railway,

160 Adams St., CHICAGO, Ill.

The Marvel of the Musical World.

$30 worth of CHOICE MUSIC for $1.50.

The New York Musical Echo is quite a novelty in modern journalism, and affords a grand opportunity to musicians and music-loving people. It is a large quarto musical publication, published monthly, each number containing 24 full size pages of sheet music, the brightest, liviest and most popular selections of the day, both vocal and instrumental, together with a pretty cover, on which is a full page portrait of some beautiful actress for singer. The music and portrait changed with each issue.

A Year's Subscription to the New York Musical Echo is $1.50 (sample copies 15c.) and means 288 full size pages of sheet music and twelve fine portraits, making when bound one of the handsomest portfolios of the newest and nicest music ever published. We want our friends to be careful of each number as duplicate copies may soon be a thing of the past. Don't lose any of the pretty music we are publishing, so start from the December number. The American News Co., or any of the News Agencies will supply you, or order direct of us

HOME-SEEKERS ATTENTION!

The United States Government has decided to open, November 22, 1892, for settlement under the homestead law, the unearned lands of the Marquette & Little Bay Du Noquet Railroad, heretofore reserved from entry, in Northern Michigan. At the same time the right of the Ontonagon & Brule River Railroad has been denied to a large tract of land in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. This gives an unprecedented chance to locate valuable timber and mineral lands, which are among the best in the Upper Peninsula, and are reached only over the North Star Route (Milwaukee & Northern Railroad) between Chicago and Lake Superior.

BUSINESS OF THE YEAR.

The volume of trade for the year 1892 in the United States was fully 10 per cent greater than in 1891. This is shown not only by the bank clearings but by the reports from trade centres all over the country, showing that the volume of wholesale business this year has been far greater than that of any previous year in the history of the country. The bank clearings give the actual monetary transactions in the settlement of balances. They measure the exact amount of the trade of the country in dollars and cents as accurately as the result can be arrived at, and as the conditions under which the clearings are made up do not vary materially from year to year, the bank clearings are probably the best criterion of the real activity and prosperity of the country. Judged by this standard, the increase has been 10 per cent; but we shall see later on that the actual volume of merchandise and produce sold must have been much greater than is indicated by the bank clearings. Before discussing this phase of the subject, it may be interesting to glance at the relative progress of the various sections of the country during the year.

The average increase for 1892 over 1891 at New York city is about 10.7 per cent. This is about the same as the increase of 10 per cent for all the cities. Chicago's increase is about 16 per cent; Boston, 5.3; Philadelphia, 15.7; St. Louis 8.6. San Francisco decreases 11.4. Taking the cities by groups, we find that in the New England group every city shows an increase, but that the average increase is only about 5 per cent. The same uniformity of increase is shown in the Middle group, of which New York is the head. Here the average is only about 11 per cent, but this is in excess of the general average of all the cities. It may be remarked in passing that both the New England and the Middle groups suffered severely from the necessity of quarantine during the cholera epidemic last summer. The New York clearings fell off sharply at that time, as did those also at Boston, and so large a proportion of the total clearings of the country are represented by these two cities that the grand total suffered almost as largely. In the Southern group Baltimore shows an increase but New Orleans a decrease. Ft. Worth, Waco, Norfolk and Birmingham show decreases; the other cities of the group return increases. On the whole, the South has not equalled the volume of business of last year. The principal cause of this unfavorable showing is the shortness of crops throughout that section. The cotton crop has been much lighter than that of 1891, and while the rice crop has in some measure compensated for this loss, yet, on the whole, the agricultural prosperity of the South has been far below the average of 1891. Other causes have added to the general downward tendency, Not the least of these was the great strike in New Orleans, by which the entire commerce of that city and the adjacent country was held in a state of suspended animation for nearly two weeks. The damage thus done was irreparable. In the Western group a far different condition of affairs is noticed. Every city in the group shows a handsome increase, averaging altogether about 13 per cent. In the Northwestern group every city except Duluth shows a large increase; the average is over 16 per cent. It is thus seen that the loss in the Southern and Far Western groups is counterbalanced by the greater gain in the Western and Northwestern groups. The Southwestern group verages an increase. The Farwestern, averages a decrease. San Francisco, Tacoma and Los Angeles are the cities responsible for this falling off.

Although the volume of business as indicated by the bank clearings appears to have been 10 per cent greater in 1892 than for the preceding year, the fact is it was probably 20 to 25 per cent greater. The secret of this fact lies in the universal cheapness of all manufactured articles and agricultural products. The year 1891 was one of bountiful crops and a great volume of trade and manufactures, but it was also a year of higher prices than the year 1892. In agricultural products, this year also has seen large returns to the farmer, so that the two large crop years occurring in succession have caused a cheapening of staple farm products to figures in some instances lower than ever before known. On the other hand, labor-saving machinery and skilled workmanship have cheapened manufactured articles beyond all precedent. This cheapening process might have been expected to curtail the volume of trade, but it appears to have had an opposite effect. Cheap goods invite large purchases and as the prices go down the sales increase. Thus, in general business, the year 1892 will be remembered as a season of prosperity in which the volume of sales was beyond all precedent, while prices were at the lowest point ever before known.

Little has been done during the year in speculative investment. Real estate especially has been dull, but while purchases of property for a rise have been almost unknown during the year, the trading in staple business and residence holdings has been of good volume and healthy tone. This feature has been noticeable all over the country. Buyers have not been inclined to take on more than they could carry and the result will be seen in the future in the shape of firmer prices. On the stock exchanges a similar apathy has been apparent. At the same time there is no serious break in the prices of securities nor any inflation movement that threatens to bring disaster later on. All things considered, the situation is healthful and encouraging and the outlook for 1893 indicates the most prosperous year this country has ever experienced, unless some unforseen disaster intervenes.

The week given above is one of the largest in total volume of bank clearings of the present year. The grand total is 7 percent larger than last week and 24 percent larger than the corresponding week a year ago. The remarkable feature is that only ten of the American cities return smaller clearings than last year, while the increases throughout the entire list are more than usually uniform and generous. New York leads, with an increase of 28.1 percent, which accounts for the fact that while the total increase is 24.3, the increase for the cities excluding New York is only 18.4 percent. The New York clearings amount to about five-eighths of the total clearings of the United States. This is nearly two-thirds of the grand total, and we see by a glance at the percentages of increase that New York's increase is nearly one-half more than the total increase with the New York returns not included. This gives a faint idea of the importance of New York as a financial centre. A further comparison may serve to illustrate the growth of that city financially. During the week nineteen of the sixty-seven other cities of the table equalled or exceeded the increase reported from New York. Nearly all of these are small cities. Ten cities decreased; and thirty-eight showed increases varying from 1 to 28 percent. In general, then, it may be said that New York is not only by far greater financially than all the other cities of the table combined, but that her importance as a clearing-house centre is growing more rapidly than all the other cities.

New York and Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia are running a very even race so far as increases go. Pittsburgh shows a slight falling-off owing, it is said, to dullness in staple products during the rush of holiday trade. Minneapolis is suffering somewhat from the same cause. At Memphis trade has been unsatisfactory and collections slow. At Atlanta collections are better but the volume of trade has diminished. There is an unaccountable falling off at Lowell, Mass. Portland, Or., and Los Angeles of the Far Western group are in arrears this week but the other cities of the group are doing better than for some time past. At San Francisco ocean freights are said to be in an unsatisfactory condition. Freights are so low that many vessels either have to lie idle or load for owners' account. Wichita and Birmingham also return small percentages of decrease, owing to dullness at this time of year.

Throughout the west and northwest some increased movement of winter clothing is noticed, but on the whole the volume of wholesale trade is smaller than usual at this time of year. The usual quiet following a brisk holiday trade is already apparent and is anticipated for the weeks to come in full measure.

LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

The Street Railway stocks have been dull and devoid of interest this week. This was to be expected, owing to the fact that the week was so broken by the holiday on Monday. Were it not for the usual transactions in the way of changing stock from December to January account, the exchange would be more than usually lifeless in a week opening with a holiday. The number of transactions in turning from first to second account is said to be very large, and the fact that these do not as a rule appear on the list of sales makes the showing poor at the best.

The lack of activity in the Street Railways is the natural result of waiting for the annual reports. Expectation is on tiptoe to see what the net earnings will be, and there is a decided difference of opinion as to the outcome. Enthusiastic friends of the North Side road predict that the earnings of that company will be very large. Even conservative estimates count on a dividend of at least 12 per cent. This is based on probable earnings of 18 per cent. In the case of the West Side road the expectations are limited to 13 per cent net earnings and a dividend rate of 9 per cent. It is said that anything less than these figures will result in serious disappointment to the bulls in these securities.

The only active stock of the week was Lake Street Elevated. The recent change of ownership in this property and the prospect of some immediate developments have made this stock an attractive gamble for people who expect to scalp some handsome profits. Opening Tuesday at 32¼ the stock sold up to 35. The price fluctuated violently under various rumors, none of which could be definitely confirmed nor authoritatively denied. One of these rumors was to the effect that the men who have recently got control of the property would foreclose the mortgage now covering it, and would put outside holders of the stock at their mercy. The promoters deny this; but it is altogether probable that the present mortgage will be taken up and a new one substituted for it in the near future. This does not necessarily imply that the interests of stockholders are to be neglected.

Another rumor about Lake Street Elevated was to the effect that at the coming annual meeting a proposition will be voted upon by the stockholders to increase the capital stock from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 and also to increase the authorized issue of bonds from $3,000,000 to $6,000,000. The plan seems to be to issue $6,000,000 of new bonds at 5 per cent and retire the present issue of $3,000,000 which is drawing 6 per cent. New franchises will be asked for, and the money realized from the sale of stock will be used to extend branch lines of road northwest and southwest from the main line. The plan is said to be to build some fifteen miles of new road, mostly branch lines. It is thought no difficulty will be encountered in securing the right of way.

Streets' Stable Car has shown some activity during the week; and Strawboard has risen as high as 84, manifesting at times the greatest strength of anything on the list. The Brewery stocks have been heavy. The annual report shows an increase of 2,008 barrels for the year ending September 30, 1892. The net earnings of the American company for the year were £30,794.

A year ago Strawboard sold at 69½, a contrast to its present price of 84; Chicago Brewing and Malting pfd at 44¾, practically the same as at the present time; Streets' Stable Car sold at 34, while it now sells at 30; West Chicago Street Railway at 129, now selling at 214; Chicago Packing and Provision pfd, 46½, now 48; Diamond Match, 126½, now 153; National Railway of Illinois, 102½, now 132; Canal and Dock, 73¾, now 69; North Chicago Street Railway, 184½, now 281¼. These are a few sample comparisons showing fluctuations, most of which are increases.

It is seen from the foregoing that the year goes out with the local stock market strong, though not so active as brokers might wish. In common with all the speculative exchanges, stocks have been slow, but the tendency is evidently toward higher prices all along the line, and the disposition of holders is to expect still higher values in the near future.

It would be saying too much to prophesy that the prices of stocks on the exchange will certainly continue to range upward during 1893 as they have during the past year. It is claimed by many of the brokers that tight money is mainly at fault for the recent inactivity in the share market. Certain it is that the future of stocks on the exchange is closely linked with the willingness of bankers to make loans.

ANNUAL REVIEW AND SUMMARY, 1892

350 Large Sales Amount to Forty Millions.

Analysis of Past Three Years' Sales--Summaries for Twenty-One Years.

Some cynic has defined a real estate man as an illustration of mis-directed energy. The definition might have been more to the point if applied to the brokers who attempted to do a general subdivision business in 1892 on the wide-open policy which succeeded in 1889 and 1890. Good hard work on the part of real estate houses was certainly rewarded last year if directed in the proper channels, but it is certain that the business of selling cheap lots and outlying acre tracts was not one of the lucrative channels. The speculative buyers were out of the market almost entirely and investment buyers had their inning. In 1890 all that was necessary in order to make a sale was to convince your prospective buyer that the property offered him could be resold at a handsome advance in a few months. Some of the property which was bought in 1890 on this basis is still being held by the purchaser, it is needless to say. Last year this was all changed, and it became necessary to prove to prospective buyers that the property offered had an actual, intrinsic, income-bearing value. As a natural result of the changed conditions the proportion of sales of down town business property to suburban property was greater than it has been for some time. Holdings in the business district were in the sharpest demand on a 4½ and 5 per cent basis. The inquiry is now as active for centrally located holdings on this income basis as it was a few years ago at a 6 or 7 per cent rate. As the supply becomes more limited the buyers' views of income become more moderate and conservative.

The highest priced piece of property ever sold in Chicago was transferred on an income basis of only 5 per cent. One of the largest real estate loans of the year was made at 4½ per cent, and 5 per cent is quoted as an open rate for large loans on well located business property.

There have been some especially interesting transactions during the year in the form of long term leases, sales and business term leases. By the sale of the Inter Ocean fee from H. H. Kohlsaat to Marshall Field, the highest price ever paid in Chicago was registered. For a lot 20x40 feet Marshall Field, who is considered a ultra-conservative among real estate buyers, paid $200,000 or $250 a square foot. It is claimed that since this purchase was made Mr. Kohlsaat has offered a bonus of $5,000 for the fee, and that the offer has been refused. Another high point in land valuation was reached in a lease of the Equitable building. The Equitable building corner 40x90 feet has been the subject of a number of important transactions during the last year. It was first sold by Marx Wineman to Andrew J. Cooper, re-sold by Cooper to a local syndicate, headed by Owen F. Aldis, and finally leased for 198 years by this syndicate to Hulburd Dunlevy. The first two transactions established high valuations, but it remained for the lease to determine the valuation of $144 a square foot. This is the highest valuation ever placed on a Chicago lot of regular size. An interesting feature in the lease is the fact that the lessee expects to remodel the present building into a structure which will pay an income above the fixed charges. Most of the sales and leases of down-town high-priced property involve the removal of the present improvements and the construction of twelve or fourteen story office buildings.

The largest sale of the year was that of the Phenix building, at the corner of Jackson and Clark streets, by the Phenix Insurance Company of New York to the Western Union Telegraph Company for $1,500,000. The Phenix Insurance Company, soon after the sale, moved its Chicago headquarters to the Title and Trust building, and the Jackson street building is being fitted up for occupancy by the Western Union people early next spring. The removal of the Western Union Company from the corner of La Salle and Washington streets is to be followed by the improvement of that corner by one of the most extensive office structures in the city. If the plans of the Peck estate are carried out the entire corner, including the Peck property, 100 feet square, and the William A. Fuller property, adjoining on La Salle street, will be improved with the new Stock Exchange building. The Stock Exchange is to be given a lease for fifteen years, of space on the ground floor, at the southwest corner of the new building.

The funds of the Chicago University made their appearance in the investment market and promise to be even a more important factor in the future. The policy of the trustees of the University at first was to buy fees only. They now propose to take a broader view of the situation and consider eligible holdings in the down-town district to be bought in fee simple, and later on to be converted into fees. During the year two or three important purchases, including that of the Grace Hotel fee and of C. L. Willoughby's lot at the corner of Michigan avenue and Eldridge court have been made in the interest of the University.

The acre business has really amounted to but little during the year, and the dullness in this line has been in direct sympathy with the inactivity in the lot trade. There has been some little demand for acres along the North Shore, but this class of property differs in many respects from what is known as "suburban acres." The business of locating industrial towns has fallen into something like a decline, but the promoters of actual industrial towns which have some foundation in fact have met with fair success during the year in locating factories and disposing of property. The personnel of the real estate agents has changed with the conditions of the market. It takes a different class of brokers to sell down-town holdings to investing capitalists than it does to sell hundred dollar lots to out-of-town installment paying buyers. The volume of commissions earned during 1892 by Chicago brokers will not have to be divided around into so many small slices as was the total of commissions for the year 1890, for instance. The business has lost its attraction for many of the amateur real estate agents who flocked to the city during the boom period. A market which lacks the speculative element is always popularly considered dull, but the results of the year will no doubt be an agreeable surprise to those who expected a dull year in all lines and who even feared the possibility of a collapse. A crash following the over-stimulation of a boom year has probably only been averted by a combination of satisfactory conditions. The growth of the city in the last two years has been phenomenal in all directions. Wholesale houses report an increase in business all the way from 15 to 50 per cent over the volume of 1891. The country has been prosperous, crops have been good, and manufacturers have had a successful year. Aside from these general conditions there is a tendency on the part of manufacturers and shippers to remove to Chicago. It is admitted that Chicago's facilities as a distributing and receiving point are unexcelled, and no better evidence of this could be obtained than the list of new concerns which have established themselves in the city and suburbs or which have removed here from eastern points. The World's Fair progress has acted as wholesale advertising of the city's greatness. It is becoming understood that one of the greatest exhibits at the Chicago Exposition will be Chicago itself.

There has been an abundance of investment money at all times during the year. The sale to Marshall Field of the Inter Ocean fee is an instance of the placing of some of this investment money. The purchase of the Andrew McNally property on Wabash avenue for $300,000 is another instance of the same. The most important State street sale of the year, that of the Jerome estate, to Levy Mayer, is only one of a hundred other transactions of this nature which might be cited. The Jerome corner, with a frontage of forty-one feet on State street with one hundred feet on Quincy was sold to Mr. Mayer for $265,000 in cash, an equivalent of $87 a square foot.

The tendency to combine down town holdings, to secure large sites for buildings is becoming more and more a feature in the market. Two important transactions of last year demonstrated the difficulty of combining small holdings when such a move becomes advisable. One of these was the purchase of the Washington street frontage for Marshall Field's new building, and the other a lease of the property at the corner of Michigan avenue and Congress street to provide a site for the Auditorium annex. Agents were at work for more than a year to effect the purchase of the six parcels of property between Holden place on the west and Wabash avenue on the east. Five of them were finally bought by Marshall Field at high valuation and the sixth had to be taken on a long term lease. There was not quite so much difficulty met with in leasing the Congress street corner, inasmuch as the intentions of the lessee were not so well known as were the intentions of Marshall Field regarding the Washington street property. A half dozen purchases during the year might be given as illustrating this desire to combine holdings for future use. The Quinlan Building, covering 20 x 90 feet at the corner of Dearborn and Randolph streets, was purchased for $190,000 by the owner of the lot on Randolph street, adjoining, to which the twenty foot corner is necessary for successful improvement. The Lathrop property, adjoining the Real Estate Board Building on the east, was leased by the owners of the corner building, and the two properties will be improved and managed together. The Sears' property, adjoining the Reaper Block, was purchased by the McCormick estate, which now owns the Reaper Block, at a consideration of $220,000. The lot is 40 x 80 feet. Leander J. McCormick made a similar arrangement in securing Farwell Hall property, adjoining the Major Block on the east. The lot is 35 x 100 feet, and was purchased for $190,000.

Building operations have been carried on actively throughout the entire year, and the building season is now considered to include about twelve months of the year, instead of from eight to ten as in previous years. The principal down town buildings on which work has been done are the Columbus Building on State street, the southern extension of the Monadnock Building on Jackson street, the Old Colony Building, diagonally across the corner, the Isabel Building, just east of the Leiter State street building, the Hartford Building, the Boyce Building, the Y. M. C. A. Building, Maller's new wholesale building on Market street, the Teutonia Building at the corner of Fifth avenue and Washington street, and the Security Building at the corner of Fifth avenue and Madison street. The Giles' corner, at Jackson street and Fifth avenue, is to be improved with the Medinah Temple, to be built by the Shriners. Apartment houses in all the finer resident portions of the city have been favored projects of builders throughout the year, but the greatest building activity has been on the South Side. New hotels and apartment houses galore are being built around Jackson Park. The building of residences has probably not been carried on to an extent greater than that of 1890 and 1891, but the building of flat buildings of all kinds has been out of all proportion to that of any previous year. This construction has been in the face of the fact that building materials of all kinds have been much higher. Brick especially has been high, running up towards the latter part of the year 25 per cent higher than the normal price. There has been less difficulty in securing capital for building World's Fair Hotels and for World's Fair enterprises in general than was anticipated, and for this reason the buildings are of good character, many of them being designed for permanent improvements. The actual development in rapid transit service and building, which has been carried into the Jackson Park district by the location of the Fair will more than offset any decline which might follow after the close of the Fair. The theory that there is to be a reaction after the Fair, and that property will be on the market at a price much lower than that current at the present time is losing its supporters. This theory, however, has an element of promise for the market of 1893. The people who will wait from the first of 1892 until the close of the Fair to buy, and who find at that time that prices are not on the down grade, but are going up will be the most eager purchasers possible. It seems to be human nature to desire to buy on an up-grade market. The fear of an after-the-fair-reaction will transfer a portion of the business of the two preceeding years to the season directly following the Fair. The adherents of the reaction theory failed to take into consideration the growth of the city from year to year.

The year 1892 with all of its misgivings has produced fairly good results in the aggregate, and third best in the history of the city as shown by the table below. In the summary of transfers as exhibited in the second table we have compared the business of the past three years because this short period marks Chicago's most rapid growth in population, business and wealth. The year 1889 was the first in the history of the city to show a total of over one hundred millions, and the expiring year exceeds that year by nearly fifty millions. Barring the years 1890 and 1891, the past year yields the greatest total during a period of twenty-one years. And if we should discount the banner year of 1890 by deducting say ten per cent from the total for reconveying the same piece of property the same day or the same week, as is sometimes done for convenience or as a matter of form, the much abused year now closing would appear in a still better light. There is always more of this kind of work done in a boom period than during a year of legitimate trading such as we have just passed through.

The real estate market is very like the stock of happiness that is supposed to be large enough to go around though many never experience it. We always estimate our portion by comparison and think ourselves miserable if some other fellow secures a greater share than falls to us. It seems that competition in business can be carried to ruinous extremes and brings about the same state of affairs as results from overproduction—too many real estate agents and not enough business to go round. Nor will it improve the situation to widen the field and annex and subdivide adjoining territory.

Two things are necessary to sustain a strong and healthy market, viz: a long list of buyers and a long list of actual bargains to choose from. Unless everybody's judgment is wrong and the World's Fair a failure we shall have many prospective buyers, but we must persuade owners to come half way. There is such a thing as getting "out of sight" with a price list. Compared with 1890 we have had a dull season, but compared with other years preceding, the dying year ought not to pass away without due appreciation for the good that it bore us.

The following table shows the total number of sale

and total consideration of real estate transactions from 1872 to 1892, inclusive, covering a period of twenty-one years:

350 SALES AMOUNT TO $40,000,000

During the year 354 sales at $50,000 and upwards involved a total consideration of about $48,000,000. Deducting the amount of the Chicago Elevated Terminal transfer of $8,102,264 and several others that were only a matter of form, 350 bona fide sales were made involving over $40,000,000. Part of this large sum was for acres, but by far the larger portion was invested in gilt edge city property. One hundred and twenty-six of these large sales were for amounts of $100,000 and upwards, and seven of them for a consideration of $1,000,000 and upwards, the largest, except the Chicago Elevated Railway transfer, being $3,000,000. The remainder of large sales, or about 225 pieces, were sold for sums ranging all the way from $50,000 to $100,000 each. The total number of sales, expressed in round numbers, is about 38,000, which shows the vast extent of business in real estate that is transacted by men of small means. Thousands of this class of buyers have not yet received deeds for lots which are partly paid for, and in numerous instances syndicates have been formed for the purpose of securing home sites, which are represented by certificates of stock held by members. This method of acquiring homes was in vogue in 1890, and has continued throughout the last two years. Thirty-eight thousand sales to laboring men and women, and to others of moderate means, is a remarkable showing for a year of political excitement and misgivings. Outside of purchase money mortgages, the number of trust deeds and mortgages filed for record in 1892 is much smaller than for several years previous. Whatever there has been of speculative trading the past year it has been more for cash, and fewer options. Chicago is in better shape for an active real estate market the coming year than ever before in her existence.

SALE OF THE COMMERCIAL HOTEL PROPERTY.

The sale of the northwest corner of Lake and Dearborn streets for $400,000 has been practically closed by A. J. Cooper. The corner in question has 80 feet front on Lake street and 170 feet on Dearborn street and is owned by the Couch estate, which also owns the fee of the ground occupied by the Tremont house, diagonally across. Mr. Cooper obtained an option upon the northwest corner some time ago for $380,000 An offer of real estate in part payment was refused because the Couch heirs are anxious for the sale of the northwest corner of Lake and Dearborn streets chiefly for the purpose of clearing the fee in the southeast corner. It is now stated that Mr. Cooper succeeded in interesting local financiers in the Commercial hotel corner and that the sale for $400,000 is practically consummated.

The Couch estate, however, is only a part of the very valuable ground occupied by the Commercial hotel. The 60x150 feet adjoining the Couch corner on the west were leased twelve years ago by C W. Dabb & Co. The lease on this addition as well as on the Couch estate expires May 1. Parties informed in the premises claim that the hotel corner proper now pays a gross rental of 6 per cent on $400,000 annually.

The Commercial hotel was established in 1872 In that year William H Ward, trustee of the Couch estate, erected the five-story and basement stone-front building at the corner for the American Express company. This corporation refused to take the structure after completion, and Messrs. High & Magie, owning the west adjoining sixty feet, uniting with the Couch estate, added their four-story buildings to the corner structure. Howell Pulling and Hiram F. Ingraham leased it as a hotel, opening the structure in 1872. Mr Ingraham died in 1874, and his father, Granville S. Ingraham, assumed his interest in 1876, securing entire control of the house. In November, 1880, C. W. Dabb, formerly of the Palmer house, became a partner in the enterprise, and in 1884 organized the firm of C. W. Dabb & Co. as proprietors, he acting as manager.

THE CHICAGO REAL ESTATE BOARD.

The Chicago Real Estate Board under Mr. E. S. Dreyer's administration has been successful in an eminent degree. Under the direction of the Board the "Land Transfer Commission" was formed and a report issued embracing a bill for "An Act Concerning Land Titles" to be presented to the Legislature of Illinois at the next session. The abuses of our system of levying special assessments have been pointed out and discussed at the monthly dinners of the Board, and measures taken to bring about reform in that department of the city government. During the year in the months of February and October the president and several of the active members of the Board attended the sessions of the National Real Estate Congress at Nashville and Buffalo, taking an active part in the measures of reform inaugurated by that body. One of the most important steps taken by the president and working members of the Board was the preparation of a new charter for the city of Chicago, whereby the absolute sections of the present charter will be expunged and many new and necessary provisions incorporated.

The membership has been largely increased, a valuable library established and a thorough system of rating tenants adopted and put in practice. A new and commodious room on the ground floor of the Board building was fitted up and Real Estate auctions established; the judges of the different courts of the city and county having recommended the holding of auctions for the sale of real estate under decretal orders there. In short, the past year furnishes a bright page in the history of the Chicago Real Estate Board.

THE AMERICAN TARIFF—ITS PAST AND ITS FUTURE.

ARGUMENTS PRO AND CON, BY J. STEPHEN JEANS

In the JOURNAL of Dec. 17, was published an article entitled, "Assessed Valuation and Municipal Indebtedness of Twenty Leading Cities," with tabular statements showing averages for the ten years from 1880 to 1890 inclusive, illustrating the comparative prosperity of agricultural and manufacturing districts in the United States.

The following extract taken from the article by J. Stephen Jeans in the Fortnightly Review gives the most comprehensive view of the subject of the American Tariff ever published, as it practically presents both sides of the subject:

In the United States as a whole, in 1880, there were 15.3 per cent of the population engaged in agriculture and only 7.6 per cent in manufactures, as compared with 23 per cent. engaged in manufactures, and 7 5 per cent. engaged in agriculture in the United Kingdom. In Belgium, which is a remarkably prominent industrial state, the corresponding totals were 14.6 per cent. in agriculture and 17.2 per cent. in manufactures; and in France 18 per cent. were engaged in agriculture and 12 per cent. in manufactures. Ten years ago, indeed, the United States were very backward, as compared with most European countries. from a manufacturing point of view. In the interval there appears to have been a process of revolution going on, for most of the principal cities have largely increased the numbers of their total population engaged in manufacturing industry. In New York, that per centage has increased from 18.8 to 23.1; in Philadelphia, from 21.8 to 24 1; in Buffalo, from 11.5 to 19.2; in Rochester, from 15 7 to 24; in Chicago, from 15 7 to 18.5 per cent; and in Cleveland, from 13.1 to 18.4. Taking the eight Northern and New England cities already tabulated, it appears that, in 1880, 19.9 per cent. of the whole population were engaged in manufactures, and that in 1890 this figure had increased to 23.7 per cent. In the Middle and Southern States the increase does not appear to have been so marked as might have been expected, but still in the few cities above tabulated the proportion has advanced from 13.6 to 16 5 per cent. In the case of one small town—Lynn, near Boston—no fewer than 34.5 per cent. of the total population were actually engaged in the work of production, a percentage that very few towns, even in the manufacturing districts of England, could equal.

In Buffalo, the manufacturing population has, in the ten years dealt with, increased by 144.6 per cent.; in Rochester, by 116 per cent.; in Chicago there has been an increase of 143 per cent.; in St. Paul, of 210 per cent; in Cleveland, of 118 per cent; in Kansas City, of 434 per cent.; and in Denver, of 223 8 per cent. The claim of the New South to be considered a serious participator in American manufacturing industry, is supported by the fact that the manufacturing population of Nashville has increased by 43 per cent., and that of Atlanta, Georgia, by 92 9 per cent. EX UNO DISCE OMNES.

What, however, is probably most of all remarkable in the recent census returns of manufactures, is the fact that between 1880 and 1890 the actual advance of wages paid in manufacturing industry has increased to a larger extent than the increase which took place in the previous thirty years. This appears to be so startling a statement, that it might be deemed to be altogether incredible, were it not supported by the sober and unbiased testimony of a census report. But whatever interested motives may come into play in the case of a single industry or individual, in making statements of wages, there is little or no reason to suppose that any sinister motive could possibly be allowed to interfere with the veracity of census agents in census reports; nor is it easy to conceive of any adequate motive that could induce the manufacturers of the United States as a body to make returns that are unworthy of credence. It is, indeed, notorious that of late years there has been a large rise in wages paid in manufacturing industry all along the line. In some special cases the wages paid appear to be more than equal to the incomes of professional men of fairly good standing in this country, and they would be esteemed absolutely handsome if enjoyed by professional men on the continent of Europe. The strike at Homestead, on the part of Mr. Carnegie's men, took place against a proposal to vary the terms of an arrangement under which a comparative handful of men were enjoying incomes of $1,500 to 2,000 a year, and that, too, for manual labor that was not remarkably difficult or skilled. In 1880 the average wages paid per employe in the manufacturing industry of the eight northern cities above tabulated was 397 dols. In 1890 the average had risen to 579 dols. In the interval there was an increase of 182 dols., or nearly 47 per cent. Let us compare these averages with those of previous years In 1850 the total number of hands employed in American manufactures was 955,000, and their average wages amounted to 250 dols. In 1880 the average of the 2,719,000 hands then enumerated as similarly employed was returned at 350 dols.; so that in the interval there had been an increase of average earnings to the extent of 40 per cent. So far, therefore, as the figures allow a judgment to be formed of the situation, it appears that in the last decade the average increase of wages was 7 per cent. more than the average increase for the previous thirty years The cities of the North, where manufacturing industry has been the longest established, appear to pay a considerably higher rate of wages than the cities of the West and South. In New York, for example, the average of 1890 was 650 dols, whereas in Chicago the average was not more than 586 dols. Denver has the highest average wages of all the cities tabulated. rising to 776 dols., an increase of income that may go to compensate to some extent for the risk to human life involved in the habit of "shooting around," which is said to be characteristic of that advanced community. Even in the textile industries, which have, on the whole, pursued a tolerably even tenor during the last ten years—although, of course, making large headway, like other manufactures—the official returns show an average of 332 dols. per employe in 1890, as compared with an average of 242 dols. in 1880, or an increase of 37 per cent. Other figures, which might be multiplied to any extent, support the same general conclusion, namely, that whatever else the tariff has done, or has failed to do, it has at any rate permitted a higher rate of wages to be paid in 1890 than in 1880.

It is not, however, to be assumed that the increase which has undoubtedly taken place in the average rate of wages paid is entirely due to the American Tariff Probably, if the tariff had not been in operation, the competition in manufactures from outside countries would have made it impossible to pay so high a rate of wages, but the American States carry on a very active and a very real competition among themselves, and they are bound to look to the keeping down of wages, as far as they can, in the rivalry of one district against another. Finding that high wages must be paid, in order to provide for the higher cost of living, and keep the working man in a good humor with the fiscal arrangements of the country generally, the American manufacturers work with might and main to make that labor as efficient as it can possibly be made. This has been secured in a remarkable degree by the introduction of labor saving appliances of every kind. As a consequence, the increase of wages already shown to have occurred, has been accompanied by a considerable increase in the annual value of the product obtained per employe. The census returns, indeed, show for the eight Northern manufacturing cities already tabulated that the average value of the PER CAPITA product was 1,648½ dols. in 1880, and had advanced to 2,136½ dols, in 1890, being an increase of 488 dols., or about 30 per cent. Hence it would appear that an advance of wages, to the extent of about 47 per cent., has proceeded PARI PASSU, with an advance in the average value of the product to the extent of 30 per cent; but, of course, when we come to absolute figures, it appears that the average value of the product shows a much larger increase than the average rise in the wages paid. This fact explains how it happens that wages have increased concurrently with a general fall in the value of the prices of commodities, and with a greatly enlarged and increasingly prosperous business on the part of manufacturers.

There appears to be a general impression in this country that the McKinley Tariff has had the effect of increasing the prices of commodities generally. No doubt it has had that tendency as regards certain important productions, but the GENERAL course of prices has been downwards for a comparatively long series of years, and neither the McKinley Tariff nor any other legislative measure or proposal has been able to arrest this movement. Nor would it be proper to omit reference to the fact that the American people themselves do not allow that that Tariff has been calculated to advance prices except in a very few special cases. On the contrary, Mr. Carnegie recently stated that it was, on the whole, the greatest free-trade measure that the United States had ever known, reducing the duties on many articles and increasing them only on a few. The imports of articles admitted free of duty into the United States in 1891 were 43 3 per cent. of the whole, but this percentage has not varied much of late years, so that the figures cannot be held to prove much. But it is certain that the McKinley Tariff has not succeeded in stopping the flow of imports into the United States, for in the year 1891 the imports of all kinds were 55 millions more than in the previous financial year Only 8.3 million dols. of this increase appears in imports from the United Kingdom, so that we have not participated in the advance to the extent that might have been expected. But however that may be, the official records of prices in the principal markets of the United States show indubitably that there has been a considerable fall within recent years. Only one or two examples need be cited. In the New York markets, wheat (red winter) has fallen from $1.276 per bushel in 1880 to 98 cents in 1890; beef has fallen from 10.44 dols per barrel to 6.96 dols.; lard has fallen from 7.91 to 6 33 cents per lb.; medium wool has fallen from 55 to 37 cents, and standard cotton sheetings have fallen from 8.51 cents to 7.0 cents per yard. These are substantial reductions, and falling, as they do, co-incidently with a great increase in the earnings of labor, go to show that the condition of the working classes of the United States during the last ten years has been greatly ameliorated, whatever complaints and statements to the contrary may have been made.

Nor has the United States suffered in the direction that the Tariff reformers appear disposed to think should have happened—namely, in that of contracted foreign trade. On the contrary, the imports of commodities into the United States between 1880 and 1891 increased from 667 to 844 millions of dols—an increase of 177 millions; while the exports of home or domestic merchandise increased from 823 to 872 millions of dols.—an increase of 49 millions. These unitedly represent a larger increase than has occurred within the same interval on the part of any other country in the world. And what is perhaps more important is the fact that although agricultural produce is , and probably will always remain, the staple trade of that country, yet there has been a sensible increase of late years in the exports of what are described, in the official "Report on the Foreign Commerce of the United States," as "the products of manufacture." In 1880, 83.2 per cent of the total American exports were agricultural, 9 6 per cent. were products of manufacture, and 7 1 per cent. were products of forests, fisheries, and mining. In 1891, however, manufacturing products had risen to 19.3 per cent. of the whole —having more than doubled— while the exports of agricultural products had fallen to 73.7, and of other products to 6 9. This is surely not a bad record for a country that has adopted protection to home manufactures on such a large scale.

Enough has probably now been said to show that the American Tariff, however mistaken it may be from an English point of view, and however inapplicable its operations might be to the totally different circumstances of the mother country, does not appear to have been a particularly bad thing for the Americans themselves. There has, nevertheless, been a strong disposition on the part of otherwise wise and worthy men to set down the system of which it was the potent instrument as archaic, absurd, and subversive of national well-being. America has not unnaturally resented the interference of England in her fiscal arrangements, and has felt "riled" at the pitying terms in which her Tariff follies have generally been commiserated. England, on her part, has appeared to think that the American Tariff was more or less a device of the enemy to damage her special commerce This is no new thing. Many years ago Washington Irving spoke with a considerable degree of bitterness of what he regarded as the unfriendly attitude taken up by England towards his country, and he added that "should those reverses overtake her from which the proudest empires have not been exempt, she may look back with regret at her infatuation in repulsing from her side a nation she might have grappled to her bosom, and thus destroying her only chance for real friendship beyond the boundaries of her own domains." Since then, happily, the two nations have come to understand each other somewhat better, although probably a good deal yet remains to be done in that direction. Intercourse of a friendly character has increased with the increase of commercial relations. America has been our best customer, and consequently our best friend, as the following figures show:—

III.—VALUE OF THE TOTAL EXPORTS FROM THE UNITED KINGDOM TO FOREIGN COUNTRIES, STATED IN AVERAGES OF QUINQUENNIAL PERIODS, WITH THE PROPORTIONS OF SUCH TOTALS RECEIVED BY THE UNITED STATES (NOT INCLUDING COLONIES).

Annual Average for Period	Total Exports from United Kingdom to Foreign Countries £1=1,000,000.	Proportion Exported to United States £1=1,0 0,000	Percentage of Total to United States per centage
1855—59	79	19	16 4
1860—64	92	15	10.9
1865—69	131	24	12 9
1870—74	175	33	14.1
1875—79	135	18	9.0
1880—84	153	28	12 2
1885—89	147	28	12.2

Incidentally it will, of course, be remarked that this record proves the futility of a tariff in regard to keeping out of a country commodities that the country needs or desires. A large part of the above exports from Great Britain to the United States, amounting in the aggregate, for the period 1855–1889, to the colossal sum of £785,000,000, was dutiable, and on much of the total the duties were high, but the Tariff has been ineffectual to prevent the Americans from purchasing even protected goods in English markets.

SALES FOR $50,000 AND UPWARDS.

In the next issue of the JOURNAL January 7 1893, will be published a complete list of all real estate sales of $50,000 each and upwards. The general leases for 99 years and all long term leases are contained in this issue, following the weekly record of transfers and mortgages.

THE JEFFERSON STREET RAILWAY COMPANY.

An ordinance has been introduced in the City Council for the Jefferson Street Railway to grant them a franchise to build an Electric Railway from the junction of Milwaukee and Elston avenues and on Elston avenue to the city limits on Milwaukee avenue to Pratt street in Jefferson Park and on Pratt street and Lawrence avenue back to Elston avenue; also on Crawford avenue from Elston to Clybourn, and on Irving Park boulevard from Elston avenue west to the city limits. This line is to be built by the property owners along its proposed route. It is stated by the leading men of the enterprise that it will be in operation by the first of July next. Mr. Ardrew Dunning who during the year sold several valuable tracts of land in the vicinity of Dunning and on Irving Park Boulevard is one of the backers of this railroad. The City Council should pass this ordinance without imposing any severe restrictions upon this company whose members are doing more for the people of Jefferson than has ever before been done.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The diversion of capital from real estate investment to other channels was caused by, (1) the unreasonable demands of owners, (2) the drain of ten millions of dollars or more from the banks and the pockets of the people for World's Fair purposes, (3) the impending special assessments for all kinds of improvements, (4) the excitement attending the presidential election and the threatened change of the tariff laws. To these might be added the reaction that is always sure to follow a boom, but this is partly embraced in the first cause. Had prices fallen uniformly and gradually with competition as in other departments of trade we might have gone on subdividing and selling lots until now. But real estate speculation is not done by "halves" and when the boom begins it goes on till it bursts. The real estate market in 1887-88-89 was perfectly normal and rested on the legitimate demands of increasing population, business and wealth This natural growth and improvement were interrupted by the announcement that Chicago was to have the World's Fair. It may be said that the ten millions for the Fair was not taken out of the channels of circulation and business but it was surely diverted from real estate investment and is not now being used for that purpose in any wise. It may some day return to the pockets of those who will buy Chicago real estate but is so thoroughly scattered and badly needed by many of those who have it that such a condition is still remote.

The country merchant who was not content to do a moderate business in all of the commodities usually dealt in by country stores, listened to the wiles of a traveling man who induced him to buy $5,000 worth of crocks and other things in the line of pottery—on time; when that amount of money about equalled his capital stock, was soon unable to pay his debts. The next time the "drummer" came to see him, he came with the sheriff who asked the "busted" storekeeper if he had any assets. Pointing up to the long rows of crockery and pots along the shelves, he said "Yes! these same assets are what caused all the trouble; take 'em along!" He diverted his capital from its legitimate channels and could not convert it when needed.

Chicago is a great city and its citizens are almost invincible but they cannot expect to invest $10,000,000 in a World's Fair, $20,000,000 in a canal and $17,000,000 per annum for the purposes of maintaining municipal government and making improvements and have a large surplus fund on hand all of the time for realty investment. There is only one trouble with the World's Fair as a money making business. We are all compelled to pay for it, but only those within the charmed circle will receive of the fruit thus cast upon the waters.

The legal abuses which have arisen under the statutes in this State have been frequently commented upon by the JOURNAL, and other papers are now taking up the cudgel in behalf of reform. It is to be hoped that the agitation will be productive of some good in the way of legislation which is sorely needed to change the methods in vogue in our courts of justice and to give us speedy and certain redress of wrongs in every instance. The fault to be found with judicial methods in Illinois is that they are too cheap and too much dependent on the whims of juries rather than on the learning of the judge.

It has been pointed out that the judges of our courts have little or no authority further than that of presiding officers, to maintain order. They can not under the statutes do much more than to sit calmly by and let the jury bring in the verdict both as to the law and the facts. This absurd custom is the first thing to be reformed. The jury should never be trusted with the interpretation of law, for the very good reason that the average juryman knows nothing about the law. The province of the jury is to decide as to the facts in the case; the business of interpreting the law should be left entirely in the hands of the judge, whose training and ability especially fit him for this task. If the present system of leaving both law and facts to the jury is to be continued judges are unnecessary. Able-bodied bailiffs can preserve order in the court-room, and the juries, having the entire matter in their own hands, can administer about as good a quality of justice without judges as they do now with those honoraries, handicapped as they are by this absurd statute.

This abuse is bad enough in civil suits, but it is worse in criminal trials. What knowledge of criminal law does the average jury possess? And yet the liberties of accused persons and the protection of the commonwealth against criminals are placed in the hands of men drawn at random out of a panel of non-registered voters, whose principal qualification is that they know nothing of the very laws they are called on to interpret. The judge can do nothing. Even though he may know that a man is guilty or innocent he can neither acquit or convict him. Judge, counselor, and prisoner and the public at large are entirely at the mercy of the twelve men in the box; and so uncertain is the outcome of their deliberations that we are not infrequently treated to the spectacle of a prisoner sentenced to be hanged by one jury, obtaining a new trial on account of some unguarded remark of the judge, and getting scot free at the hands of a second jury on precisely the same evidence. Does any one think that in either case justice is or can be be done, or that we shall ever have substantial justice in this State until the idiotic statute giving the interpretation of law to the jury is repealed?

The depreciation of our present inflated silver currency to such an extent that one dollar of silver is worth less than 70 cents in gold, is a fact which may well cause our national financiers to take warning. The further fact that this depreciation is constantly being accelerated by the addition of 4,500,000 ounces of silver monthly to our present overburdened capacity for that metal, is a genuine cause for alarm. The situation is bad enough as it is, but the continuance of the present suicidal policy of trying to maintain silver at a par with gold by buying up the former metal would be sheer madness. The only reasonable course is to stop the further purchase of silver at ce. This might have the effect of stemming the tide of depreciation which at present threatens to sweep all before it. Bnt a little farther prolongation of the present policy will wreck our currency irretreviably. It has been very pertinently asked what is to hinder counterfeiters from coining silver dollars and exchanging them for gold at a profit of 30 to 40 per cent to themselves at the present ratio of value between the silver and gold dollar. That this could be done without detection is a sad commentary on our silver currency.

AGENTS' BUDGET.

Wm. A. Merigold & Co. have sold the premises 4213 Calumet avenue for $8,950.

John G. Rogers & Co. is the name of a new real estate firm, beginning business with the new year, and located at 1310-1313 Chicago Title & Trust Building, 100 Washington street. John G. Rogers has been associated for the past five years with the real estate firm of Snow & Dickinson and T. G. Dickinson & Co. George Mills Rogers, Master in Chancery of the Circuit Court, is connected with the firm as legal adviser.

The Omaha Building, at the southeast corner of of Van Buren street and Pacific avenue has been reconstructed and one hundred offices have been added. The area of 50x50 feet in rear has been built up seven stories high. A new steam plant has been put in with Crane's improved elevators; the interior of the building has been finished in hardwood and supplied with the best plumbing. Stores on the first floor are rented at from $3 to $5 per square foot.

RAILWAY STATISTICS FOR THE YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1891.

MILEAGE.

Railway mileage in the United States on June 30, 1891, was 168,402.74 miles. This figure indicates the length of single track mileage, the total mileage of all tracks being 216,149.14 miles. The length of single track per 100 square miles of territory, exclusive of Alaska, was 5.67 miles, and the length of track per 10,000 inhabitants was 26.29 miles. Some of the States are exceptionally well provided with railway facilities, as may be seen by the table of the report which shows the length of line in the several States per 100 square miles of territory. Such assignment shows for Connecticut 20.77 miles, for Delaware 16.10 miles, for Illinois 18.25 miles, for Iowa 15.12 miles, for Massachusetts 25.99 miles, for New Jersey 27.71 miles, for New Nork 16.19 miles, for Ohio 19 68 miles, for Pennsylvania 22.77 miles The only countries in Europe which have an excess of 10 miles per 100 square miles of territory are Germany with 12 77 miles, Great Britain with 16.52 miles, France with 11.23 miles, Belgium with 28 71 miles, Holland with 13.83 miles, and Switzerland with 12 43 miles. No country in Europe, Sweden alone excepted, has 10 miles of line per 10,000 inhabitants; while in this country, on the other hand but two States have less than 10 miles of railway per 10,000 inhabitants.

The increase in railway mileage during the year was 4,805 65 miles. This is less than the average of increase for several years past. The greatest activity in railway building seems to have been in the States lying south of the Ohio and east of the Mississippi rivers, the total increase in these States being 1,670.83 miles. The steady increase of railway mileage in the Southern States during a year when there was general quiet in railway building in other parts of the country indicates a healthy development.

EARNINGS AND EXPENSES.

The gross earnings from operation during the year ending June 30, 1891, were $1,096,761,395, or $6,801 per mile of line, leaving the net earnings from operation $364,873 502, or $2,263 per mile of line. The net earnings per mile of line were less than the net earnings of the previous year by $37. : An analysis of gross income shows that freight traffic gave rise to $736,793,699, or 67.17 per cent of total earnings; and that passenger traffic gave rise to $281,178,599, or 25.64 per cent of total earnings. The amount received from carrying mail was $24,870,015, and the amount received as rentals from express companies was $21,594,349. The analysis further shows that $133,911,126 were received by railways as income from investments. The assignment of operating expenses shows that 34.08 per cent is chargeable to the passenger service, and 65.92 per cent to freight service. The percentage of operating expenses to operating income was 66 73 per cent. The number of passengers carried during the year was 531,183,988; the number carried one mile was 12,844,243,881. The number of tons of freight carried was 675 608,323; the number carried one mile was 81,073,784,121. The total number of miles run by passenger trains was 307,927,928, and the number of miles run by freight trains was 446,274,508. The average journey per passenger was 24.18 miles, and the average haul per ton of freight was 120 miles. The average number of passengers in a train was 42, and the average number of tons of freight in a train was 181.67. The average revenue per passenger per mile in 1891 was 2.142 cents, and the average revenue per ton per mile was .895 cent. The average revenue per train mile, passenger trains was $1.06,111 and the average revenue per train mile, freight trains, was $1.63,683.

CAPITALIZATION AND VALUATION OF RAILWAY PROPERTY.

The total capitalization of railways of the United States is $9,829,475,015 or $60,942 per mile of line This shows an increase in outstanding capital of $602 per mile of line as compared with the 1890 report. An analysis of the changes in capital outstanding shows that income bonds have increased from $76,933,818 to $324,288,690. A considerable portion of this increase is probably due to a conversion of stocks into income bonds. It is significant because it shows an increase in that form of property for the management of which directors are not held to strict responsibility. Equipment trust obligations have also increased from $49,478,215 to $54,755,157. A few years ago the opinion prevailed among railway men that the leasing of equipment by railway companies was fast disappearing. This opinion is not supported by the facts.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

MORTGAGE OF CROPS TO BE PLANTED IS INVALID.

Supreme Court of New York; Rochester Distilling Co. v. Razy. A chattel mortgage on a crop to be planted after its execution is invalid as to subsequent purchasers and attaching creditors of the mortgagor, since annual crops raised from planted seed have not even a potential existence before the seed is put in the ground, and a sale under execution levied against the growing crop gives the purchaser a valid title as against the mortgagee or a subsequent purchaser on foreclosure. The intermingling by the purchaser on foreclosure of a crop raised from seed planted both before and after the execution of the mortgage gives him no right to retain the entire crop, where the evidence shows the quantity obtained from each planting, and the purchaser at an execution sale is entitled to the portion obtained from seed planted after execution and delivery of the mortgage.

DEPOSIT ON CONTRACT OF SALE TO BE RETURNED.

Appellate Court, 1st District of Illinois; Highlander v. Ostrom. This was an action for repayment of money advanced upon contract for sale of land. The referee reported that the title was not such as appellee was entitled to receive and that the money deposit should be returned. Judgment accordingly. Upon the whole case we see no sufficient reason for interfering with the decree of the court below, and it will be affirmed. Affirmed.

PARTIAL LOSS DOES NOT ABATE POLICY,

Appellate Court, 1st District of Illinois; Mechanics' Insurance Co v Hodge. Waterman, J. A partial loss by fire does not terminate the insurance, but the policy still remains in force. On a subsequent loss a recovery may be had upon the policy, not exceeding the full amount of the policy, lessened by the amount paid on the first loss. If the loss by the second fire occured so soon after the loss by the first, that there was no time to ascertain the loss by the first, unless it could be considered as one loss, there can be no recovery because of the impossibility of determining the damages resulting from each of the several fires. The record fails to show that Mr. Marshall, by whose request arbitration was demanded, was such an agent authorized to make arbitration. Failure to make proof of loss in a reasonable time is matter of defense and a question for the jury. Affirmed.

LANDLORD'S RIGHT TO ENTER PREMISES.

Appellate Court, 1st District of Illinois; Mueller v. Kuhn; The lease provided that in case of default in payment of rent, the landlord might "declare the term ended, and into the said premises, with or without process of law, to re enter." There was default in payment of rent, and the landlord, through his agents, took possession of the premises when the tenant was on the outside, by putting off the old lock and putting on a new one. The principal vice of the instructions given for plaintiff consists in the assumption that, a landlord may not enter and re-take possession of his premises, except by process of law. It would put an end to the enjoyment of property to hold that trespass quare clausum fregit could be maintained against the owner, with right of possession, who merely takes possession of what is his own. Reversed and remanded.

RIGHT OF CONTRACTOR UNDER SPECIAL ASSESSMENT.

Appelate Court 1st District of Illinois; Little v. City of Chicago. Waterman J. Appellant did work under a contract with the village of Hyde Park in filling and grading Commercial avenue. The work was accepted by the village authorities. Appellant bound himself in the contract to take all risks of the assessment and of their collection, and not bring any action for himself against the village on the contract. The city made the assessment and had judgment for the amount, and under the sale, bid in for the sum of the assessment the right of occupancy, and franchise of the Ewing Ry. Co., but has never taken out a claim under the sale, and the time for taking out such deed has now expired. It would seem that appellant has some rights he might enforce, but he has not shown that, if such judgment has been obtained, it could have been collected, and the appropriate remedy would be one of trespass on the case for negligence or by mandamus to compel the city to do its duty. Decree dismissing the bill. Affirmed.

MORTGAGE ENTITLED TO PRECEDENT OVER LIENS.

Supreme Court of Minnesota; Moody v Tschabolds. Where the interest of the vendor in an executory sale of real estate is not subject to liens contracted by the vendee in constructing a building on the premises, a mortgage for purchase money, subsequently taken back at the same time that the premises are conveyed to the vendee, is entitled to precedence over the liens.

MORTGAGE MUST PAY PARAMOUNT LIENS ON FORECLOSURE.

Supreme Court of Minnesota; Am Bldg & Loan Assn v. Valeen et al. A mortgagor executed to the mortgagee a bond of indemnity against liens paramount to the mortgage. On foreclosure of the mortgage the mortgagee bid in the premises for the full amount of the mortgage debt, and subsequently paid off certain paramount liens. Held, that he had no right of action on the bond, because he had sustained no damage, the mortgage debt having been fully satisfied by his bid, which must be deemed to have been for the premises with the title as it stood with these incumbrances on it.

PURCHASER FROM MORTGAGOR BOUND BY PREVIOUS ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF THE DEBT BY THE LATTER.

Supreme Court of Minnesota; Carson v. Cochran et al, In an action to foreclose a mortgage, the mortgagor, and those claiming under him, cannot set up as a defense that he had no title to the mortgaged premises.

If a party voluntarily and without mistake of facts pays as interest a greater rate than is legally enforceable (but not usurious) the appropriation thus made by the parties will not be disturbed but will stand as any other voluntary payment; and when it is paid on a debt secured by mortgage, subsequent purchasers of the mortgaged premises, unless they show some special equity peculiar to themselves, have no greater rights in that respect than the mortgagor.

A partial payment which prevents the statute of limitations against the debt will also prevent the statute from running against the remedy on the mortgage security; and a purchaser from the mortgagor, with actual or constructive notice of the mortgage, will be bound by any previous acknowledgement of the debt by his grantor.

JOINT DEFENDANTS IN ACTION ON MECHANIC'S LIEN.

Appellate Court, 1st District of Illinois; Marski v. Simmerling. Upon the trial it did not appear upon what terms Krueger undertook to build the house or how he was to be paid, nor the value of the work done by him. Appellee was a sub-contractor who had served notice on the owner, but it not being shown whether the contractor had varied or completed his contract, appellee's right to recover must depend on something having been due to contractor when he gave such notice, or at some time thereafter. Appellee insists that the owner and contractor are jointly liable, and as no plea denying joint liability was filed, the judgment against the owner must be obtained. Sec. 58 of the act concerning Justices, does not relieve the plaintiff in actions against joint defendants from the necessity of proving in the first instance the joint liability of the defendants. Reversed and remanded.

REPRESENTATIONS IN SALE OF PROPERTY ARE MATERIAL.

Supreme Court of Minnesota; W. R. Marshall v. E. R. Gilman; the court granted a new trial on appeal of plaintiff. Following is the syllabus: Representations of fact made by the owner of property as inducements to its purchase by another, relied upon by the latter as being true, and constituting a substantial inducement to the purchase, become obligatory on the vendor as a contract, even though the vendee may also have been influenced by information derived from other sources.

An allegation of notice to a party may be sustained by proof of a notice to an authorized agent, although the agency be not pleaded.

If one negotiating for the purchase of a lot of land represented to be of a certain width, afterward accepts a conveyance describing the property as being of a less width, he cannot be deemed to have purchased relying upon such prior representation.

A vendee of real estate having sued to enforce a rescission of the sale by reason of false representations under a contract providing for a rescission, and being denied such relief by reason of his delay in seeking that relief, and by reason of conduct inconsistent with a right to rescind, is not thereby barred of the right to prosecute a subsequent action ex contractu to recover damages for breach of the contract amounting to a warranty.

CHICAGO HEIGHTS!

THE GREAT MANUFACTURING AND BUSINESS CENTER.

Business and Residence Property For Sale at Extremely Low Prices and on Easy Terms.

DOLESE & SHEPARD, 162 Washington Street, Chicago,

HAVE BEEN AWARDED A CONTRACT AMOUNTING TO

($170,000) for the purpose of macadamizing 17 miles of streets and building stone sidewalks.

NO ASSESSMENT will be made for the improvements, the Association assuming the entire expense. The wise and prudent people who invest a small amount of money in CHICAGO HEIGHTS property will in a comparatively short time reap large benefits. No sane person can question the wisdom of making an investment in Chicago property.

Four large factories are in full operation and contracts closed with several others. A large number of residences and business houses in course of construction, also an extensive factory building for Roth & Englehardt, Piano Manufacturers of New York.

CHICAGO, MILWAUKEE AND ST. PAUL RAILWAY CO.

GENERAL OFFICES:

160-172 Adams Street, - CHICAGO.

—o—

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company's 6,150 miles of road traverses a vast territory rich in all the resources that insure industrial success.

The Industrial Department is conversant with the Iron, Coal, Lumber and Tanbark, the Water-Power (both river and artesian) for factory and electric power purposes, the markets, the transportation and financial facilities, and other interests on the line pertaining to industrial development, and disseminates information concerning same.

A number of new factories has been induced to locate—largely through the instrumentality of this Company—at enterprising towns on its lines.

As the interest of the Company is to secure the location of industries at places where the surroundings will insure their permanent success, the information furnished a particular industry is pertinent and reliable.

In the Eastern States and in other parts of the world factories are so congested and distant from the actual markets as to result in fierce and destructive competition. That the West is taking a place as one of the great manufacturing territories of the world is forcibly impressing itself upon discerning and enterprising manufacturers. Steps should be taken by such while the field is as yet not fully covered, and while inducements are still being offered, to locate in the West.

Individuals or companies wishing to embark capital in Western industry can find a profitable field.

For particulars relative to industrial advantages on the line, address

Luis Jackson,

Industrial Commissioner, C., M. & St. P. Railway,

160 Adams St., CHICAGO, Ill.

The Marvel of the Musical World.

$30 worth of CHOICE MUSIC for $1.50.

The New York Musical Echo is quite a novelty in modern journalism, and affords a grand opportunity to musicians and music-loving people. It is a large quarto musical publication, published monthly, each number containing 24 full size pages of sheet music, the brightest, liviest and most popular selections of the day, both vocal and instrumental, together with a pretty cover, on which is a full page portrait of some beautiful actress for singer. The music and portrait changed with each issue.

A Year's Subscription to the New York Musical Echo is $1.50 (sample copies 15c.) and means 288 full size pages of sheet music and twelve fine portraits, making when bound one of the handsomest portfolios of the newest and nicest music ever published. We want our friends to be careful of each number as duplicate copies may soon be a thing of the past. Don't lose any of the pretty music we are publishing, so start from the December number. The American News Co., or any of the News Agencies will supply you, or order direct of us.
